A RID FOR THE LEGISLATURE. Some of the Philadelphia papers have revived the oft defeated project of erecting " An Executive Mansion" for the use of the governor o the State. Such a house they would have built and furnished at the expense of the State, for the residence of the governor during his term of office, like the "White House" at Washington Such a house as would satisfy its projectors would cost at least a hundred thousand dollars. They would no doubt begin with a smaller appropriation, but succeeding legislatures would b asked for more. By the time the house was completed it would be necessary to increase the Senators in any quantity could be supplied by the city. The money of the State could be usefully employed by its merchants, and the balance of the State could have the privilege of building railroads, if they all pointed towards Philadelphia, and not otherbition that entirely overlooks the rights and interests of other parts of the State. The legislature sits quite near enough to that city now,
