A RIVAL OF PENESYLVANIA. - The Hartstein Arctic Exploring Expedition visited Harce Is land, in lat. 70° 25' N., long. 54° 45' W., and there obtained bituminous coal of an excellent quality. The coal stratum crops out within a fow feet of the shore, in the side of a hill, and is from four to five fest thick, and a few feet above the sea level. The samples furnished by the officers contain small places of orystalized naphtha, of a color as bright as the finest specimens of gum arabic. On exposing this coal to the action of our atmosphere, it loses weight rapidly, and therefore to proserve it in its origi-
