FROM AUSTRALIA DIRECT.

The American ship Melbourne, Capt. Briny, arrived at New York on Saturday in the remarkable short time of 86 days from Melbourne, bringing news from there a few days later than news received by the New York Mail.

The Bavaria brings 18 passengers, among them Mr. W. Adame, bearer of dispatches to our Government. One man, named Martin, has returned by the Williamsburg, New York, and three weeks after the digging with the new supply of the grain market. The Bavaria is also brought the first mail direct to New York, or our shores, except to California.

The leading editorial article of the Melbourne of August 29, is a strong appeal for independence. The example of the United States in their colonial days is cited as something worthy the attention and imitation of Australia.

The Melbourne and Sydney papers were full with the exception of those, which had risen, and were still high, however.

Yankee enterprises were going about in Australia as if they were the most profitable of all. There were several American mining parties, engaged in the search for gold in the western States.

A southern barber had arrived from Australia, bringing him mirrors and shavers, longer, and of a different pattern than those now in vogue.

Computers received 24 and 26, per 1000 tons, for daily prices of 10, and 11, respectively. Five hundred American tons of coal to 1000 tons, for daily prices of 10, and 11, respectively.
