OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.

PITTSBURGH:

THURSDAY MORNING:.....AUGUST 16.

FOR CANAL COMMISSIONER,

ARNOLD PLUMER,

OF VENANGO COUNTY.

☞ S. M. PETTINGILL & CO., Newspaper Advertising Agents, are the Agents for the Pittsburgh Daily and Weekly Post, and are authorized to receive ADVERTISEMENTS and SUBSCRIPTIONS for us at the same rates as required at this office. Their receipts are regarded as payments. Their offices are at NEW YORK, 122 NASSAU STREET, BOSTON, 10 STATE STREET.

MORNING POST JOB OFFICE.

We would call the attention of MERCHANTS AND BUSINESS MEN to the fact that we have just received from Philadelphia a number of fonts of new Job Type, and are now prepared to fill orders for Cards, Circulars, Bill Heads, Paper Books, Posters, and Programmes for exhibitions. All orders will be promptly filled.

☞ Persons leaving the city during the summer, who desire the daily or weekly Post forwarded to them, can have it done regularly for any specified time, by leaving their orders and address at the office, corner of Fifth and Wood streets.

Democratic County Committee of Correspondence.

The Democratic County Committee of Correspondence assembled at the St. Charles Hotel, on Saturday, July 21st. After a short address by Thomas Farley, Esq., and others, in favor of referring the nomination of State and County officers to a County Convention, the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That the Democrats of the several Wards, Boroughs and Townships, of Allegheny county, be requested to meet at the usual places on Saturday, the 18th of August, and elect two delegates from each district, to meet in County Convention on the following Wednesday, at the Court House, at 11 o'clock, A. M., to take such action regarding a ticket for State and County officers for the ensuing fall election as the Convention may deem proper. The citizens of the Boroughs and Townships will assemble between the hours of 3 and 5 o'clock, P. M., and of the cities of Pittsburgh and Allegheny between the hours of 5 and 7 o'clock, P. M.

DELEGATE MEETINGS.

At a meeting of the Democratic County Committee on Wednesday a resolution was adopted fixing the time of holding the delegate meetings in the Boroughs on Saturday, between the hours of 5 and 7 P. M., instead of between 3 and 5, as before designated.

COMMITTEE MEETING.

The Democratic County Committee met on Wednesday, at 11 o'clock, A. M., pursuant to call; and the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That we, the members of the Democratic Committee of Correspondence, pledge ourselves that we are not nor never intend to belong to any secret oath bound political association, and have never made any effort to belong to such; and we hold the principles of said organization in abhorrence and contempt.

Another resolution was passed recommending to the Democratic Convention, which assembles on Wednesday next, to adopt a similar course to exclude the Know Nothings, if any such are returned. The following resolution was then adopted:

Resolved, That the Chairman of the Committee be requested to act as temporary Chairman of the Convention until it is duly organized, by the election of officers.

THE WHIG COMMITTEE.

The meeting of the Whig county committee on Tuesday last was the last appearance of the old Whig party amongst us. There is something sad after all in contemplating the final dissolution of a once great and powerful party. It was the party of Clay and Webster, and many other stalwart champions, and gallantly it did battle against the serried hosts of the Democracy. It once embodied within its ranks nearly half the voters in the United States. It had a platform of principles clearly defined, boldly announced, and contended for them with a zeal and energy that could elicit admiration, if it could not command success. But one by one its principles were condemned by the popular voice found in 1852 an overwhelming defeat satisfied its leaders that it could never more hope for success. It is gone. So far as this county is concerned the meeting on Tuesday made a formal assignment and transfer of its chattels and effects to the Republican party. Whether the whole body of voters still claiming to be Whigs will consent to the transfer is doubtful. They have been sold without their expressed consent; transfered, too, to a sectional, and not a national party. To those who rightly estimate the value of the Union, and of peace and harmony throughout the republic, there is no choice but to act with the Democratic party.

But the Republican party offers no inducements for Democrats to join it. It has no attractions for them. Its one principle is abolitionism. It is an "ism,"—a single idea. No party can become powerful and permanent on so narrow a basis. It draws to its support only those with whom the anti-slavery sentiment is stronger than all others; and it has no hope of any existence except in the Northern States. With such a limited field of action, and such limited aims, it can never acquire a commanding influence in the councils of the nation.

One thing, however, it promises, if the resolutions of the Whig Committee can be taken as an indication. It promises earnest hostility to the Know Nothings. The resolutions charge them with treachery and fraud, and adopt the sentiments of a letter of Mr. Reed, of Philadelphia, which declares open and bitter war on the Know Nothing party. The men who are active in this Republican movement are evidently in earnest on this point; and there can be no doubt of their earnestness in opposition to slavery. It is the anti-slavery party in sincerity, and exclusively so. It denounces religious proscription and the prejudices of birth-place. It has in fact no principles in common with the American party except its hostility to the Democracy.

Such is the new party that has now been duly inaugurated; and that has presented its one-plank platform to the people of this county; and that will soon be organized throughout the State. In Ohio this party has suddenly acquired great strength. It has taken the wind out of the Know Nothing sails at the very first step, by the nomination of Chase for Governor. The K. N.'s were floored in a day. But a large portion of them have rallied, and nominated another candidate for Governor. Thus three tickets are in the field, and three parties are organized. So it will be, no doubt, in Pennsylvania.

THE PROSPECT.—We have seldom seen the Democracy of this county take a more lively interest in any contest than at present in regard to the October election. Our foes are numerous and active; but the Democrats are not alarmed. There is now a prospect of harmony and earnest effort among all who are opposed to secret political societies, and sectional issues; and we believe very few Democrats will neglect the duty to vote this fall, and to labor zealously for the success of our party. Democrats may take courage from the signs of the times. Our foes are divided; our friends united; and if a good ticket is presented by the Convention we can enter the contest without fear, and with a fair chance of success.

CONNELLSVILLE RAILROAD.—It will be seen by the advertisement that after the 20th inst., cars will run regularly on the above named railroad to Broad Ford, 54 miles from Pittsburgh. Another portion of the road is completed, and to be brought into use. If the company drives on the work, as of late they have done, we shall soon have a railroad to Baltimore—a road that will pay, too, and be a great benefit to our city. We like the way things are managed by that company.

THE NEWS.

Dennison, the post office clerk at Chicago, charged with robbing the mails, has been convicted and sentenced to ten years' imprisonment.

The Richmond Dispatch says that Mr. M. B. Godwin, a compositor in that office has lost during the prevalence of the fever at Gosport, a father, mother, aunt, sister, brother, brother-in-law, nephew and cousin, all of whom were residents of that place.

Returns of the present census of the city of Buffalo, from all the wards except two, show an aggregate population of 63,657 inhabitants. The two deficient wards will probably raise the total to 74,000, which is considerably less than the first estimate of 90,000. The population of Buffalo in the year 1850 was 50,000.

The census of Chicago has also just been taken. The present population is 87,900; last November it was 64,140; increase in seven months, 27,000. The number of new buildings erected during the last year is 2,000, many of them of the first class. There are now 138 vessels belonging to that port.

Nineteen out of twenty-two wards of New York city give, under this year's census, a population of 515,394. The three wards not yet returned gave, in 1850, a population of 99,473. The population of the city will probably not be over 620,000, which is considerably less than was estimated, but is enough for a "considerable sized" crowd.

Two boys, named Francis Chambers and Jacob Dale, the first from Philadelphia and the latter from Perry county, attempted to fire the eastern House of Refuge recently. They were committed to prison in default of $1,500 bail each. It appeared from the testimony and admission of one of the boys, that they set fire to the workshop in two places and then attempted to cut the belt connected with the force pump, so as prevent any water from being thrown from that direction.

A distressing case of drowning occurred at Atlantic city on Monday last. Mr. James Andrews, wife and daughter, of Mauch Chunk, and Mr. William A. Boyd and wife, of Summit Hill, were in bathing, but ventured in beyond their depth, and before they could be rescued Mr. Boyd and Mrs. Andrews were drowned. The number of persons drowned on the sea shore this season is very large, and shows the temerity of visitors, and the little care taken to provide against such accidents.

THE MONSTER SNAKE TAKEN!—A letter from Perry village, Wyoming county, New York, to the Buffalo Republic, announces that the big snake which has been creating such a sensation in the neighborhood of Silver Lake, has been harpooned by a sailor named Smith. The monster is fifty nine feet five inches and one barley-corn in length, a head "about the size of a full grown calf," with a body varying from six to two ft. in circumference. His body is described as being "sinuous, like a snake," although many people, judging from the appearance of the head, say that it is a well developed specimen of the lumper eel. As the snake, or animal, or whatever it is, has no teeth it has been impossible even to guess at its age. Large crowds have flocked to see it, and consequently the hotels in Perry village are all doing well.

PROHIBITION IN GOTHAM.—The present Liquor Law is a complete nullity in Gotham, and indeed throughout almost the entire State it is disregarded. No set of people know this better than the temperance men themselves. They have therefore held a conference in the metropolis, at which it was resolved to advocate such amendments to the present Prohibitory Liquor Law, at the next session of the Legislature, as will obviate the difficulties in the way of its enforcement. The search and seizure clause will probably be struck out, but a new provision will be added, designed to stop the leak which at present exists in regard to foreign liquors in original packages.

NORTH WESTERN RAILROAD.—There was considerable competition for the work on the North-Western, advertised for letting on the 10th. Quite a crowd of contractors were in attendance, and a large number of proposals put in. The work was allotted as follows:

Section No. 2.	Evans & Snyder.
" " 3	Nightwine & Travis
" " 11.	Alexander McConnell.
" " 32.	Patrick Fenlon.
Bridge " 8.	Blake & Co.

☞ We are informed that freights that were sent from New York by the Pennsylvania Railroad, on Thursday evening last, were delivered in Cincinnati on Monday evening. Pretty good time that for freight lines.

REMARKABLE OCCURRENCE.—A circumstance of a somewhat extraordinary character occurred a short time since in one of the flourishing towns of the midland counties. A clergyman died, and his wife and daughters, on the third day after his decease, recollecting that no likeness remained, it was agreed, ere the grave closed over him, that the body should be unshrounded and a portrait taken. A young lady of some professional celebrity was engaged for the task. She, with the assistance of an attendant, took off the shroud and placed the body in the requisite posture; but, other duties requiring the artist's attention, the sketch was deferred till noon. About 12 o'clock, at the foot of the bed, the lady commenced and went through an hour's work on this passage of death. At this stage of the proceedings, by some unaccountable mistake, the head of the death-like figure fell on the side. Nothing daunted, the artist carefully took the head to replace it, when, lo! the eyes opened, and staring her full in the face "the dead" inquired "Who are you?,, The young "professional," without trepidation, took the bandage from the head and rubbed his neck. He immediately saw the shroud, and laughed immoderately. The artist quietly called the family; their joy may be imagined, but cannot be described. That evening, he who had laid three days in his shroud, bemoaned by mother and sisters with agonized tears, gladdened their hearts by taking his accustomed place at the tea table, and at this moment is making an excursion in Noth Wales.—Bedford (England) Times.

SINGULAR FATALITY.—A week ago last Sunday a gang of men employed on the Rock Island Railroad went out on a timber train some forty miles from the city. The day was hot and they drank a great quantity of water taken from the tank of the tender, and some twenty of them indulged freely in drink from a jug of liquor with which they had provided themselves, so that when they returned they were heavily drunk. On Monday the most of them were taken sick, and an informant states, that out of sixteen who were known to be of the party, twelve have died, two are despaired of, and one is very sick, while the sixteenth has escaped sickness entirely. The physician who have seen the cases are undecided whether the fatality is to be attributed to the water or the liquor, but from the fact that the conductor and engineer, who also drank from the tank have been sick, it is probable that some deleterious substance was in the jug which held the liquor. Five of the men died in one house on State st., south of Twelfth.—Chicago Express.

A MONOMANIAC.—An old gentleman in New York has lately felt a severe sickness, during which he exhibited a strange sort of monomania. One day he pretended that he was dead, and requested that they should lay him out with due propriety, which not being done, he stormed away at his attendants, and threatened to haunt them nightly. He thus continued to act for several days, telling them it was abominable to keep him above ground for such a length of time, and that he was fast mortifying. A few nights ago, while no one was in the room, he arose from bed, and jumped from the second story window, and happened to strike in such a manner that he was not much hurt. He was determined to go and bury himself. Strangely enough, the fall perfectly cured him of the belief that he was dead, and he is nearly recovered.

☞ A Missouri editor announces that the publication of his paper will be suspended for six weeks, in order that he may visit Saint Louis with a load of bear skins, hoop poles, shingles, oak bark and pickeled catfish, which he had taken for subscription.

Doesticks, Instigated by Damphool and the Devil, Joins the Know Nothings.

Knowing more about selling groceries than about politics or religion, but was scared to death by Damphool and others of his kin and name; told me if I didn't join the Know Nothings I'd be burst up, broiled on gridirons by the Catholics; also, that the Irish burned natives, then fricasced them as a choice foreign lunch; father, mother, aunt, sister, brother, brother-in-law, nephew and cousin, all of whom were residents of that place.

More About the Riots.

A correspondent of the New York Evening Post, writing from Louisville, has the following in relation to the late riots there:

I am credibly informed that over six hundred Irish and German laborers and tradesmen left this city during the two days after the riot, to make Cincinnati their permanent abode. An entertainer postponed her sales previously advertised to make room for a large accumulation of second-hand furniture, which must be promptly sold under the hammer. These are straws, to be set down to the debit of Know Nothingism.

I have taken some pains to get accurate information as to the origin of the riots, and think there is no doubt of the "American" party having struck the first blow. They charge up on the Irish the preparation of fire-arms, and in the language of the Louisville Journal, the "pouring of a promiscuous mass of murderous fire from their dwelling houses upon the passers by." But this murderous fire seems to have rebounded harmlessly from the rhinoceros hides of the Know Nothings. Two only are said to have been killed, while twenty foreigners, more or less, were murdered by revolvers, clubs, pitchforks, hanging and burning! One of those two was shot by an unknown hand whilst aiming a second blow at an unarmed Irishman whom he had already knocked down. And this "American citizen" had served out two terms in the penitentiary! The facts go to prove that the armed preparation and the provocation was with the Know Nothings. They, and not the foreigners, had the clubs, the revolvers, the pitchforks, and they did the hanging, the shooting and the burning. There was no fighting. It was an "American" coup d'état.

One more straw. Seeing that the yellow ticket was the protective cue of the Know Nothings, some citizens of foreign birth adopted the harmless artifice of carrying one openly in the hand, saying a white one concealed to drop into the ballot box. But it was of no use. They were watched and clubbed as they came out of the crowd. Who destroyed the freedom of the ballot, by adopting the distinctive ticket? Who preconcerted the deliberate outrage on the rights of citizenship? By what party were clubs suspended over the heads, and loaded pistols aimed at the man who held white tickets? This, Messrs. Prentice & Co., was the first blow, and you struck it.

If it were true and known, as now pretended, that the Irish were armed beforehand, why did not the Know Nothing Mayor disarm them, and prevent the riot, as he might, and should have done.

There are growlings and single assaults hanging on the heels of this infernal riot; but the probability is, that there will be no furth er serious disturbance at present.

AN IRISH WIDOW IN CLOVER.—Seedy Mahomed, soon after his elevation to the throne of Morocco, about the middle of the last century, was desirous to complete the defences of Fez, and, knowing the superiority of the English in engineering, he applied to the British government for the aid of some person skilled in the art. The request was acceded to, and an experienced sergeant of the Sappers and Miners, having been selected as a fit person, was placed at the disposal of his Majesty. Seedy Mahomed received him with much kindness, and allotted a suitable house for his reception. The sergeant continued in the service of the Sultan for some time after he had completed the works at Fez, and at length died, leaving his widow, without issue. After his interment, the widow, who was a pretty Irish woman, sought an interview with the Sultan, in order to obtain a pension and the means of returning to her own country. His Majesty was much struck by her fair and comely appearance, and treated her with condescension and benevolence. That interview resulted in the poor Irish woman becoming the Sultana of Morocco.

THE WINDOW RHYME.

MR. POST—When I first saw that reward offered for a rhyme to window, I sat down and wrote the following stanzas. Still, in spite of the strong temptations offered in the reward, my diffidence would have prevented their publication had not my mother encouraged me by reading aloud Mr. Longfellow's "Victor Galbraith" and "Long Thoughts," Tennyson's poem of "The Letters," and Bryant's "Robert of Lincoln"—at the same time complimenting me upon the delicate allusion, in my poem, to the first transgression. delicate allusion, in my poem, to the first transgression.

I saw, with eager eyes, that stump
To furnish rhymes to window:
Rapped twice on my preposterous bump,
And thought on dear Lucind'. Oh!

If you should see her—you'd go mad!—
Jump headlong through the window:—
If you should hear her sing—egad!
You'd pity Jenny Lind. Oh!!

Sweet is the memory of her smile,
Which paradised the window:
And blessed is the trysting stile
Where my young heart she pined. Oh!!!

If mother Eve had such a face—
(Or Eden had a window)
Or such a form—or half the grace,—
No wonder Adam sinned. Oh!!!!

Why Adam must have been a brute,
If, standing 'neath her window,
He did not purge himself with fruit,
First knawed by sweet Lucind'. Oh!!!!

Were she but fair and never false—
What would I not have pinned. Oh!
My senses too!—quick! hartshorn! salts!
She's laughing at—the window.

Muslin! usurp the place of brains!
My mind's unhooked, unpinned! Oh!
Find her plan sash around my jeans!
Farewell! I'm out of wind. Oh!!!!!!

*Every one will recognize, in the passage noted above, the apple*postation to the first transgression.

ENTHUSIASM.—A few years ago, when Mrs. Farren was playing a very brilliant engagement at New Orleans, an incident occurred which will never be forgotten by those present.

MRS. Farren was personating some very arduous character, and one where the interest and sympathy of the audience was demanded, when, in the middle of a very exciting scene, an apple came flying from the gallery upon the stage. The husband of the lady very much incensed at the supposed insult rushed to the gallery, and in a loud voice demanded satisfaction. For some time he was unable to discover the individual, but at length a person whom he noticed for the first time inquired—

"Do you want to know who fired that apple?"

"Yes!" answered Mr. Farren boiling with rage, and a faint hope of instant revenge on the malefactor glimmering upon his countenance.

With a face expressive of strong enthusiasm, the other replied—

"Well, I did, and I would throw bushel of apples, if I had them; to a woman that will play as well as she did."

Farren vamosed, a wiser and a better man.

OLD TIMES IN NEW YORK.—In reading lately an account in an old volume of the "Negro Plot" in the city of New York, in 1714, a plot, the existence of which was never established by any proof that would warrant the conviction of the accused, we were struck with the kind of punishment which suggested itself to the New Yorkers, as proper for such an offence. Fourteen of the negroes were burned at the stake! This was the manner in which slaves were punished for great crimes, when slavery existed in New York. Let the N. Y. Tribune make a note of it in its next denunciation of Southern barbarity, as exhibited in a case of negro burning, for a most horrid crime.

EXTENSIVE ANIMAL.—We saw in the town of Protection, a day or two since, a mare four years old, and still growing, well proportioned, nineteen and a half hands high. She is a good looking animal, iron grey, and belongs to Messrs. Erlin & Birch. She is considered the largest animal of the kind in the world. This is the product of Erie county. Who can beat it.—Buffalo Republican.

☞ Worms! Worms!—A great many learned treatises have been written, explaining the origin of, and classifying the worms generated in the human system. Scarcely any topic of medical science has elicited more acute of servation and profound research; and yet physicians are very much divided in opinion on the subject. It must be admitted, however, that, after all, a mode of expelling these worms, and purifying the body from their presence, is of more value than the mere disquisitions as to the origin. The expelling agent has at length been found—Dr. M'Lane's Vermifuge is the much sought after specific, and has already superseded all other worm medicines, its efficacy being deservedly acknowledged by medical practitioners. As further proof, read the following from a lady—one of our own citizens:

NEW YORK, October 15, 1852.

This is to certify that I was troubled with worms for more than a year. I was advised to use M'Lane's celebrated Vermifuge. I took one bottle, which brought away about fifty worms; I commenced improving at once, and am now perfectly well. The public can learn my name, and further particulars, by applying to Mrs. Hardie, No. 3 Manhattan Place, or to R. L. Thrall, Druggist, corner of Rutger and Monroe streets.

☞ Purchasers will please be careful to ask for Dr M'Lane's Vermifuge, and take none else. All other Vermifuges, in comparison, are worthless.

Dr. M'Lane's genuine Vermifuge, also his celebrated Liver Pills, can now be had at all respectable Drug Stores in the United States and Canada.

[Letter from Hon. John Minor Botts, of Virginia.]

RICHMOND, July 9th, 1855.

Messrs. Wm. S. Beers & Co.—Gents: Considerations of duty to the afflicted alone prompt me to send you this voluntary testimonial to the great value of Carter's Spanish Mixture, for that almost incurable disease, Scrofula.

Without being disposed or deeming it necessary to go into the particulars of the case, I can say that the astonishing results that have been produced by the use of that medicine on a member of my own family, and under my own observation and superintendence, after the skill of the best physicians had been exhausted, and all the usual remedies had failed, fully justify me in recommending its use to all who may be suffering from that dreadful malady.

I do not mean to say that it is adapted to all constitutions, or that it will afford the same relief in all cases; for, of course, I can know nothing about that—but from what I have seen of the effects, I would not hesitate to use it, in any and every case of Scrofula, with persons for whom I felt an interest, or over whom I could exercise influence or control.

Respectfully yours,
JNO. M. BOTTS.

☞ Mortification, the instant a plaster is applied, must cease, and vigor is given by DALLEY'S PAIN EXTRACTOR'S galvanic effects, and except the parts are decomposed, they will soon be restored to their natural color; but if so, the contagious influence will be neutralized and arrested, for mortification cannot proceed whenever the salve be laid on, and new flesh will certainly be generated.

POISON FROM INSECTS, REPTILES AND PLANTS

Are rendered quite harmless by rubbing in instantly a quantity of DALLEY'S PAIN EXTRACTOR, and after it has swollen, and livid spots are visible. Even then, like the voltaic battery, it will directly attract, dissolve, and metamorphose the poisoning influence. At the sting of bees and mosquitoes, the instant it touches you the pain ceases. The bites of rabid animals also are as speedily neutralized.

WAY IT GROWS.—The New Haven Register says that the rapid growth of Episcopacy in New England is in a great degree owing to the fact that the church avoids the discussion of all extraneous matters, and is more proverbial for preaching the gospel according to St. Paul than for Kansas and Nebraska.
