points out the superior means possessed by Austria of taking part with France and England, and bringing the war to a prompt termination. Her position towards the East, it is remarked, is infinitely more advantageous than that of the Russians. The Austrian army, although recently reduced, still numbers about 850,000 men, with a reserve of 180,000 more. These troops, which are well disciplined and provided with artillery far superior to the Russians and excellent cavalry, are for the most part posted near the Danube and along the Eastern frontiers of the empire. The flotilia of the Danube, and the steamers on the same river, allow Austria to concentrate in a few days, and to constantly reinforce such of her troops as may enter the Principalities. Hungary is an immense storehouse of corn and forage. In order to compet the Bussians to evac-uate the Principalities, it would suffice for Francis Joseph, to throw from 50,000 to 60,000 men into Servia, and the same number into Wallachia by Hermanstadt and Cronstadt. The Russian army would be thus surrounded, and would be cut off to a man, if it did not promptly with-draw behind the Pruth. In the event of the Russians bearing the Ottoman army and cross-ing the Danube, their situation would not be re satisfactory in face of 160,000 Austrians. The latter might cut off the supplies of the Russians by advancing on Bucharest and Sopla; they might raise Wallachia, and perhaps cut off they might raise Wallachia, and perhaps cut of the retreat of the Russian army if it should have dared to attack the passes, of the Balkans by Schumla or Varna. Should Austria, Lowev-or, prove morally unequal to the coasion, her fine border regiments would become the advan-ced guard of the Eastern revolutionists Austria, deprived of the respect and affection of her Sciavonians, would remain powerless against the anarchists at home, and at the mercy of Russia. Mrs. Anna Cora Mowat, is published this day, complete in one volume, price 37 cents.

Hear what the editor of Scotts, Weelly Paper says of it.

'It is one of the best productions that has ever emapet of from the brilliant pen of Anna Cora Mowatt, the well-known authoress of the comedy of Fashion, Evelyn, &c. Mrs. M. is an actress of distinction; and previous to her debut in active public life, mixed, as she does now, with the silts of literary and fashionable society. Her works are ropicts with reinement. The scenes, plots and incidents being taken principally from the walks of life she has been accustomed to treal. Moreover, she knowing a 'woman's heart,' handles it with that delicacy that none of the storner set can acquire, although they may seemingly pay it more siduation.

"We will not spoil the appetite of our readers by telling them the plot, but we will merely remark on passant, that her conception of 'Badger, the Dun,' is fully equal to Dickens' great creation of 'Misawber.' The novel has met with an unprecedented success."

rything size has railed. I did so without faith at first, but the effect was astonishing; it threw the poison to the surface at once, and I at once began to grow better, and by using seven bottles I have got a cure worth thousands of dollars. This may certify that I have been acquainted with Hier? Petroleum, or Rock Oil, for more than a year, such have repeatedly witnessed its beneficial effects in the sure of indomit ulcers and other diseases for which it is recommended, and can with confidence recommend it to be a medicine wor. lowing letter from Kev. U. Dickingor, a Missionary in Oregon:

Mis. J. M. Kien.—Dear Ser: Myself and wife having been greatly benefitted by the use of your Petrolaum, I wish to have you send mis a box of two or three dozen bottles. I am the Congregational Minister in this place, and several of my people are affected with indigestion and an inaction of the liver, the same or myself and wife, before taking your Perrolaum, on Rock Oli. We took several bottlee-two or three each—about a year and a half are, and we have never enjoyed so good health for years as we have inner that time. I had not taken a single bottle, before that fullness of the stomach which so distresses the dyspeptio was relieved, and I have felt nothing of it since that time. I may will was also relieved from a chronic disease of the liver, which had been of several years standing, by the use of your Petroleum.

Exhibition and Sale of Fancy Work.

M. His. KATS 346E would respectfully amounce to the
M. citizens of Pittsburgh and vicinity, that, in accordance with repeated request, she will give a Public Exhibition of her splendid collection of articles of LEATHER WORK, EMBROIDERY, ARTIFICIAL FLOWERS, 4c, on the afternoons and evenings of THURSDAY and FRIDAY.
March 231 and 24th at LAFAYETTE HALL.

The Leather Work atone is well worthy the attention ofthe public, not merely for its receipt, but for its stillity and beauty. Articles of furniture, work boxes, &c, are ornamented with raised work, equal to the most claterate speciment of Carving. Laddes ougsged in this work may employ a few hours pleasantly and profitably, and thus supply the jarler and tolles with most beautiful pleces of furniture, descing boxes, &c.

Among the specimens on exhibition, Mrs. Rack would par-icularly direct attention to the following articles:

Lenter Vort.—Large and small What Nots, most be nui-illy finished: Work Boxes; Foot Stools, with embroidered ps; Pictures, frames beautifully ornamented.

YOUNG'S or lebrated String and Brass Band will be in atlendance.
