On Saturday morning last, a man named Timothy Wilds, while driving along the Railroad track, in Troy, N. Y., in a wagon, met with an accident by which he was instantly killed. The locomotive struck his wagon, throw him twenty feet into the air, and in descending he fell under the engine. A horrible fracture of the skull was produced, the wound extending around the back of the head from ear to

OTHER MATTERS. The election is over, and we are glad of it We like a gallant contest in a political campaign. A fair fight with a resolute foe, especially if it ands in a victory, is a pleasant thing enough for a month or two. But we are always glad when it is over, and we can turn to other matters of nublia interest.

It is too soon to begin to talk about a candidate for United States Senator; or candidates for the various officers at our municipal election of January next. The election of a State Treasurer, Speaker of the House, Speaker of the Senin January, and the Canal Commissioners make their appointments in November. But in the meantime there are other matters claiming attention. By a judicious and earnest effort on part of all the States interested a lib eral appropriation can be obtained from the next Congress to aid in the improvement of the he applied to a better use, or one more beneficial in a truly national sense. Such an appropriation can be obtained; and no State would be benefitted by it more than Pennsylvania. To Pittsburgh it is of vast importance, and our city should be the first to move in the matter. We shall certainly do what we can for It. It is in vain to talk about the impractibility of the undertaking. It can be done, and it will be done some day, and the sooner the better. Among other things we are now determined to give special attention to commercial matters and news, and make the Post, if we are able, the best commercial paper in the West. It will attend to politics and general news ; but its commercial column will be much more full, and receive a far larger share of our attention than it has in the midst of the excitement of the late political campaign. The growing and vast intorests of Pittsburgh require full and accurate commercial intelligence, and we shall aim to give

On the 9th inst. the free state men would elect Reeder as delegate. Both delegates will appear at Washington at the next session of Congress, and demand scats. that will be the result. We are glad to find that the free State men of Kansas have at length got to using cold lead. The sudden death of a few of the border ruffians would have a very salutary effect in that territory. The free state men are largely in the majority according to all accounts, and they should appeal to the only arguments that have weight. By their long delay to do so they have already placed themselves in the position of revolutionists. The pro-slavery men, by under the color of isw, and may be sustained. The story was the Misse circulated that Wilson Shannon, lately appointed Governor of Kansas, has in his first speech in the territory declared himself in favor of slave ry in Kaneas. > Foreign Demand for Breadstuffs. From the Cincinnati Price Current, 10th inst. Our advices from Europe, by the last two tenmers, leave no doubt whatever, that the crops in France, are below an average; also, in jost of the Western German States; and, that as a matter of necessity, be importers of bread-stuffs. The Paris Moniteur, contains an official declaration from the French Government, that there is a deficit in the harvest of the Empire this year, equal to 17,000,000 bushels, to make up which the nation will have to drawn upon foreign sources. The harvest in England had been gathered in good condition, and the yield is believed to be a fair average, though not equal to the one of 1854. There does not seem to be much disposition on the part of English dealers to purchase breadstuffs, but the orders from France, brought to this country by the Pacific

The leading commercial men of France, England and Germany, are looking to the Un.ted States, as the chief point from whence supplies of breadstriffs can be drawn, to make deficit, caused by the partial failure of the crops in France and Germany, and by the absence any supplies of consequence from Russia; and there can be no doubt whatever, but that this country will find a market in Europe, for every pound of breadstuffs she can spare, the present season, and at prices, too, considerably above an average. This places these United States in position, commercially and financially, sho has never occupied before; specie will be ex-ported from Europe to this country, to pay for our flour, wheat, corn and pork, in larger quan tities than ever known before, within the co ing nine months; the balance of trade will be largely in our favor; stirling Exchange will be for below par, the agricultural interests of the ate, and numerous other officers will take place | Union will be promoted, by being enriched in an unusual and remarkable degree; and all general arc perity of the country will receive an impetus, which will not only entirely relieve all classes of the embarrassments of the last two years, but will advance their interests as far ahead in one year, as the ordinary progress of three years:

Gortschakoff reported on the 17th that the corresponded reported on the 17th that the silies had attempted nothing up to that date on the north side, but were concentrating their forces between Balaklava and the Tchernaya, and constantly reconnoitering the left wing of the Russians from the Baidar Valley. Letters from the camp mention that the allies were actively preparing for a campaign.

The correspondent of the Paris Patrie, under date September 26, says: Ever since their retreat, the Russians have continued to fire shells at us, and it would be a mistake to suppose that our armies in Sebastopol are beyond the range of the enemy's batteries on the northern shore and on the plateau. The balls from Fort Constantine reach beyond Strelitzka Bay, and they can very easily throw their projectiles into the town. As to the batteries of the other forts, some of the guns in them are so powerful that very active. The artillery and engineers in Sebastopol are everywhere at work. Mrs. Corrigan was in town on Saturday, and returned home in the evening, since which time she has not been seen. He himself stated that she left on Sunday morning to go to Philadelphia that he gave her $28, and they separated in good humor-and he has not seen her since. It ppears that on Sunday, he went to a won named Mary Callahan, who formerly lived with him as his wife, and has borne him children, one of whom was living with him, and told her that his wife had left, and he wanted her to take charge of the house and attend to the child. which was sick. When asked about her murder, he said it was all moonshine—some of the neigh. born had got up the story-it would be all right

After the hearing, the accused was committed o answer the charge of murder, and was taken o the Allegheny county jail, to await his trial.

There can be no doubt that a most horrible nurder has been committed. The woman was probably killed on Saturday night, and her body locked up until Wednesday night or Thursday morning, and then taken to the fire and consumed. The circumstances even exceed in atrocity those of the celebrated Webster case at Boston some years ago.

Corrigan is well known in this community, and has not borne a good character for many years. He is about fifty or sixty years of age. Further examinations have since been made o the premises, and in the corner of the room where the as pearance of blood was, it has been found that a considerable quantity of blood ran down an opening between the flooring and logs, staining the latter, and lying in a clotted mass stained with blood, were also found. Some bed clothes, wet, as though recently washed, but still showing stains of bleed, were seen on Monday morning hanging on a fence near the house.
