M'CORD'S PATERT WASH MIXTURE.—This is the name of as improved preparation for washing purposes, patented by M. W. M'Oord, of New York, in 1862, which is destined to work an entire revolution in the basiness of the laundress. By the use of this mixture, every family can do all their or rabbing, or the use of a machine. We have tried it in our own family, and bear willing testimory to the into general use, and farewell to the basiness and poor dinners, popularly supposed to be incident to washing days attending the renovation—the wear and tear of a whole week will then be so slight, that this day will not be distin-gularbile from any other day in the week. The article can be purchased at M. A. These are thoonly two fatal cases which have yet occurred, and no antisty meed be let in consequence, as the disease was undoubtedly contracted at a distance. is the disease was undoubtedly contracted at a distance.

A DESIGABLE INFROVEMENT.—We notice that the Directors of the St. Clair street Bridge are tearing down the old toll house, on the Allegheny side. This is being done in order to allow Bank Lane, at that point, to be rated and taken over Foderal street, in the same manner that it crosses Anderson.—the toll house and abutment heretofore proving an obstruction to the same manner that it street. This improvement has long been called for by the street. This improvement has long been called for by the clivens of the lower part of Allegheny, who were slwap; compelled to makes a long defour by way of Roblinon street, in order to get to the bridge with a vehicle of any kind.
