Hot Weather—Discussion in the Senate—Abolition Morality-Meeting of Congress-Mexican Treaty in the House-The Cuban Question-Pollock a Know Nothing-War in Europs-Battle at Shanghai. WASHINGTON, D. C., July 1, 1854.

The heat of the weather is now so great that it is a labor to read, as well as to write. I shall therefore best please your readers, doubtless, by being brief as possible. The thermometer tands, or continues to rise rather, at considerable over 90, and is still rising.

An incidental discussion on topics connected with the question of slavery sprung up in the Senate, on Monday, which attracts no little attention. The occasion was the motion to refer a petition of the citizens of Boston, asking the repeal of the Fugitive slave law. The Abolionists were assailed with much vehemence by Mr. Jones, the whig Senator from Tennessee, who declared that if the northern whigh party adopted the repeal of the fugitive slave law and a renewal of the Misscuri Compromise as cardinal principles, he wished no longer to be called a whig. The other declaration was by Mr. Sumner, who deliberately avowed that he regarded himself as under no obligation; to aid in the execution of the Constitution of the Unied States, although he sits as a Senator representing the State of Massachusetts, and has solemnly taken an oath to observe it and maintain it in every particular. Such is a specimen of the political morality of the Abolitionistsmen who regard neither oaths nor obligations, if they stand in the way of the attainment of their own selfish and treasonable designs. The House bill providing for the meeting of Congress on the 1st Monday of November, was taken up in the Senate yesterday, and finally defeated. Many objections were urged to the proposed change, one of which was that the Presidential election, every four years, would interfere with the commencement of the session, and
