CARRIER'S CARD FOR 1851. Mr. John A. Ponguus, the indefatigable at faithful carrier of the Morning Post, in the upper part of the city, has had printed, and will serve to his patrons, a handsome New Year's Gard. It contains a Counting House Almana for 1855; a list of all the Banks in the city and a variety of other interesting matter. The Card was printed in the Post Job Office; and we can boast of it as a fair specimen of the work turned out of that excellent establishment.

Mr. Forgous has always attended to his business in a prompt and energetic manner, and he therefore hopes his patrons will deal generously with him. He requests us to state that if any of his subscribers find it inconvenient to give gold dollars, he will thankfully receive half dollars and quarters, or even paper money.

The patrons of the Post are noted for their liberality, and we have no doubt will respond suicide, by hanging himself, at Boney's Point, munificently to the claims of the "poor Car
