ROLLER BOY WANTED.—A good Roller boy can have constant employment by applying at the office of the Morning Post.

TO THE LEGAL PROFESSION.

We would remind our friends "learned in the law," that there is no office in Pittsburgh better prepared to print Paper Books, or any other legal documents, than the Post. We have an accomplished corps of job printers, and we invite the patronage of all who have such work to do.

NEWS AND COMMENTS.

By the arrival of the Star of the West, upwards of one million dollars in gold dust is received in New York, and another million is on the way from California. Joaquin, the celebrated robber, has been caught and beheaded; and his head brought into San Francisco for exhibition. Upwards of twenty vessels arrived at the California ports from the Atlantic cities in two weeks.

The Paris Siecle, in speaking of the Austrian protest in the Kosto affair, says that the principles of the protest are true, but that it is in Austria who has violated them by improperly seizing, in a neutral port, one who was entitled to American protection. Other French papers speak in the same tone, and sustain the conduct of Capt. Ingraham.

Gen. Cass has written a letter fully and cordially sustaining and endorsing the course of the administration, in regard to the appointments, and foreign affairs.

Putnam's Magazine publishes a bitter and violent article against the President: but the writer in the course of it, lets out the secret of his venom, that he was a disappointed applicant for office. The writer says the administration "ought to have looked up and complimented the young men of old and honorable families." Verily, there is a great deal of democracy in that.

THE JOURNAL AND THE GAZETTE.

These papers at length agree upon one thing; and that is that there is nothing that can be said against the Democrats this year that will be of any use, except that there is trouble in our ranks. The Journal of yesterday asserts that the Democrats of this county are dissatisfied with General Pierce's administration. This is news to us, indeed. We have yet to hear one Democrat say he dislikes Gen. Pierce, or the course he has thus far pursued. This is our testimony. And that any trouble exists touching the support of the State and County Ticket this fall, we do not believe. We have been assured that our friends in this county will do their duty this fall; and from all parts of the county we hear Democrats say that a better Democratic ticket has never been selected.

The Gazette of yesterday also comes out for the Whig ticket, in a leader of a column; but we must say that it lacks enthusiasm;—shall we say confidence? It speaks well of its candidates; except the candidate for District Attorney. He is not mentioned in the article of yesterday, we believe. What is the matter, Mr. Gazette? Don't you approve of the wine supper at Harbaugh's? Or were you not invited? Speak out, gentlemen. Are you in favor of wine suppers or not? That's the question. There are no breaches in our party that it takes wine suppers to heal. And professed total abstinence men in our party don't give such suppers.

THE SUPPER AT WILKINSBURG.—We had a conversation yesterday with Mr. MEDDLE, a member of the legal profession, and he informed us that he "had no hesitation in saying" that we ought to hold our tongues about that Wilkinsburg supper. We have no disposition to urge the matter of this celebrated supper upon the mind of the public, or to disturb the equanimity of Mr. MEDDLE; but, notwithstanding his friendship for his friend JONES, we must say that the supper was hasty and ill arranged. If Mr. MEDDLE's friend, Mr. JONES, desires the vote of the people, he had better invite the masses to his champaigne suppers. We can assure him that a large majority of the Whig party are opposed to his principle of having cold water at one end of the table, and old Monongahela and burnt Brandy at the other. But burnt Brandy won't save Mr. JONES, notwithstanding the squire drank to his success in limpid water. Mr. MEDDLE "has no hesitation" in expressing this opinion.

☞ We received the following letter yesterday from a favorite apprentice. He is one of the best type-setters we have in our office, but, at the same time a mule. We hope that GEORGE is now better, and that we will soon see his pleasant countenance in our third story:

PITTSBURGH, September 12, 1853.

MR. PHILLIPS: Dear Sir,—I have to inform you that I was poisoned last night. I was on a visit to my friends at Wilkinsburg yesterday, and before I went to the station, to take the cars for this city, I took a drink of water out of a bucket, which had a very peculiar taste, and I believe, was mixed with poison. I had a very severe pain in my stomach last night which made me very weak, and the pain is now nearly out, and I am now able to walk but little. My face is very sore, and my eyes are much swollen. I was confined to bed the whole morning and forenoon; I hope that I will get well again soon.

Yours truly,

GEO. W. HOLLINGWORTH.

H. S. MAGRAW, ESQ.—We had the pleasure of seeing this gentleman yesterday in our city. We learn that he leaves soon on his return to California. The Democracy of Allegheny county would much prefer that he would remain here. He has hosts of friends in this county.

A LONG SENTENCE.—The longest sentence we have ever met in our reading (says the Boston Transcript) occurs in Mr. Choate's eulogy on Mr. Webster. From the 41st to the 45th page of the pamphlet edition, there is not a full stop. This passage, or single sentence, contains about thirteen hundred words, and occupies four pages and a half.

It is a pretty long sentence, but not quite as

HORACE GREELY AND THE TRIBUNE.

Mr. Greely has voluntarily resigned his commission as commander in chief of the whig party of the United States. He led their forces into battle last year, and suffered such a disastrous, overwhelming and irretrievable defeat, that he himself gives it up there can be no successful rally of the party again. In the last weekly Tribune he gives all the world notice that he shall rear no party flag again; and shall place at the head of his paper no party ticket. He declares his intention of supporting and voting for good men, irrespective of party; and even goes so far as to propose as a candidate for a judicial office in the State of New York, a democrat; one of the freesoil stripe, however.

Now what is the meaning of all this? Does he really intend to desert the party whose recent overthrow his own mismanagement brought about? Is the party that trusted him to be thus abandoned in the hour of its adversity? It may be good policy and discretion for the philosopher of the Tribune to desert a sinking ship. But his commander of the ships he should not be the first to escape.

But we imagine he has other motives for this apparent defection. He is not going to turn democrat, that is certain. And, to satisfy the world of that, he makes a furious assault on President Pierce. Some Yankee friends of the President have lately had built a handsome carriage, and sent it on to Washington, a short time since, as a present to Gen. Pierce. The coach driver gets a new coat about the same time. This is made the theme of a long and most violent attack in the Tribune on the President, the administration and the democratic party. The ruin of the country is hinted at. The "downtrodden masses," are called on to rise and resent the driver's new coat, are represented as almost unpardonable sins; and denounced in that profuse and extravagant language which he applies to all subjects,—great and small. Whatever matter he undertakes to denounce, however trifling, he treats it in the same manner as he would the most grave affairs of the nation. A whole column of superlatives is poured out, by the mere force of habit, and a mole hill is magnified into a mountain; an enormity of the most frightful kind is portrayed, and the "laboring masses" are called on to rise in their might and revolutionise the country. Those laboring masses he cares less about than he does the negroes of the south. Thus it is he deals with every subject. All sins are equally enormous with him; and the same number and severity of words must be employed to denounce them. But the world can judge how much sense or truth is contained in all his thunder by this carriage affair. Even the whig papers are ridiculing his folly.

Hear what the Boston Courier (Whig) says:

"No matter how trifling or innocent the matter is, the Tribune will make it out to be a enormity of some kind. It hands an ice cream. A editor is like that celebrated auctioneer who had as much to say upon a ribbon as upon a Raphael. Preaching is his profession, and he is a master in it; and all anecdotes, as they exist in his fancy, are graduated to the same maximum point in the scale of criminal history. When he undertakes to lead a lady's carriage but it pours; and he weeps over an old shoe with as heartstirring a lamentation as he bemoans a falling empire. For this reason his writings are at times very amusing to read. Their grotesque extravagances take away all serious effect."

But this abuse of President Pierce was, perhaps, necessary to satisfy the whigs, whom he has resolved to desert, that he is not going over to the democrats. Though he will no longer publish whig tickets, and do battle for them, he wishes to assure them that his pen shall still be active in abusing democracy.

But what does all this mean. We think it means merely that he wants the whig party to disband forthwith, and form a great free soil, abolition, woman's rights, anti-rent, socialist, no-total agglomeration, to be called by some yet undiscovered name; to be, in fact, a great, Nondescript party, led by Horace Greeley, envisioned by endangering the Union, and meeting defeat in the end; but, in the meantime, adding widely to the circulation and profits of the Tribune.

The "philosopher" of the Tribune needs watching. He has an eye to business. He is bound to beat the Herald in circulation and profits. And all his political movements, all his advocacy of every new ism that turns up, swells the subscription list of the Tribune. Bennett, of the Herald, secures the patronage of the South, by battling against abolitionism. Greeley turns to the North and seeks to convert all the whigs and some of the democrats, into abolitionists, and subscribers to the Tribune.

Thus those two monster concerns, the Herald and Tribune, each now valued at half a million dollars, are pushing their high fortunes; the one affecting infinite concern for the stability of the Union; the other for universal liberty; the one for trade and commerce, and the prosperity of the country; the other for moral reform and social happiness. And the circulation increases, and the dollars pour in.

Meantime these patriots turn to occasionally, and abuse each other like pick pockets, accuse each other of levying black-mail, of humbug, lying, and every other crime. But the list increases, and the dollars pour in.

We wonder what will become of the country when deprived of the valuable services of those patriots.

APPLETON'S MECHANIC'S MAGAZINE, AND ENGINEER'S JOURNAL.—We have received the September No. of this most valuable magazine. It is scientific in its character, the articles well and ably written, and this number contains a large amount of excellent reading matter.

The article on the Iron Trade is even better than the one we published in our paper some time ago.

Temperance Meeting.

At a public meeting held on the 7th day of September, 1853, in the borough of Tarentum, in Allegheny county, composed of the different political parties, James Dickey was called to the Chair, and J. M. Boyd appointed Secretary. It was unanimously

Resolved, That we hereby declare to the political parties of this county, that we will vote for no candidate either for the Senate or Legislature of this State unless he is a reliable temperance man, in favor of the Maine Liquor Law, and will use his influence, if elected, to procure the passage of a similar law.

Resolved, That Rev. John Gilmore, W. D. Evans and Wm. McClure be a committee to invite the candidates of the different parties to attend at Tarentum on the 21st of September, 1853, at 6 o'clock, P. M., personally, or by letter, make known their views on this subject.

Resolved, That the foregoing be published in the Pittsburgh Gazette, Post, and Saturday Visitor.

BRANCH MINT AT NEW ORLEANS.—The operations of the Branch Mint at New Orleans show a further material falling off. The total deposits of gold and silver, for the year ending July 31, 1853, being $4,485,666, against $6,103,650 last year, and $9,107,922 the year before. Of the gold, there was from California $2,884,877, against $3,231,625 from the same source last year, and $8,152,278 the year before. The coinage in the same period has been 531,600 pieces of gold, value $2,515,000, and 2,302,00 pieces of silver, value $342,000. Total pieces 2,833,500; total value $2,857,000. Of the silver coinage 1,885,000 pieces (value $290,000) were of the "New Emission," viz: 80,000 half dollars, 320,000 quarter dollars, 920,000 dimes, and 240,000 half dimes.

BOOMERANG PROPELLER.—Some time ago we noticed the invention and application in England of an agent for the propulsion of steam vessels, distinguished by the name of the "Boomerang," from the fact of the principal of construction being derived from the singular instrument so styled, found in use among the aborigines of Australia. The experimental steamer to which it was applied has crossed the Atlantic by means of it, from Liverpool to Quebec, in thirteen days

Items of News and Miscellany.

There has been a great mortality among the ducks and chickens of the residents of Wilmington, Delaware, says the "Blue Hen's Chicken." Whole flocks have been swept off by some unknown disease. Grown fowls would be apparently well and hearty, when a tremor would seize them, and in a few moments they would fall dead. Ducks, in some instances, took the gapes similar to chickens, and died soon after being taken.

The editors of the Savannah Georgian and Columbia South Carolinan think that the calamity which has befallen New Orleans is one that would justify the President in setting apart a day throughout the land for humiliation and prayer, and for one universal contribution of means to relieve the continued and pressing necessities of afflicted.

Robert A. Robertson was executed at Alexandria, Ky., last Saturday, for the murder of Moses Gard, in June, 1852. He attempted to commit suicide by cutting his arms with a razor, but did not succeed in his desire. He confessed he killed Gard, but insisted it was accidental.

The police of Boston have had notice of another fraudulent bill, purporting to be upon the Manufactrorrs' Bank of Georgetown, D. C., of the denomination of two dollars. Two such bills were passed in that city on Monday.

It is stated that 10,000 hogs, raised in Illinois, have been offered at $3.60 net, delivered at St. Louis, without a purchaser. At the Cincinnati Exchange, for several days last week 3,000 head Indiana hogs were offered at $3.85 net deliverable at Madison, without a buyer.

A St. Louis paper says: The balance sheet of a steamer which has been plying between that city and New Orleans for the past five or six years was made out a day or two since, and exhibited a clear profit in that time of $152,000. Of this large sum, $130,000 has been paid over in dividends to her owners. The boat is still running, and bids fair to make a few thousands more.

A convention of the Grand United Order of Odd Fellows, composed of delegates—all but one of whom are colored—from lodges in Newark, N. J., Wilmington, Alexandria, Washington, Philadelphia and other Eastern places, is being held in Newark, N. J. This Order is connected with the one which prevails in England.

It is stated that in making an estimate of the amount of iron contained in the iron mountain in Missouri, enough has been found above its base to make 105,000,000 tons. Now, if 5,000,000 only be converted into railroad iron, it would make 500,000 miles of road; and send off the remainder, at the rate of 1,000 per day, would employ a railroad over 300 years to remove it.

During the two months of fashionable season at the watering places this year, there arrived at the hotels in Saratoga 19,000 visiters, being an increase of upwards of two thousand over the number last year. The increase at the private houses was in about the same proportion. About five thousand persons have visited Newport during the season, which does not come up to the number of last year's visitors.

The whig candidates for the Legislature in Philadelphia have all pledged themselves to vote for consolidating the several districts of that city and county.

A new mode of illumination has been devised by M. Alexis Godillot, of Paris, whose experiments have been witnessed by M. Fould, the minister, M. Visconti, the imperial architect, and numerous others, government officials and scientific men. The principle is, the multiplication of light by means of innumerable small mirrors arranged in a particular manner in a multitude of frames bound together, the whole made to revolve while reflecting the light from a bright burner placed before them. The reflecting power is so great that, it is said, sufficient light is furnished to enable a man to read at a distance of a kilometer—about two-thirds of a mile.

THE WORLD'S TEMPERANCE CONVENTION.—Exclusion of the Abolitionists.—The World's Temperance Convention re-assembled at Metropolitan Hall, New York, on Thursday morning.—After the minutes of the previous day had been read, Wendell Phillips entered among the delegates, when Mr. Samuel Hoar, of Mass, proposed that his credentials should be re-examined by the committee on credentials. This was carried after a sharp debate, and Phillips was told that Mr. Phillips was obliged to leave the hall.

A motion was then made and carried, to investigate the credentials of various other persons belonging to the "New York Neal Dow Society," when it was found that they did not come from New York, and that they had banded together after the organization of the Convention, apparently for the purpose of embarrassing its operations. They were accordingly compelled to retire to the gallery with the other spectators. Order now reigned in Warsaw, and the business went on like clock-work.

Mr. Cluer, of New Jersey, read a report on the economy of the Maine Law, showing how much money it would save, when fully carried out, to the State and the individual. It abounded in severe language with regard to liquor sellers and liquor stores, the latter of which were called the "open vomitories of hell!" Objection was taken to its harshness by Mr. Keener, of Baltimore, and it was referred to a committe for verbal revision.

An "address to the civilized world," fluently depicting the woes of intemperance, and setting down the number of drunkards in Great Britain at 60,000, and in the United States at 30,000 was read by Rev. Rufus W. Clark, of Boston.

The afternoon was occupied in separately considering the long string of Maine Law resolutions, reported by the business committee on Tuesday.

In the afternoon and evening several addresses were delivered. The evening session included the delivery of a poem by the Rev. Mr. Pierpont. The gentleman had been exercising his poetical genius for some minutes when the cry of "fire" was raised. Abgeneral alarm ensued. On looking up it was discovered that one of the jets of gas issuing from the pipe in the top gallery had communicated with the ceiling, causing ignition.

The Hon. Neal Dow came forward, amidst the excitement, and begged the audience to be seated. Some parties in the gallery extinguished the flames. Mr. Dow then directed the janitor to put out the gas in the gallery. By some stupidity, not only were the lights extinguished there, but the entire building was put in darkness, when a general excitement ensued—whistling, kicking, hooting and yelling were the order of the evening. After about five minutes had elapsed the gas was lit and order restored.

After this casualty a barrel of flour, for which a premium had been paid, was sold at auction by Mr. Hunt, of Pennsylvania, who took the hammer and very successfully knocked it down for $100. It was announced that this sum would be expended to distributing temperance tracts in Wisconsin, from whence the precious barrel was forwarded. After some few addresses the convention was adjourned until morning.

THE EXPLOSION of the steamer Bay State, on Thursday morning, on the trip from Fall River to New York, of which we gave an account on yesterday, was caused in the following manner:—

The crank-pin broke from its socket, causing the crank to become disengaged from the main connecting rod or shackle bar. This displaced, or sprung the connection rod, or links which are attached to the piston, and the force of steam in the cylinder upon the piston, forced it quite through the top of the cylinder, allowing the steam instant escape. The top of this steam cylinder is quite high, nearly on a level with the upper state rooms, and it was only on this portion of the boat that any injury was done to passengers. It appears that the boat was going at full speed through the water, and the passengers were soundly asleep in their berths when the crash was heard, followed by a thundering explosion, and the boat was instantly enveloped in a dense cloud of steam. The terrified passengers leaped from their berths, and crowded out on deck; the state room passengers incautiously opened their room doors, and the scalding vapors instantly flowed in upon them. In this way the daughter and sister DeWolf were terribly scalded. Edwin Wilson, of New York, but for his presence of mind in placing himself immediately on the floor of his state room, would have been badly scalded. As it was, he only sustained a very slight burn on his face. His daughter was badly scalded. Miss Haven, of Fall River, had her hands terribly scalded, as had

THE LAST GOOD NIGHT.

BY MISS ELLEN GREY.

Close the eyelids—press them gently
O'er the dead and lidless eyes,
For the soul that made them lovely
Hath returned into the skies!
When the death drops from her forehead,
Sever one long golden tress;
Fold her icy hands all meekly,
Smooth the little snowy dress;
Scatter flowers so pure and white—
Lay the bud upon her bosom,
There—now softly say Good Night.

Though our tears flow fast and faster,
Yet we would not call her back,
We are glad her fate no longer
Tread life's rough and thorny track;
We are glad our lifeonly father
Took her while her heart was pure,
We are glad he did not leave her
All life's troubles to endure;
We are glad—and yet the tear-drop
Falleth: for, alas, we know
That our fireside will be lonely,
We shall miss our darling so.

While the twilight shadows gather,
We shall wait in vain to feel
Little arms, all white and dimpled,
Round our necks so softly steal;
Our wet cheeks will miss the pressure
Of sweet lips so warm and red,
And our hearts sadly, sadly,
Miss that darling little head
Which was wont to rest there sweetly,
And those golden eyes so bright,
We shall miss their love-light glances,
We shall miss their soft Good Night.

When the morrow's sun is shining,
They will take this cherished form,
They will bear it to the church-yard,
And consign it to the worm;
While—that form that is only
The clay dress our darling wore;
God has robed her as an angel,
She has left this for more;
Fold her hands and o'er her pillow
Scatter flowers all pure and white,
Kiss the marble brow, and whisper
Once again, a last Good Night.

AFFAIRS IN LIBERIA.—In May last, Mr. J. J. Roberts was re-elected President of the Republic of Liberia, over Chief Justice Benedict. At the same time, Stephen A. Benson was elected Vice President. At the end of the present term, President Roberts will have served eight years as President, and six years as Governor of Liberia—in all fourteen years. It was, it is said, with great reluctance he consented to be a candidate at the late election. He has appointed John N. Lewis Secretary of State.

On the 21 of June, twenty-one emigrants landed at Monrovia, from the ship Banshee, from Baltimore. The emigrants by the Linda Stewart and Joseph Maxwell were doing well, and making rapid improvements on the St. Paul's river.

Among those elected Senators in Liberia, are J. M. Priest, A. F. Russell and Charles Henry; and among the Representatives are S. V. Mitchell, D. B. James, Sion Harris, Henry W. Dennis, H. W. Erskine, M. A. Rand, W. W. Davis and C. L. Seymore.

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON.—We copy the following from the Star:

James D. Knowlan has been appointed a Third Assistant Engineer, and ordered to duty in the office of the Chief Engineer, in Washington.

Alexander Davis has been appointed an Acting Sailmaker in the naval service.

Gen. Cass and the French Mission.—Finding in the Paris Moniteur a reiteration of the story that the French Mission has been tendered to Gen. Cass, we have again to say that there is no truth in it.

Business in the General Land Office.—The following is an aggregate of the business done in the General Land Office bureau, during the month of August: Letters received, briefed and registered, 2,572; letters written and recorded, 1,050, occupying 1,178 folio pages; patents prepared, 4,169 patents recorded, 8,582; military warrants examined, 7,619; military warrants briefed, 6,911; acres of scrip issued, 26,608.

THE FEVER AT THE PENSACOLA NAVY YARD.—A letter in the Mobile Advertiser, dated Warrenton, Fla., September 1st, says:

I am told that within the last twenty-four hours, including deaths at the Naval Hospital, there have been eleven burials. Nearly every body has been sick on board the U. S. steamer Vixen. By order of the commandant, her crew are to be taken out of her, and she is to be anchored out in the stream. Public opinion seems to attribute the sickness to infection from the Vixen; it is thought she brought the fever from the Tampico. Engineer W. T. Gorton died at the hospital last night.

THE ODD FELLOWS' BALL.—The Grand Reception Ball, in honor of the Grand Lodge of the United States, at present in session in Philadelphia, took place in that city on Tuesday night, in both saloons of the Museum. A large and brilliant company was present, numbering between ten and twelve hundred persons. At about 11 o'clock the representatives of the Grand Lodge of the United States were ushered into the upper saloon, attired in their beautiful regalia—many of them wearing gold and silver medals. The band performed a national air during the march of the guests and company around the room. The ball was a magnificent affair, and the festivities were kept up to a late hour.

The Hicksite Quakers, of New York, have issued their testimony of disownment against Oliver Johnson. Mr. J., it is said, had formally withdrawn from them before. The grounds of their dislike is his connection with the reforms of the day.

THE LAST CALL.—Such of our readers as have heretofore suffered from imperfection of sight or hearing, should bear in mind that Mr. Solomons, professional optician, now in Pittsburgh, proposes to close his visit on Saturday next. Many have been greatly benefited by his services in the city, and we are able to speak confidently as to his great ability in the optic art. His advertisement will give all useful information.

☞ Liver Complaint.—This dangerous and often fatal disease had long baffled the skill of the most eminent physicians, when the discovery of Dr. M'Lane's Liver Pills solved the difficulty, and presented to the world the Great Specific for that complicated malady, which has attained such widely spread celebrity for its certainty of cure. This successful remedy was the result of many years' study, in which the symptoms were narrowly observed, and are thus described by the Doctor himself:

"Symptoms of a Diseased Liver.—Pain in the right side, and sometimes in the left, under the edge of the ribs—the patient being rarely able to lie on the left: pain sometimes under the shoulder blade, frequently extending to the top of the shoulder—often mistaken for rheumatism in the arm; sickness of stomach, and loss of appetite; bowels mostly costive, but sometimes alternate with lax: dull, heavy sensation in the back part of the head; loss of memory, with uneasiness of having neglected something; sometimes dry cough; weakness and debility; nervous irritability; feet cold or burning, and prickly sensation of skin; low spirits, lassitude, with disinclination to exertion, although satisfied it would be beneficial. In fact, patient distrusts every remedy."

Have you any, or all of these symptoms? If so, you will find a certain remedy in Dr. M'Lane's Pills.

Purchasers will be careful to ask for Dr. M'Lane's celebrated Liver Pills, and take none else. There are other Pills purporting to be Liver Pills, now before the public. Dr. M'Lane's Liver Pills, also his celebrated Vermifuge, can now be had at all respectable Drug Stores in the United States, and from the sole proprietors,

☞ TO THE PUBLIC. ☜

MR. SOLOMONS would inform the public, that inasmuch as, on frequent occasions, after leaving cities where he had sold his celebrated Spectacles and Glasses, unauthorized persons, keeping jewelry stores, have advertised and sold Spectacles purporting to be those of Mr. S.—this is to say, that Mr. Solomons, after he shall have left Pittsburgh, will leave no agent behind him, for the purpose of selling his goods, nor leave one pair of Spectacles unsold—as there are persons who would not scruple to misrepresent this truth after Mr. S. has gone.

Mr. S. would advise those persons requiring Glasses to apply in Philadelphia, and they will have their sight well suited by proper opticians and respectable men.

Mr. SOLOMONS will positively leave the city on Saturday, 17th inst.

SOLOMONS' SPECTACLES.—Those in want of these articles for the improvement of the sight, should bear in mind that Mr. Solomons still holds forth at his office. His stay in Pittsburgh is limited; and it is therefore necessary to make immediate application, in order to insure your eyes, as well as secure a good pair of glasses. Mr. S. is undoubtedly one of the greatest opticians of the age. He has been in the United States several years, and the success he has met with is unprecedented. All you have to do is to address Mr S. the condition your eyes are in, and he will immediately suit you with a pair of glasses. He generally picks up a pair from his large stock the first time to suit the purchaser. He has sold upwards of 2000 pairs during his short stay. Give him a call.

PITTSBURGH, July 22, 1853.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Having seen in the Pittsburgh Daily Morning Post a communication from Mr. Wilson, jeweller, in opposition to the glasses sold by Mr. Solomons, in justice to Mr. S. I state that at various times I have procured three or four pairs of spectacles from Mr. Wilson, none of which have proved of the slightest benefit to me. I have also supplied by other jewellers in Cincinnati, Louisville, and New Orleans, and have failed to procure such glasses as would enable me to read correctly. Since I have obtained spectacles from Mr. Solomons, I now read with great facility and suit e satisfaction. JOHN D. DAVIS, Jr.

☞ MR. SOLOMONS, who gives sight to many who know not what it is before, has sold a most extensive lot of spectacles in this city during his brief stay. It is hard to believe that so many persons are afflicted with imperfect vision.

The following is taken from the Sale Book of Mr. Solomons while sold in Pittsburgh, during a short period:

2503 pairs Blue Steels.....$3 00 per pair.
200 pairs Common Frames.....2 00 per pair.
150 pairs Silver.....4 00 " "
10 pairs Gold, average.....10 00 " "
Besides sundry Fancy. sep14:2w

Public Sale of Valuable Furnace Property.

The subscribers will offer at Public Sale, at 12 o'clock, M., on WEDNESDAY, the SECOND DAY OF NOVEMBER NEXT, at DAVIS' Auction Rooms, corner of Fifth and Wood streets, in the city of Pittsburgh, that valuable property known as LUCINDA FURNACE, Coal House, Bellows House, with hot blast apparatus in complete order; Grist and Saw Mills, Dwelling House and Store-house, with all necessary small Tenements, suitable for workmen; and all other buildings necessary for making pig metal.

On the property and within convenient distance of the furnace, are veins of iron ore, limestone, and bituminous coal; a large portion of the land is covered with timber, and is well adapted for cultivation.

The route of the Venango and Williamsport, or Plumer's Railroad, passes within a few miles of this property, which is a very short distance of the property. The works are in complete order, and are now in operation. Persons, with a good title, will be put on the first of April next. The stock can be purchased at a fair valuation, if desired. Persons desirous of viewing the property, will call on Mr. Nathan Evans, residing at the furnace. Terms at sale.

A LOT AND HOUSE FOR SALE.—On Fifth street, between Smithfield and Grant, can be bought. It is a superior property; going at a bargain.

We believe Nature has provided a REMEDY for every DISEASE which flesh is heir to. KIRBY'S PETROLEUM or ROCK OIL, put up as it flows from the great laboratory, concealed deep in the bowels of Mother Earth, is, without doubt, one of the greatest of these remedies. Read the following testimony, given by a grateful parent:

PLEASANT VALLEY, Ohio, Sept. 15, 1852.

Mr. S. M. Kirby—I have sold all your Petroleum or Rock Oil, some two months past, and have been looking for your agent to get a further supply. I could have sold some dozen more. We have found the Oil very excellent in Flux and Dysentery. My daughter, at the time your Agent was here, was lying very low with the flux; I gave her a teaspoonful, and in three hours gave the second, and the flux stopped, and she recovered immediately. It is also an extraordinary remedy for Sore and Inflamed eyes, cuts, bruises, and rheumatism, and for the piles; some have been cured of long standing.

Yours, with respect, ISAAC BARLOW.

PUBLIC SALE OF LOTS IN EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO.

THE undersigned will offer at Public Auction, on THURSDAY and FRIDAY, the 22d and 23d days of THIS MONTH, (September,) on the premises in the above thriving manufacturing town, ONE HUNDRED BUILDING LOTS, some of which are 40 feet front on 80 and 60 feet streets, extending back 120 feet to 20 feet alleys, and some 60 and 55 feet front by the same depth. These Lots are situate in the upper end of the town, in the vicinity of the principal potteries, and of the contemplated Depot of the Cleveland and Pittsburgh Railroad. This Road, when completed, (and a portion of it is under contract, and the balance will be in the course of a month,) will bring Liverpool within two hours travel of Pittsburgh, and seventeen hours of Cincinnati; it will also connect with Cleveland; Beaver Steamboat, (opposite Wheeling,) and six other railroads, which will give this town the facility of shipping goods manufactured there at any and all times. One firm at this time is manufacturing over $10,000 worth of ware annually, with a custom increasing; and there is also a number of other potteries in active operation, giving employment to several hundreds of persons, both male and female. These Lots are on a beautiful plain, overlooking the Ohio river; they are well watered, several excellent springs being on the property and in the neighborhood. In add
