[RIMARKS.—Excepting a shower of a few minutes duration on Saturday, net wirep of rain has fallen in this region for more than a month. The effect, of course, is very perceptible on marketing. All kloda of vegetables have become extravagantly high, and it has also effected most of the more than a month. The effect, of course, is very perceptive ble on marketing. All kinds of vegetables have 'leveme extravagantly' high, and it has also effected most of the other necessaries of life.

We have nothing new to notice in the money market. Good paper is negotiable at 1 to ½ per cent, and there is considerable taken at 1½ per cent. The Gucinrati Price Current of the 30th alt, in its money article, remarks:

"The public are looking for favorable results from the meeting of Banker's to be field to day at Indianapolis. The meeting of Banker's to be feld to day at Indianapolis. Until this separition is effected, it is useless to look for the establishment of a feeling of confidence with reference to the Free Banks generally. The demand for money during the week has not been large, and the offerings of prime paper have been proportionably limited. Currency has been in good supply and first class paper has passed resulty at 10g/12 per cent.; second and third rate names range from 15 to 24 per cent."

The New York Evening Post of the same date, rays:

"The demand fir money is active at full rates. Little commercial paper is discounted under 12 per cent, but the supply at this rate is inacquate to the d-mond.
