The harmony re established in the Ottoman ministry was continued. The Ministry having agreed that if the Russians evacuate the Principalities, Turkey will consent to have the privileges of the Christians confirmed by a Congress, it was, no doubt, on this assout, that Austria applied for Russia's consent to a European protectorate of the Christians—to which the reply in most positive language was, that "Russia would permit no other power to meddle in the matter of the Greek church. Russia had treaties with the Porte, and would settle the pression."

Commercial—The St. Petersburg letters are to the Sist'of December, but they mention nothing of moment, except that an increase of districts was still denoted by a continuance of the trust was still denoted by a continuance of the rise in the price of imported articles. The Odesas accounts are by telegraph to the Softa, at which date the activity of the wheat market was observed and the control of frost, and a considerable number of ships were arriving.

In London Corn market there was a rise of 1s. to 2s. on previous prices, making a total advance of 5s. in one week. Still there are many vessels overdue, from the unfavorable state of the wind and weather. The quantity of grain received was not large, but the week has been remarkable for the very heavy quantity of grain received was not large, but the week has been remarkable for the very heavy quantity of American flow which has come to hand.

A New York Estimate of Bostonians—Dion Bourcicault, at the conclosion of his lecture last evening, which was the last of a very interesting series, took occasion to give in neconut of the impression which a New York confidant had endeavored to instill in his mind with regard to Bostonians. "The Boston people," said the New Yorker, "are austere critics, and you must be cautious in approacing them. Riskt taken on the lives of persons going to California or Australia. CLOTHING STORE nn of the pen, and, second, the "scissors" action, or spreading open of the points to permit the flow of the ink. This compound movement—which steel pens, hitherto never hiave had—give's to the quill its ferrillity, and that peculiar springy play, which is so agreeable to the hand, and which seems to suit the action of the muscles of the fingers; yielding, as it does, to the slightest pressure, without cramping the hand. The efforts of all steel pen makers have been directed to the attainment of this essential quality of festbillity, and they have had recourse to an immerable variety of cracks and plorcings to attain. It. The inventors of the Patent Amalgam Fen found, from a series of experiments, that the whole practice of the trade had in this respect been erroneous—that no combination of cracks and "plerings" could produce the desired action, if the ordinary form of the steel pen were adhered to. This point being gained, they avoided the plan hitherto adopted for attaining flexibility, and gave a peculiar form to the metal, by a hich they managed to combine the "acissors" action of the ordinary steel pen with the sgreeable fairibility of the quill. The second difficulty to be overcome was of less magnitude, but still of great importance to the corresivation of the link on the ordinary steel pen. Even with the greatest care, it speedly destroys the delicately amooth surface of the pen. So serious a drawback is this from the charge of the set of the account cost, sincet exclusively because of the act an account cost, sincet exclusively rs, n. ni., and 122 r. ni.
