

ident, and Mr. Jefferson became competitors for the Presidential chair. As the law then stood, the candidates who received the highest vote were President and also received the next highest vote, the Vice President. On counting the electoral vote it was decided that Mr. Adams was elected President, and Mr. Jefferson Vice President. Many persons, however, were not so strongly agreed with the belief that this result was unfairly produced. Mr. Adams was elected President, and Mr. Jefferson Vice President. Many persons, however, were not so strongly agreed with the belief that this result was unfairly produced. Mr. Adams was elected President, and Mr. Jefferson Vice President. Many persons, however, were not so strongly agreed with the belief that this result was unfairly produced.

revolution, abolished this institution within her borders, and almost all the northern States have followed the example of the South. In the year 1800, it existed in all the States. If the motives of its abolition could be reached, we fear that the northern States would not be entitled to as much credit as many claim for its abolition. It was found that labor was unproductive for the farming purposes, and that the motives of pecuniary interest, were added to what we would call the political motives. The abolition of the institution in the original States north of Maryland and Delaware, was the result of a general feeling of opposition to the institution, which was not shared by the general government, which was not shared by the general government, which was not shared by the general government.

No Great Britain—It is exceedingly probable that Great Britain will not be able to have her share of the cotton crop of this country. The cotton crop of this country is now being raised in a disorganized manner; but the best cotton in her power of "drawing" at the second count, is now being raised in a disorganized manner; but the best cotton in her power of "drawing" at the second count, is now being raised in a disorganized manner; but the best cotton in her power of "drawing" at the second count, is now being raised in a disorganized manner.

AMUSEMENTS.

THE HYDROGAMEN.

Waterproof Anti-Consumptive Goggles. The Hydrogamen is a valuable invention for protection of the eyes from cold winds, dust, and smoke. It is made of the finest materials, and is perfectly adapted for use in all climates. It is sold by all opticians and druggists.

THE CHEER.

THE CHEER is a new and interesting play, written by the author of "The Two Friends." It is a comedy in three acts, and is full of humor and pathos. It is now being performed at the Theatre Royal, and is receiving the highest praise.

THE GREAT BRITAIN.

THE GREAT BRITAIN is a new and interesting play, written by the author of "The Two Friends." It is a comedy in three acts, and is full of humor and pathos. It is now being performed at the Theatre Royal, and is receiving the highest praise.

THE NEW YORK.

THE NEW YORK is a new and interesting play, written by the author of "The Two Friends." It is a comedy in three acts, and is full of humor and pathos. It is now being performed at the Theatre Royal, and is receiving the highest praise.