The Zanesville Aurora, of the 17th inst., states that a son and daughter of Wm. Newkirk, Esq., were drowned on Sunday last, in attempting to cross the Muskingum in a small flat-boat. The age of the young man was 20 years, and his sis-

Miss Rosa Bennett, a sister of Mrs. Barrow, made her first appearance on the American stage, at Wallack's, in New York, on Thursday evening She played Lady Gay Spanker in "London As. surance;" and, from the remarks of the critics, seems to have made a successful debut. We give full particulars of the outrage upon a Catholic priest in Maine. It seems to have been altogether unprovoked, and is universally condemned by the press as brutal in the last degree. The victim was not an Italian, but a Swiss. Those who are fomenting this Know-Nothing movement should find in this outrage food for serious reflection.

Myron H. Clark, Whig candidate for Governor, was charged by the New York Post with be- it ing a K. N.; and that he was refused admission as a delegate to the Convention held in New York. He has written a letter to the editors of that paper, denying explicitly the truth of every part of the charge.

the remains of Sir John Franklin's party have at length been discovered; or it is at least so reported. Sir John sailed in the spring of 1845 to search for a north west passage, and has consequently been absent more than nine years. Little anxiety was felt for his safety until the heard of the expedition, the public mind exhibited considerable fear of some mishap; but it was not until the present summer that all hopes

Several other ships were despatched by the English to search for the lost navigator, but the most recent attempt was made by Mr. Henry Grinnell, of New York, who again sent out the "Advance" and "Rescue," but this time in charge of Dr. Kane himself. They have all been unsuccessful, so far as discovering any trace of the lost expedition; although a Captain M'Clure is said to have the enviable reputation of having first demonstrated that there was a north-west labor, except in cases of emergency, where his services are required by unanticipated and uncommon danger. Such is the relation which exists on shipboard. The passenger stands in a position different from that of the officers and scamen; it is the sailor who must encounter the hardships and perils of the voyage. Nor can this relation be changed when the ship is lost by tempest or other dangers of the sea, and all on board have betaken themselves, for safety, to the small boats; for imminence of danger cannot absolve from duty.

The sailor is bound, as before, to undergo what ever hazard is necessary to preserve the boat and

The Evening Class in Mathematics.

In the Mathematical Department of Duf's College, young men are taught Arithmetic, Aigebra, Geometry, Trigonometry, Menuration, Surreying, &c. Great pains will be taken to give the most concise and practical methods of calculation. We have recently discovered a new plan for Long birisico, the Square Root, &c., by which the usual labor is stridged more than haif; airo, everal abhervisitons in Multiplication. These principles are general, and will apply to any problems. Class meets every evening, except Saturday. Hours, 7 to 9, P. M. Terms, $10 per half seeden.
