THE CITY POST.

THURSDAY MORNING.....OCTOBER 4.

Printing for the Fair.

Our merchants, and others who desire to consult their own interests, would do so by having their bills and circulars printed and distributed liberally during the coming week. No doubt a large number of visitors from the country will be in the city, with the intention of making purchases before returning home, and it will be an object to secure their custom. An excellent Job Office is attached to this establishment, and we are prepared to turn out all sorts of Job Printing at short notice. Send in your orders.

SECOND DAY OF THE COUNTY FAIR.—The attendance at the Fair yesterday, although larger than the day previous, did not by any means equal the number present on the second day of the Fair last year. In fact the feeling seems to be general, that the exhibition, both as regards visitors and exhibitors, is a failure. Our manufacturers, who ought to be more interested in such a display than any other class in the community, and who could, from the close proximity of the Fair to their places of business, have made an unequalled display of manufactures of all kinds, seem to have looked at the matter with indifference, and but few of our large manufacturing establishments are represented.

About twelve o'clock it commenced raining, and quite a stampede occurred on the ground. The race course, around which a crowd was just beginning to collect, was soon cleared, and every one sought shelter. The rain lasted until about three o'clock, and caused a general feeling of discomfort. Many who were on the grounds returned home, and others, who were preparing to go there, were detained in town.

In consequence of the wet, the ground was made very muddy, and even after the rain abated, pedestrianizing was rendered quite disagreeable. This discouraged many from making the "grand tour" through the enclosure, and contented themselves with viewing the articles in the various buildings.

To a few articles, of which there is any thing like a fair display, the most prominent are the agricultural implements.

A very interesting contribution to this department is an improved Mowing Machine, and entered by Mr. T. J. Kindelberger, of Butler Pennsylvania. Mr. Jacob Walter, who is the agent, has examined this machine very closely, and are inclined to believe it the best in use. The mill and press are embraced in a frame three by four feet, and are so light that two men can carry them. The machine can be worked by a boy of twelve years of age. With it, from six to ten barrels of cider can be made in a day. It can also be used for grapes, currants, cherries, and a variety of other purposes, with advantage to the farmer. The proprietor is stopping at the Eagle Hotel, on Liberty street, and is prepared to fill all orders.

There are also many other ingenious machines in this portion of the Fair, such as patent reapers, threshing machines, straw and feed cutters, drills, cultivators, &c., worthy the attention of the agriculturist.

Messrs. Phelps, Carr & Co., the celebrated carriage and wagon manufacturers, have on exhibition a fine assortment of their vehicles. Amongst these is a sliding-seat barouche, which by a peculiar construction of the seat, can either be used as a buggy or a double-seated barouche. This is a beautifully finished article and reflects credit on the establishment, although famous for turning out superior work. A new description of wagon, the invention of Mr. Perkins, possesses many advantages; the wheels are cast iron, with double rows of spokes, but are lighter than the ordinary wooden wheels, and, of course, more durable. Such a wagon, it seems to us, would wear forever, almost. This firm have also a handsome omnibus on exhibition. It is equal in workmanship to any manufactured in the east. Their display of buggies, barouches, wagons, &c., is unequalled by any on the ground.

In Mechanics' Hall, the display of Mr. Thomas Oliver, saddle and harness manufacturer, of 81 Fifth street, attracts considerable attention. Case exhibits a collection of harness, single and double, horse covers, saddles, &c., of the most complete description. The workmanship on a superb dearborn cannot be surpassed. The complements to the celebrated horse Revenge, has shin of the once, Oliver, stuffed, and set up been procured by Mr. Oliver, the defunct animal looks in his department. It is in splendid harness, quite natural, dressed on for a live horse. and by many is mistaken for a live horse. Visitors to the fair to-day should not neglect to examine Mr. Oliver's portion of the exhibition.

Messrs. J. J. Gillespie & Co., leading glass manufacturers, from No. 76 Wood street, exhibit in Artists' Hall, a great variety of looking glasses, plates, plate glass, frames, &c. Their collection is large, varied and beautiful. Several of their gilt frames, in particular, are worthy of admiration, as models of that kind of work.

In the centre of the Hall, raised upon a platform, and which arrests the attention of visitors the moment they enter, is a collection of beautiful statuary, from the marble works of Robert Watson, Allegheny. One piece represents the figure of Grief, leaning upon a monument; another, Hope; and a third, Grief, in a street position. The effect of the whole group is admirable.

The Hall allotted to the Fruits and Vegetables is better filled than any other portion of the Fair. The array of peaches, grapes, apples, pears, &c., is tempting, and it requires all the vigilance of the police to enforce the standing order of "Hands off!"

In Floral Hall, many of our fair friends from the country exhibit the usual specimens of their industry, taste, and skill in the way of quilts, preserves butter, &c. The variety of these articles is large, the quality is at least as good as at former exhibitions. There are also several pretty floral designs in moss to be seen here.

Messrs. Williams & Allen present a large assortment of Chilson furnaces, rangers, registers, and all the various articles required to warm buildings with hot air. This firm has also on exhibition a number of specimens of mantles, manufactured from Pearbyn slate. These mantles are a new article in this vicinity, but judging from the admiration they elicit will soon be extensively used; they are durable as marble, susceptible of as beautiful a polish, and have the merit of being a great deal cheaper. The slate from which they are manufactured is brought from England, where they have been used for several years to the exclusion of marble. After the close of the Fair they will be kept for sale at the establishment of Messrs. Williams & Allen, No. 25 Market street.

W. W. Wallace, Nos. 319 and 321 Liberty street, exhibit three beautiful marble mantels, and a variety of other marble work.

Mr. C. Kingsland, Allegheny, exhibits his patent box and self-heating smoothing irons, an article now considered indispensible by all good housewives.

In the way of live stock there is not much worthy of notice. Our good looking Irish friend, Mr. John [illegible], has six feet ten inches from nose to tail, and five [illegible] three inches round the shoulders.

The Fair will continue open to-day and to-morrow. We don't know whether there will be any horse-racing this [illegible] thought it worth their while to inform the press of their arrangements; but if there is any, we presume it will come off to-morrow morning.

Visitors can reach the ground in the most expeditious and cheapest manner by taking the cars of the Pennsylvania Railroad, at the Liberty street depot. Trains will leave every few minutes during the day.

COURT OF QUARTER SESSIONS.—Hon. Wm. B. McClure, President Judge; Hon. Gabriel Adams and Hon. Wm. Bogge, Associate Judges, on the Bench.

THURSDAY, October 4.

In the case of Commonwealth vs. M. A. Ramsey, the defendant was found guilty, and sentenced to pay a fine of $10 and costs.

David Hutchinson was also found guilty of assault and battery, and sentenced to a fine of a similar amount.

Wm. M'Guire plead guilty to stealing $1,25 from John Graham, of Allegheny city, and was remanded to jail for sentence.

Commonwealth vs. John Scott; indictment, larceny of clothing from Michael Kelly. The defendant was found guilty, and sentenced to three months in jail.

Commonwealth vs. Mary and Augustus Warbier; charge, surety of the peace on oath of George Cress. Prosecutor ordered to pay costs.

Commonwealth vs. Elizabeth Pratt; charge, surety of the peace on oath of Catharine Deary. Each of the parties ordered to pay half the costs.

Commonwealth vs. John Hephard; charge, surety of the peace on oath of David Davis.

Commonwealth vs. David Davis; indictment, assault and battery with intent to kill on complaint of John Hephard.

MONEY RECOVERED.—Our readers will recollect the drowning off the steamer Gipsey, some time or three weeks since, of a Welshman, named William Edmonds, who was supposed to have had a sum of money upon his person. The body was recovered sometime after, a Coroner's inquest was held, and the body buried at a point above Wheeling. On Saturday last, a man named John Owens and William Rowlands, a brother-in-law of the deceased, went to the grave, and on consultation with a magistrate, concluded to raise and search the body. They did so, and found a pocket in the drawers of the deceased, which contained $168.. The money was left in the hands of the magistrate, to be restored to the lawful owners. It will be recollected that at the time Edmonds was drowned, there were some suspicions that foul play had been used to obtain the money. The above facts place the matter in its correct light.

EXHIBITORS AT THE COUNTY FAIR, especially those entering agricultural or labor-saving machines, should bear in mind that placing their articles on the ground is not the only thing required to secure public attention. Many meritorious articles are overlooked, and unless exhibitors take care to have them properly advertised; and for this purpose we know no better medium than the Post. A notice in this paper is a safe investment for the advertiser, and if neglected, will afterwards be regretted.

THE following is the amount paid over by Mayor Vols during the quarter ending October 1, for fines and forfeitures, dramatic licenses and railroad switches:

|---|---|
| Fines and forfeitures | $516 53 |
| Dramatic licenses | 77 00 |
| Railroad switches | 75 00 |
| Total | $667 53 |

☞ Fever and Ague—A Case of Eight Months' Standing Cured by Boerhave's Holland Bitters—Michael Kelly, No. 117 Seventh, near Grant street, says:

"In last July, while running on the river, on a cotton boat plying between Natchez and New Orleans, I was taken with fever and ague. For eight long months I suffered with this dreadful disease. The greater part of this time I was unable to work, and spent at least fifty dollars for different medicines, but found no permanent relief. Three weeks ago, one of my friends advised me to try Boerhave's Holland Bitters, saying that a cure was guaranteed. After taking it for one week, I was a stout, hearty man. I have been at work now for two weeks, and have had no return of the chills and fever whatever."

I certify that the above statement is true.

THOMAS ADAMS, Diamond House,
Or at R. Chester's, Gothic Hall.

CAUTION:—To prevent imposition, be careful to ask for Boerhave's Holland Bitters.

Sold at $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5, by the proprietors, BENJAMIN PAGE, Jr., & CO., Manufacturing Pharmaceutists and Chemists, Pittsburgh, and Druggists generally. sep29

☞ Prohibition—The recent decision of the people in almost every State in reference to the sale of liquors, does not pretend to interfere with medicinal compounds containing stimulants, as it was not its object to do away without rum-selling principles most cases of extreme debility could not be reached, and the many other of our most valuable compounds would not be in the market. For instance, Dr. J. HOSTETTER'S Stomach Bitters, now so celebrated and indispensable in every family as a remedy for dyspepsia and indigestion, generally speak volumes in favor of this great curative agent. For sale by dealers everywhere, and by

HOSTETTER, SMITH & CO.,
26 Penn street.

☞ Clark's Stomach Bitters are now recognized by all who have tried them to be the best family medicine of the age, for the cure of Dyspepsia, Costiveness, and a disordered state of the Liver and Stomach. Thousands of persons are now using them, and in doing so he defines his position at length. His speech elicited much enthusiasm. The Convention then adjourned sine die.

Georgia Election.

COLUMBIA, S. C., October 2.—Returns from 55 counties indicate the election of Herschell V. Johnston, Democrat, as Governor. The Hon. Alex. H. Stephens, Whig and Independent, is re-elected to Congress in the 9th district. The others are in doubt.

SECOND DESPATCH.

October 3.—Returns from Georgia elect Herschel V. Johnston, the Democratic candidate for Governor, by about 500 majority. Five Democrats and probably three Americans are elected to Congress.

ONE WEEK LATER FROM EUROPE.

ARRIVAL OF THE PACIFIC.

SANDY HOOK, October 3.—The steamer Pacific with Liverpool dates to the 22d September arrived off Sandy Hook about midnight. The Pacific arrived out at Liverpool on the forenoon of the 16th September, after a passage of nine days and twenty-three hours. The Hermann, from New York, arrived at Southampton on the 22d.

The British government has received despatches from General Simpson describing the details of the assault and capture of Malakoff. He says that at twelve o'clock, on the morning of the 8th September, the French columns, under Bosquet, M'Mahon and De Lamatinengo, carried the Malakoff by the most impetuous valor. The British columns stormed the Redan, but, after a bloody combat, found they could not hold it, and retreated. A second assault was organized the following morning, when the Redan was evacuated by the Russians. The loss of life was fearful, particularly among the officers

Pelissier's despatches had not been received.

The retreat of the Russians to Perekop is contradicted. It was expected that they would be unable to hold North Sebastopol, for want of provisions.

Nothing decisive is known with regard to the next movements of the allies. Four thousand cannon and fifty thousand balls, with immense stores of gunpowder, were taken possession of by the allies at Sebastopol.

The Czar, Alexander, in an address to the army, says:—"I rely confidently upon your courage to repel all future attacks," and, in a letter to the King of Prussia, he states: "I will accept no conditions of peace derogatory to Russia." The Czar, in the three letters, signify their intention of proceeding at once to the Crimea.

The Turks still hold possession of Kars, having repulsed the Russians on the 6th of August, with considerable loss.

The Russians are retiring to Erzeroum.

There is no later intelligence from the Baltic.

The Emperor of Austria congratulates Queen Victoria and the Emperor Napoleon upon the victory of the allies. There is more talk about Austrian negotiations. The latest report is that Austria is willing to undertake the work of mediation at Vienna, and that France will consent if negotiations be not commenced at Paris.

It is reported that Prussia has undertaken the task of mediation between Denmark and the United States, on the subject of Sound dues.

At Paris, considerable excitement prevailed in regard to the high prices of Breadstuffs.

The long-expected Don Pedro, King of Portugal, was celebrated on the 16th, with great enthusiasm.

The King of Naples has sent apologies to England and France for the recent insults to their functionaries.

Mazzini's revolutionary manifesto to the Neapolitans has been published.

LATER FROM SANDY HOOK.—It is rumored at Paris that Baron Prokesp had arrived with the ultimatum of Austria. This is said to be a proposition to mediate, if the allies agree between them and Russia; and if the latter declines, Austria will declare war.

Gen. Simpson's despatch to Lord Panmure, giving details of the fall of Sebastopol, has been received at London, but it does not differ in its statements from the telegraphic despatches previously received in London, and brought to Halifax by the America. The English attack was led by Sir W. Rodrington and Lieut. General Markham. The former was severely and the latter killed in the attack upon the Redan Nov. 22 in number; the officers wounded, 126, including 20 dangerously.

Gen. Pelissier's official report had not been received.

A telegraphic despatch says that Admiral Dundas was to leave Naples for Leghorn on the 26th.

No later news of importance had been received from Sebastopol. It is considered almost certain that want of provisions will force the Russians to evacuate the northern side of Sebastopol.

It is said that the Czar, on hearing of the disaster at Sebastopol, despatched a telegraphic message to the King of Prussia, saying that Russia never made peace after a defeat.

A despatch from the Crimea, dated the 11th, says that the greater part of the Southern fortifications is standing by the Russians have been blown up by the Allies. Allies were getting ready for a new attack. Reinforcements The Russians had begun to make their appearance in small groups among the ruins of the town.

The Paris Moniteur's despatch says: "We are beginning to occupy the town of Sebastopol. The material left by the enemy is even more extensive than was at first anticipated.

Another despatch says 1200 guns of large calibre were captured, also 300 field pieces, 6 vessels of war, 1000 bombs, 60,000 cannon balls, and a great amount of gunpowder and other materials of war.

A despatch from Varna states that the detachment of French troops that entered Varna on the 14th found that there is no vestige of ruin throughout. The cholera had left the fortifications, but were ordered to be removed to admit the entrance of ships.

A report was current at Vienna when the Russians saw that the French were masters of the Malakoff they blew up the Redan. All the towers were ruined, but they had no time to destroy the docks.

It is rumored that Prince Gortschakoff has received an order from St. Petersburgh to evacuate the Crimea on condition of being allowed to withdraw his Polished to join the north fort with his arms and baggage.

Gen. Bosquet was wounded, but not seriously.

A despatch from Vienna says that the Marshal Pashawitsch received intelligence of the fall of the Malakoff, he despatched his aid de camp, Demidoff, to Sebastopol.

It is certain that many more troops are to be sent to the Crimea.

Massachusetts K. N. Convention.

BOSTON, October 3.—The Know Nothing State Convention assembled at Tremont Temple to-day, and the attendance was large. Henry Wilson, the present Governor, was unanimously renominated.

Henry W. Benshley, President of the last Senate, was nominated for Lieut Governor. A ticket was then named and the platform adopted at Springfield was re-approved.

Thousands of persons are expected to-morrow, and to-day's proceedings are confined to preliminaries.

The Convention is now engaged in the nomination of Councillors.

From New York.

NEW YORK, October 3.—Mr. Dellicker, produce broker, of this city, received a despatch announcing the death of his wife. He no sooner read the despatch than he expired.

The fast Sheil prizefight between Casey and Hall is exciting much of the talk. There was a good deal of rioting and fighting in the 15th Ward. One man was dangerously stabbed, and several others injured with clubs. In the 15th Ward the rioters broke the doors and windows of the place where the election was held, and the inspectors were obliged to flee for life. A disturbance also occurred in the 16th Ward.

First Train on the Sunbury and Erie Railroad.
