THE VETO MESSAGE.

We have received and carefully read the measure of President Pierce, giving his reasons for refusing to sign the bill of the last session of Congress, making appropriations for Rivers and Harbors. Those who suppose that the President is opposed to all such appropriations, will find, on reading the message, that such is not the fact. The bill of last session appropriated about two million seven hundred thousand doluments. objects to the bill for this reason amongst others, a decided majority. If a company were chartered to undertake the work, a grant by Congress of public lands or money to aid the enterprise could be obtained. We have precedents for such grants.

A company was chartered by the Legislature of Michigan to construct a ship canal around the falls of St. Mary, and thus open a free and safe navigation to the Lake Superior region.

Congress granted to that company about soven hundred thousand acres of the public lands to asid the work. Those lands have been located, and will soon probably be worth as much as the whole
