THE LEGISLATURE ADJOURNED. On Tuesday, at eleven o'clock, A. M., the legis. lature closed a session of over four months. We are thankful to it for leaving undone some things that were attempted. It did not abolish the Canal Board, and substitute a more expensive management of the public works. It did not veto the governor's veto and pass a local bankrupt law. It did not remove the seat of government to New Jersey, or even to Philadelphia without the consent of another legislature. It did not give away the public works, though it offers the main line quite cheap enough. It did not pass the guano inspector bill giving a dollar a ton for inspection. Such a tax on agriculture is unnecessary. It did not repeal that portion of the school law providing for the election of county superintendents of public schools. These

The next leg- thened community. islature will probably have that subject under sentiment among the people in favor of subjecting church property to taxation. The increase of the public expenditures in our State, and the from taxation will be reduced. The failure of aware. the legislature to elect a U. S. Senator, when Previously to the adjournment of the Penna. Dr. Beicher, and many other prominent Baptist one party had so large a majority, is a singular fact. To the politicians it was the most important matter of the session; and it certainly content matter of the session content matter of the

The anti-license law may do good, but its utility can only be judged after a trial. Even the friends of temperance differ as to its probable tendencies. Whether people will be quart instead of the glass, is very doubtful. As a reformatory measure it will be of little value.

A good many new banks have been created by this legislature, and Pittshurgh has "some in" reference in the property of the strong in the str this legislature, and Pittsburgh has "come in" ry, Heister and Piatt, (Democrats) and Messrs. for a pretty liberal share. We have two additional banks-the Mechanics, and the Dollar Savings Bank. The latter, however, though called a bank, is not designed for banking purposes to any great extent; and as a safe place for deposit of savings and small sums, it will doubtless prove a useful institution. When it is or- voting for himself.
