But to conclude that on the rejection of a proposition to cede, seizure should ensue, would be to assume that self-preservation necessitates the acquisition of Cuba by the United States; that Spain has refused, and will persist in refusing, our reclamations for injuries and wrongs inflicted, and that she will make no arrangement for our future security against the recur-rence of similar injuries and wrongs. As to the first consideration, I will only remark that the acquisition of Guba by the United States would be pre-eminently advantageous in itself, and of the highest importance as a preosutionary measure of scourity. However much we might regret the want of success in our efforts to obtain the cession of it, that failure would not, without a material change in the conlition of the island, involve imminent peril to the existence of our government. And thou, de Flue, the hermit, man of Peace,country's Eaviour-blest forever be Thy mem'ry ! All the bearts of Swiss yet thrill With high emotion when their lips pronounce Thy hailowed name; and tears of joy yet abed My eyes as oft I read thy solemn words-The grandest lesson taught to freemen's sons-Thy words that saved the land from dismal breach

Of union. Fatherland, let still his words Be graved on all thy children's hearts, ---revers His name,-remember, when discord is near, His hallowed teachings sill! But now a cloud

B-gins to pass before my eyes, and shades Of darkness throw themselves upon thy past And pressut hist'ry. Lo, my country's shame The sens of Freedom cell their blood for gold. Oh, shame on all II-lvetiau youths that lent Their arms to fight for foreign gain, to crush

A monarch's people? Shame on rulers mean That brought the base, disgraceful, vilo reproach. On warriors brave : " that he who brings not gold Shall huve no Swiss. Oh, flow my tears, alas! The occan's waves in vain would try to wash This stain away from thee, my fatheriand. I know 'tis true thy bread would lll suffice To nourish all thy children. Thou art rich n beauties, poor-alas! in food for all

That dwell within thy bounds. The stranger still Doth cat the morsel there-the children's bread. I will not grieve. I love my country, right)r wrong. I love her still, tho' now no more COLUMBLA: thou the glorious home of all That find no bread in lands of want, of need,
