Loss of the Russians at Citale—Further Accounts of the Battle.—We have further accounts of the battle of Citale, confirming the Turkish successos.
It appears that the Russians were concentrating a force at Citale, in order to attack Kalafat, on the 13th, but on the 6th fifteen thousand Turks marched out of Kalafat, attacked and stormed Citale, had a conflict with the Russians in the field on the 7th, and renewed the battle on the 8th, ending in the evening with the total discomfiture of the Russians, who confess to 4,000 killed, and their generals Aurep and Thinout, wounded.

On the 9th, the Turks having remained over night on the field beyond Citale, attacked the reserve of the Russians, and drove them back upon Krajova, with the loss of cannon and immense alsughter on both sides.

On the 10th the Turks, having razed the Russian fortifications, returned to Kalafat.

The Turks were commanded in this action by Selim Pacha, Zodlinzky, and Mehmed, Pacha—one of whom, probably Mehmed, is recity.
