THE peculiar improvement in the construction of this

I listiness is, that all the cluster, and heavy wooden framework is uniterly dispensed with, and its place suppiled by a lighter and much more durable frame. The springs are all connected by harvess leather hinges, secure by rivetted, rendering it impossible, for a single spring to fall down or jed out of place, and making: a field as clastic that any part may be raised or bent up, and is thus admirably fitted to the wants of the sick or astimetic, who may require a sitting posture. It has all the luxurious softness of
