Thursday night, there was a large crowd assembled in the is grounds about the jail. To prevent any disturbance vard was cleared by the police - a watch was kept u laring the night by the police. The following is taken from a private despatch to a gonlisman in this city, from a reliable source in Harrisburg : "The bill providing for a new trial, for David Jewell, had passed the Senate and was pending in the House of Repre minitives vesterday, when the Governor deeming it but respectful to the Legislature and consistent with the did thumsnity, raspited the prisoner for the present. T vold misa a; however, this act of courtesy to th legislature must not be regarded as an indication that the Governor has undergone any change upon the subject." The motion for a reconsideration of the vote on the bil ting Jawell ,s new trial, was postponed rday, in he House, until Monday next. We are so informed by telegraphic despatch from Harrisburg. The crowd continued about the jall yesterday. In the from edmission was given the multitude to the yard, where the gallows was creeted. Hundreds of men en and children availed themselves of the opportun of seeing the scaffold. After the jall had been closed t
