Our country is beyond all doubt a great country; and the only one in Christendom in which natural endowments, and persevering industry realize a proper reward: Take all the great men of our country, and where was their starting point? [Why from comparitive obscurity, many from the fields of hard toil where daily labor was necessary to obtain them a subsist. nnce. But they straggled on, and with indom. have it abundantly. Itable hope inspired by the genius of our inby the proudest potentate of Europe.

In making these remarks, we wish to say s word of Hon. ANDREW JOHNSTON, the democratic candidate for Governor of Tennessee. We learn from the Cincinnati Enquirer that Mr: J. is entirely a self made man. Emigrating from North Carolina to Tennesses some twenty five years ngo, a poor journeyman tailor, without money and without friends-destitute of the advaniages of an education-not even learning to read and write until after he was married; but yet, by the force of his character and natural ability, he has overcome all of these disadvantages, and is now one of the most able and prominent men in Tennessee, although she has many gifted sons, and we predict will be her next Governor. His success in life is a beautiful illustration of the admirable workings of our free institutions, for in no other country could one, situated as Mr. Jourson was, have been able to rise to eminence and renown. But in the United character. States the road that leads to fortune is open to all-no hereditary rights and distinctions are
