NOTICE

Notice Menially, the fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded. Loss of memory, confusion of fleas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion to recist, solf-distrust, love of solitude, timidity, etc., are some of the still produced. All thus sillicts as some mind and body are the most necessary requisites to promote connubial happiness; indeed, without these, the journey through life becomes a weary pilgrimage—the prospect hourly darkens the view; the mind becomes chadowed with despair, and filled with the melancholy reflection that the happiness of another becomes blighted with your own.
