WEATHER SPORT IN WASHINGTON, PA.— The Examiner gives us to understand that the dog days have not driven all ideas of amusement out of the heads of the denizens of that ber- ough. It says: "Some sport was enjoyed last week, despite the hot weather. A number of our fun loving eitizens tried the amusing exer- ercise of wheeling a barrow in a straight line, their syste bindfolded. Some very short istance turned out most ludicrous failures." CAUGHT THE RASCAL —George Martin, one of the persons charged with breaking the windows of the Catholic church on Anderson street, Alle- gheny City, the night of the grand torch-light fizzle, was arrested on Saturday by officer Sott, iypon the outh of W. H. Reel, Esq., who gets the reward of twenty-five dellars officered for the sp- prohension of the perpetrator of the deed. As the outrage was entirely unprovoked, it is hoped the guilty authors may meet with the most con- ding punishment. He has heretofore sustained an ex- cellent reputation, but on searching his premi- ses many stolen articles have been recovered, showing, that he has been engaged in plander for some time. Hor. WEATHER SPORT IN WASHINGTON, PA.— The Examiner gives us to understand that the dog days have not driven all ideas of amusement out of the heads of the denizens of that ber- ough. It says: "Some sport was enjoyed last week, despite the hot weather. A number of our fun loving eitizens tried the amusing exer- ercise of wheeling a barrow in a straight line, their syste bindfolded. Some very short istance turned out most ludicrous failures." CAUGHT THE RASCAL —George Martin, one of the persons charged with breaking the windows of the Catholic church on Anderson street, Alle- gheny City, the night of the grand torch-light fizzle, was arrested on Saturday by officer Sott, iypon the outh of W. H. Reel, Esq., who gets the reward of twenty-five dellars officered for the sp- prohension of the perpetrator of the deed. As the outrage was entirely unprovoked, it is hoped the guilty authors may meet with the most con- ding punishment. A WINE BEATER.—A fellow named James Gra- ham, who was arrested a couple of weeks ago fn Allegheny for highway robbery, but let loose on finding bail in $2,000, was again taken into cus- tody for-whipping his wife in the street.
