DISSOLUTION OF THE UNION. The Detroit Advertiser, a Whig paper, makes the following startling developement in regard to the course and purpose deliberately resolved upon by the proprietors of the New York Tribune, headed by Horace Greeley. The Advertiser, it will be seen, states that its disclosures can be fully relied on :--

"During the discussion of the measure repealing the Missourd Compromise, a series of articles appeared in the New York Tribune, coolly calculating the value of the Union and arriving at the sage conclusion, that the separation of the north and south would be a loss to each individual, in the free Ristes, of farty sents.

About this time—as we are informed by authority in which we place implication confinence—a meeting of the proprietors of that paper (some twenty in number) was called, to decide what my the pursue if the Missayira Components. which we place implicit confidence—a meeting of the pro-prieton of that paper (some twenty in number) was called, to decide what path to pursus, if the Missouri Compromise should be repealed. Horace Greeley contended that a course should be nedopted, chelulated to lead to the hissournow or fire Union. This proposition met with the approval of a majority of the stockholders, and an arrangement was made by which the diractomists were to purchase the inter-ests of their co-proprietors. Such is the spirit that animates, and such is the motive that controls the conductors of the New York Tribune."

It seems then that the proprietors of the Tri bune held a meeting to consider what course should be pursued if the Nebraska bill became a law. Greeley advocated such a course as would lead to the dissolution of the Union. His proposal received the support of a majority of the proprietors: but the minority were so disentlaffed with the traitorous resolve that the mejor. Ity had to buy out their interests. The Tribune then; is now owned by a dozen or more men, who have pledged themselves to devote the influence of that paper to the work of destroying the American republic. And, true to that pledge, the paper is now laboring sealously in the work. The treason of Aaron Burr was of trifling importance or criminality compared with this. In Burr's time the republic was young and feeble, and the experiment of self-government of uncertain result. The vest value of the Union. and the world-wide influence that this republic was destined to exert upon the destinies of man kind were not then understood, and appreciated as now. Yet the treason of Burr met with uni

What, then, will be the judgment of that pubtreason which is charged upon Greeley and his fortune it was to become a bride, and misfortune co-conspirators? The next step is to urge a coalition of Whigs and Abolitionists, and all other factions, to elect Abolitionist candidates to Congress. All other principles and purposes are atterly discarded; and the election throughout the North of Free Soil members of Congress is made their sole aim and purpose. If by such means a Northern dele-
