Miss E. Logan is performing at the Peo from the St. Louis Democrat:

Miss Logan does not, like many of her cotemporaries, possess those very great personal attractions, that are apt to distort the judgment of spectators, and compel them often to confound beauty with genius and intellect. Miss Logan's theatrical reputation is built wholly upon her bare artistic excellence, and may be said to de-rive nothing from the effect produced by her face or form. Her face is expressive, but it is not beautiful, and her figure, though symmetrical, is too petite. She possesses, however, a voice of singular power and sweetness, which she controls and modulates with skill and effect." We knew her father well, and a better man could not be found in the wide range of the drama. He took most especial care in the education of his daughters, and the brilliant position of ELIZA LOGAN, show that the talent of her worthy father was not misdirected.

This, at least, has been the effect of the Vermifuge upon my children."

A neighbor of Mr. Roulatt, Mr. John Briggs, adopts the simils of the reverend certifier, thus both giving their most unequivocal approval of this great specific, after havothers try it, and be satisfied.
