OPINION. Br Brack, C. J .- This case requires us to give a instruction to the charter of a private cor ion. The frequency of such cases excites some tion: The frequency of such cases excites some surprise, when we reflect that an act of incorporation is and always must be interpreted by a rule so simple, that no man, whether lawyer or layman, can misunderstand or misapply it. That which a company is authorized to do by its act of incorporation, it may do; beyond that, all its acts are illegal. And the power must be given in plain words or by necessary implication, All powers not given in this direct and numistakable manner are withheld.
