DAILY MORNING POST.

How CINCINAATE DECAME A CITY. In the set-tlement of new construct, it often happens that the most frivial circumstances produce importhe most trivial circumstances produces impor-tant "results. According: to Jadge Burnet's "Notes on the North Western Territory," the question whether North Bend or Cincinnati should be the great commercial town of the Miami country, was decided by the fact that the oommandant of the military station at North Bend became strongly attached to a "black-eyed lady," who lived with her husband at the Bend, lady," who lived with her husband at the Bend, where he was stationed, and the husband be-coming somewhat alarmed at the attentions which the commandant paid to his wife, removed to Cinclunati. Finding his lady-love had fied, the officer thought North Bend unfit for a com-mercial town, and moved with his troops to Cin-connati, and from that day the glory of the Bend denvired, and that of Cincinnati arcse. departed, and that of Cincinnati arose. Judge Burnet remarks: (page 56.) "The inounge Burnet remarks: (page oc.) - Ind in-comparable beauty of a Spartan dame produced a ten year war, which terminated in the destruc-tion of Troy; and the irresistible charms of another female transferred the commercial em. portam of Ohio from the place where it had been commenced, to the place where it had been commenced, to the place where it now is. If this captivating American Helen had continued at the Bend, the garrison would have been erected there—population, capital and business would have been centered there, and there would have been the Queen City of the West." FROM OREGON .- About 1,500 immigrants with 250 wagons, took a new route to the head of Willamette Valley, got lost and suffered severely. Several died by starvation and exhaustion; it is not known exactly how many. Within twenty-four hours after the news reached the settlements, 20,000 pounds of flour was on the way to aid them, and in 8 days there were 94 packed animals, 23 loaded wagons and 290 head of cattle sent out. All the immigrants are now safe. The immigrants who have attempted to cross the Cascade Mountains, have suffered severely. CLOTHING.
