

POTTSVILLE. WEDNESDAY MORNING, AUG. 15, 1838.

For Samples, Checks, Cards, Bills of Lading, and Remittances of every description, neatly printed at this Office at the lowest cash prices.

Committee of Correspondence for the Borough of Pottsville. Samuel D. Leib, George Heister, Esq. John Hoffman, Benjamin Baines, James Silliman, Jr., Henry Steger, Esq. John T. Werner, Andrew B. White, Samuel Hart.

The Working Men's Banner—Ritner, Prosperity & Work, vs. Porter, Idleness & Poverty.

Gives the editors of the Key Stone great uneasiness. It will, no doubt, throw them into hysterics before the election. What do they think of the new Banner, which was unfurled on Monday.

Ritner, Gold & Silver, vs. Van Buren, Porter & Skin-Plasters.

The MADISONIAN, the organ of the Conservatives in the United States, calls upon the Conservatives in Pennsylvania to cast their votes for JOSEPH RITNER; because the strong desire evinced on the part of the Globe to have David R. Porter elected Governor of Pennsylvania, is conclusive evidence that he is in favor of the Sub Treasury Bill—and all the other odious measures of the present National Administration.

Gen. SIMON CAMERON has backed out as a candidate for Congress in the Dauphin and Lebanon District. Reason: because he would have been beaten by about 2000 votes. It is doubtful whether the Party will be able to get a candidate to stand.—The district is now represented by a Van Buren member of Congress.

Estimate of the Loco Foco Central Committee at Harrisburg.—The Loco Foco Central Committee at Harrisburg, has put out through the Keystone, an estimate of the probable vote in each county, which they state "has been gathered from the best information they could obtain from individuals resident in, and acquainted with the several counties." A more willful perversion of the truth we have never seen in print. For instance—they put down the majority for Porter in Schuylkill County, at 900. There is not a Porter man who has two grains of sense, in Schuylkill County, who now believes that Porter will have half of the above mentioned majority in this County. But, as they will no doubt father their lies, we are authorized to make the following bet with the Loco Foco Central Committee:

- $50 That Porter will not have 100 majority in Schuylkill County.
$50 That he will not have 200.
$50 That he will not have 300.
$50 That he will not have 400.
$100 That he will not have 500.
$100 That he will not have 600.
$100 That he will not have 700.
$100 That he will not have 800.
$100 That he will not have 900.—And
$100 That JOSEPH RITNER will have a MAJORITY IN SCHUYLKILL COUNTY.
The above to be taken collectively.
Come up to the chalk, Mr. Central Committee, or acknowledge that you have published to the world wilful lies.

Let every man in Schuylkill County read the following resolutions passed at a Porter meeting, without a dissenting voice, lately held at Orwigburg. Here is the true issue in this county. No man who is opposed to the Sub-Treasury Scheme can support Porter.

Resolved, That our cordial gratitude and heart felt wishes for the happiness of our late beloved Gen. Andrew Jackson, are hereby tendered; and that his successor, Martin Van Buren, may continue to follow in his footsteps.

Resolved, That the course of our representative, the Hon. Edward B. Hubley, in the Congress of the United States, meets with our hearty approbation, as does the votes of the Democratic delegation from Pennsylvania in regard to the measures, divorcing the Banks from the government.

Porter's friends in Huntingdon County propounded several questions to the Editor of the Huntingdon Journal, through the Advocate, all of which the editor fairly and candidly answered—and in return propounded the following questions to the friends of Porter to answer. They cannot—THEY DARE NOT ANSWER THEM.

SHINNY ON YOUR OWN SIDE. We have "come to the point," and in order not to be behind our neighbors, we shall propose a few definite propositions, and such as admit of definite answers, yeas or nays.

1. When David R. Porter "took the bible in his hand," and swore that he had returned all his goods and chattels, did he include in his schedule all the notes, bonds, deeds, &c., delivered into the hands of John Stonebraker? Let the answer be yeas or nays.

2. Did he include the debts due Patton and Porter on their books, and which he collected, after his insolvency?

3. Did not David R. Porter give into the hands of John Stonebraker, property amounting to thousands of dollars before he took the benefit; and did he not receive a great portion of it back after he got through?

4th. Did he not take the account books of Patton and Porter, without "leave or license," and hide them in such a place that he could go and draw off the accounts; and did he not do so? And did he not afterwards take them into his own possession, and has he not got them now?

5th. Did not David R. Porter place in the office of the court a schedule of his debts, and property? if age, where is it?

6th. Why is that schedule destroyed, if it be not to destroy the evidence of the claims against him; and also the evidence that he did not return the property, in Beaver county, and the property in John Stonebraker's hands.

7th. Has he refused to satisfy any obligation drawn by him previous to his insolvency?

8th. Did he ever as the clerk of the orphan's court, take a fee of 17.44? if age for what duties could he claim such a fee in that instance?

9th. Has he ever paid the Huntingdon Bank the judgments obtained against him—or did the Bank "spunge out" the claim, because they did not think it good for anything?

10th. Is David R. Porter in favor of the Sub Treasury?

11th. Is he the advocate of Martin Van Buren, and his Treasury Skin Plasters?

12th. Did he not vote that stock holders should not be personally liable for all debts and liabilities of the bank?

13th. Is he not a stockholder in the Exchange Bank? and does not that account for it?

14th. Did he not vote in favor of a bill which if passed, would have increased the state debt, millions of dollars.

15th. Has David R. Porter resigned his seat in the Senate.

16th. Did not David R. Porter take 96 DOLLARS court fees for issuing two orders of the Orphans Court, in the case of Henry Darsy's orphans. If age, please point to his power to do so in the law book.

17th. When the guardian of those children proposed charging for his services, $500, did not David R. Porter, advise him to charge double the amount—assuring him that the heirs would not complain?

The above plain questions bring fairly and fully to issue a few of the charges against Mr. Porter. They must have definite answers, yeas or nays. We have profounded them, not alone for the people, but for the various editors of the "Advocate," not merely to be read but to be answered; and they shall remain at the head of our columns until definitely answered, and we shall continue to increase the number until we get through with the whole catalogue. If they are answered, we shall endeavor to get the right kind of "evidence" to show what the true answer to them should have been; "come up to the point."

"The Ritner men are striving to damage the private character of Gen. Porter, and it would seem not without success. We don't approve of this kind of warfare unless the cause be a flagrant one.—New Yorker.

We are as much opposed to this kind of warfare as any one, but this cause is a flagrant one, a most flagrant one, and the Ritner men are using every honest means to prevent a man whose private character and political principles are equally infamous, from ever being Governor of Pennsylvania. Passing over, for the present, the minor morals of Mr. Porter, we ask our readers to peruse the evidence of his dishonesty which may be found in another column. Imagine a highwayman robbing a poor man of a considerable sum of money, and then offering to return a small portion for a certificate of character! Under all the circumstances of the case, Mr. Porter's conduct in this matter was as mean a piece of villainy as we ever heard of. That such a man should be ever thought of as a candidate for Governor is one of the miserable effects of that party discipline which renders thousands subservient to the will of a few leaders at Washington.—Allegheny Express.

More Backing Out.—The Cincinnati Republican, which has been for years one of the ablest and most zealous advocates of Jackson and Van Buren in the country, holds this language: "There is no longer a loop upon which to hang a hope" that Mr. Van Buren will ever change his policy. He has been warned and forewarned—he has been implored and admonished—but to no purpose. He has resolved to sink or swim with his favorite measures notwithstanding their rejection by congress; and by the universal execration of the people which they have elicited. We cannot, therefore, go with him; we cannot longer oppose his measures, and go for the man. Our opposition to the former would be neutralized by the support of the latter. No man of reflection can long occupy a position of this kind."

Accident.—We regret to learn, from the Exchange Books, that our Collector GEORGE WOLF, Esq. was thrown from his carriage, near Bedford Springs, on Tuesday, by which accident his arm was broken. We understand he was on his return from the Springs.

TOUJOURS LA TIENNE. To E. E. T.

"Toujours la tiennne." Yes I am now Those words of love I seem to hear, As when in love's deep trusting, you First breath'd them in my listening ear.

"Toujours la tiennne." Though long years Have crush'd our once bright hopes of love, There still is joy in memory's tears, Even though its bliss been anguish prov'd.

"Toujours la tiennne." Could the past Speak its full volumes in thine ear, 'Twould tell thee this poor love doth last To pray for thee when none is near.

"Toujours la tiennne." Oh when care Across my soul hath spread her wings, Thy words have shed sweet fragrance there, And cheer'd with hope life's faltering springs.

"Toujours la tiennne." Didst thou know The love I've board'd up for thee Through sorrow, toil, despair and woe In joys bright hour, when smiles were free.

Think'st thou more, thy soul would gaze Far back the stream of time, and view The thrilling joy's of early days, When thoughts were kind, when love was true.

And once again, past Sabbath hours, The friends of yore, now severed wide, Would rise upon thy thoughts, with power To make thee weep at ev'ning.

"Toujours la tiennne." Aye, while life Shall animate this lone, full heart, Thy voice shall hush earth's sizzling strife, Nor from my soul shall e'er depart. Philadelphia, Aug. 9, 1838. DUKE.

FOR THE MINERS' JOURNAL. A FRAGMENT.

She knelt upon the marble steps that led Up to the altar; her hands were clasped in prayer; Her wearied spirit in its deep agony unburthened To her God, she scur'd that mortal ear Should hear her tale of sorrow; none knew save one.

And with that one she in her youth had gone Unto a far off clime; had watched beside his bed, And loved the death damp from his marble brow; And wip'd as scarce a woman bath ever lov'd; Lov'd wildly, madly, and devotedly.

Had sacrific'd each's happiness, her own, And all for him. A father's curse, Haunted her footsteps; sorrow and sickness, Misery and want, assailed her; and she had come Unto her native home, to throw herself upon her knees.

And ask forgiveness of her sire; he too was numbered With the dead—he too had gone, and with his daughter's name.

Upon his lips he died; she had hither come To pray unto her Heavenly Father For forgiveness; and now she knelt And with a burning heart disclosed her sorrow, And He, the hearer of all woes, listened from his high throne;

And in the stillness of the midnight hour, His "still small voice" was heard; breathing her comfort; And bidding her be calm, she listened and drank In the deep and sacred meaning of his words, And with a holy stillness in her heart she rose, For she was comforted. Pottsville, August 8th, 1838.

Most True.—The New York Evening Post, a regular and consistent Loco Foco paper, says:—"We are sick, as Charles Lamb would say, of perpetual Biddle. But what can we do?"

Aye, there is the rub—what can the party do? They succeeded by a most infamous course, in preventing the renewal of the charter of the United States Bank, by their perpetual cry of Biddle rule, Biddle power, Biddle Bank, &c. &c.—and when the people of Pennsylvania granted a charter—Biddle-corruption and Biddle-triumph were sounded until the ear ached with the infamous sounds. But, the Government having wasted its treasury, spent and squandered its income, found itself unable to pay its pensions. The United States Bank was appealed to, and Biddle! Biddle! Biddle! saved them from the disgrace of protested drafts in favor of the old soldiers and their widows. The Starlings of the Loco Foco press again bid Biddle! Biddle! Biddle!—and the members of Congress echoed the sound, shaking their Jackson coats as accompaniment. But again the Government went dry—again she is distressed—again, she applies for aid, and again she is relieved. Well may the Loco Foco exclaim, what can we do? The Post is sick of perpetual Biddle—so were the Athenians sick of hearing the perpetual cry of Aristides! Aristides! Aristides the Just. But what could they do?—Ostracize him?—U. S. Gazette.

Prenticeana.—The negroes are wide awake in Philadelphia, and the Whigs are awake with them.—Southern Mercury.

The Whigs may be awake with the negroes, but the Vanites prefer sleeping with them. Don't they, Col. Johnson.—Prentice.

"Prentice promises, if Henry Clay be elected President, to charge the mammoth cave of Kentucky with powder, to the very muzzle, and shake the earth and sea with the explosion.—Mississippi paper. Should he ever attempt such a thing we hope he will give the people sufficient warning to enable them to "flee to the mountains."—Gallatin (Tenn.) U. S. News.

Certainly. And, as you are said to be duplecked, and cannot run fast, you may as well commence your fight now.—Prentice.

Political Prospects in Missouri.—The St. Louis Bulletin slip of the 30th ult. says—"There never was a time when our hopes of success were better found than at present. Every Whig seems apprized of the importance of the contest, and the most of them are resolved to do their duty. We have been victorious in almost every other State, and if we conquer here, the battle will have ended, and our triumph be complete. The Van Burenites are well convinced of this fact, and hence their great but we trust unavailing exertions.

UNION AND HARMONY.

The Van Buren conferees, from the counties of Westmoreland and Indiana, Pa., met in Blairsville, in the latter county, on the 30th ult. pursuant to adjournment at a former meeting, for the purpose of nominating a candidate to represent that district in the 26th Congress. Their proceeding is a tolerable illustration of the union that exists among the old Wolf and Muhlenberg divisions of the party—among "the two democratic parties" of Pennsylvania, as the Richmond Enquirer had it. According to the Westmoreland Republican, the delegates from the "sovereign" county of Indiana refused to go to convention, unless permitted to have the same number of delegates as Westmoreland, which has a third more voters than Indiana. This was not "permitted" by the delegates of Westmoreland. The result of this "harmony not understood" was, that two Van Buren candidates were nominated in the district, instead of one. Albert G. Marchand by the Westmoreland delegates, and Richard B. McCabe, by those from Indiana. These divisions in the democratic ranks," remarks a Van Buren paper of Pennsylvania, "are greatly to be deplored." Yes, indeed. They are not exactly the sort of "union and harmony" that can afford to the party a pre-erage of success.

Caution.—We are indebted to Mr. BICKNELL for the following information. Office of the Counterfeit Detector, } 76 south Third st.—Aug. 10, 1838.

New Counterfeit.—This public are cautioned against receiving spurious notes purporting to be on the Harrisburg Bank. Pa. of the denomination of Ten Dollars, a number of which were successfully passed in this city, this morning. They are signed H. Walters, Cashier, and Thos. Elder, President. Paper thin and flimsy. The vignette of the spurious notes is that of a steamboat, rail road cars, &c. The genuine ten dollar notes of this Bank have a vignette of the Goddess of Liberty, and a distant view of the capitol of the State. By noticing this fact the counterfeiters can readily be detected.

A considerable number, said to be a majority, of the members of Congress from the Western States, without distinction of party, have addressed a very spirited protest and appeal to the President of the United States, in regard to the subordinate character of the station assigned to J. N. REYNOLDS, Esq. in the Exploring Expedition that is about to sail. Of Mr. Reynolds' claim to a prominent post in the enterprise none can for a moment doubt who are aware of the active part taken by that gentleman from its commencement up to the present time. With untrifling zeal and great intelligence, Mr. R. has ever been actively engaged in aiding the project, and no man deserves better than he to be a participator in the honors growing out of it.

It is whispered about town, that another of Mr. Porter's "warmest and most enthusiastic friends," as the 84 signers said of David R. Porter's old claimants, has sent the commonwealth after David. Wonder if he will pay up. These old debts are "gerry annoying, werry"—Huntsgton Journal.

The rent of the Astor House, New York, is estimated at seven cents a minute—$4 20 cts. per hour.

NORTH CAROLINA ELECTION.

We have received the Raleigh Register of Monday which furnishes a few additional returns from North Carolina. The whole interest of the election will turn on the Legislature. There is no doubt of the re-election of Gov. Dudley, by a majority of about ten thousand.

Our account this morning showed a whig loss in the Legislature of two. We have further accounts of a loss of another member in Granville county, and a gain in Johnston. In Newbern, in Craven county, the Whig candidates had received upwards of a hundred majority, and the probability is that they have succeeded in the county. Last August at the Congressional election, Chas. Shepard (W.) had a majority of 112 in the town of Newbern and 75 in the county. The Senator no doubt will be Loco Foco. In 1836 the Van Burenites elected their candidates. Should the Whigs succeed, no doubt it will offset their loss in Halifax. In the Senatorial district composed of Washington and Tyrrel counties, the Whigs have elected their candidate—same as last Legislature.

LEGISLATURE. 1838. Whig. L. Foco. Whig. L. Foco.

Table with 4 columns: County, Whig, L. Foco, Whig, L. Foco. Rows include Beaufort, Columbus, Edgecombe, Halifax, Northampton, Pitt, Warren, Washington, Wayne, Johnston, Granville, Hyde, Franklin.

We learn that Dr. SIMMONS, of West Hanover township, Dauphin county, has been nominated by the Dauphin county Antismasonic Convention as a candidate for Congress to represent that district. He can beat Simon Cameron, the Cashier, more than fifteen hundred votes.—Leb. Courier.

The Porter men of Erie, Crawford and Venango have nominated John Galbraith for Congress, in the place of Mr. Plummer, the present incumbent. The Erie Gazette states that there was great want of "Union and Harmony" in the convention, and that the Venango delegates withdrew, after finding that a majority were opposed to Mr. Plummer.

Mr. Dick is the opposing candidate and will be elected by a handsome majority.

Oh! For a Hobby.

A hobby! a hobby! before 'tis too late; A hobby that can be relied on, Is just now wanted in the Keystone State, For the Loco Foco to ride on.

We find the old hobbies we've rode heretofore, Will no longer do for our masters, As "Benton's mint drops"—the dear laboring poor.— And Ritner's destroyed our Shipplasters.

We think abjectly the best we can get, But are almost sorry we've tried it; For it bears so heavy and hard on the bit, There's no Loco Foco can guide it.

And our own broad amalgamation saddle Our seats does most wofully gall, sirs; And its gait such a dull, forced waddle, It scarcely moves forward at all, sirs.

For a hobby we'll pay in treasury notes, Any amount to the inventor; To ride through the State to get Davy votes, And cash too, to bet and to banter.

Then oh! for a hobby, regardless of cost, That Locos with safety may stride on; Or the Keystone State will be utterly lost, For want of a hobby to ride on. Chester Cy. Register.

Specie Payments.—The Lancaster Journal is at a loss to understand what the people of other states have to do with the Specie Proclamation of Governor Ritner. The sharp-eyed Editor of the Journal will take the trouble to read the notices taken of this Proclamation in his exchange papers, he will then see that JOSEPH RITNER is now looked upon throughout the whole Union as the deliverer of the people from the plague of Shamplasters, and the restorer of GOLD and SILVER.—Union.

Another Porter Argument Exploded.—Some of the Porter men are making heavy calculations on electing their candidate, because Martin Van Buren beat Gen. Harrison in this State something like 4,000 votes, carefully avoiding the fact that Mr. Ritner's vote in 1835 was nearly 3,000 over that of Mr. Van Buren in 1836. The vote stood For Mr. Ritner 94,025 For Mr. Van Buren 91,473 Ritner's majority, 2,552

From the New York American. The Great Western Steam ship Company have taken steps to increase its capital from $250,000 to $1,000,000. They have contracted for the immediate building of three large and splendid steam ships, to run between Cork and New York in conjunction with the British Queen; they are to be christened President, Great Britain, and United States. The keel of the President has been already laid; she is to measure 2028 tons.

The Spanish Queen.—This stupendous steam ship, commanded by Capt. Roberts, formerly of the Sirius, arrived at Port Glasgow, and has gone into dock, where she is to receive her machinery. The Queen was towed into Plymouth, from Gravesend, by the Vulture steamer. Between these places she had foul winds. At Plymouth the Vulture left, and the Queen then came round by the Land's End herself in fine style, carrying all sail, and beating every vessel in her way, especially a French brig which attempted to compete with her for some time. Having arrived at the tail of the bank early on Saturday morning, she was towed into the wet dock at eleven by the samson-steamer, the top of whose funnel it was observed, just reached the top of the queen's paddle box. It is thought she will not be ready to sail as early as announced, and that the Tiger will take her place.

Pennsylvania Anthracite Coal is said to be much more advantageous for Steam Navigation than the bituminous, its bulk being two fifteenths less than the latter, and its carbon fifteen per cent greater; the duplicate advantage is thus full twenty five per cent. in favour of the Pennsylvania mine. Anthracite coal too burns devoid of smoke and sparks.

When a Chinese wife is ancient, the husband hires a musical band to entertain her, but the infant may be of a harmonious disposition. In Europe, ladies in that situation are sometimes said to give themselves airs enough without any such assistance.

Dr. Campbell, the author of the Survey of Great Britain, was so absent, than looking once into a pamphlet in a bookseller's shop, he liked it so well that he purchased it; and it was not till he had read it full through, that he discovered it to be his own composition. This anecdote of himself he told David Hume.

The loco loco, of the extreme school, have called a meeting in the city of New York to declare their opposition to Gov. Marey, and to take measures to defeat his re-election.

The cost of the Florida War, as per Gen. Jessup's report, is only $2,000,000; the whole number of Indians killed and captured, is only 2400; not that each warrior, negro, squaw and papoon, killed or taken, cost us $8300! What a bright page in our history that Florida war will be! Oh!

HAY'S LINIMENT. No Fiction.—This extraordinary chemical composition, the result of science and the invention of a celebrated medical man, the introduction of which to the public was "invented with the solemnity of a death bed bequest," has since gained a reputation unparalleled, fully justifying the correctness of the lamented Dr. Gridley's last confession, that "he dared not die without giving to posterity the benefit of his knowledge on this subject," and he therefore bequeathed to his friend & student Solomon Hays, the secret of his discovery.

For Dropsy.—Creating extraordinary absorption at once.

All Swellings.—Reducing them in a few hours. Rheumatism.—Acute or Chronic, giving quick ease.

Sore Throat.—By cankers, ulcers, or colds. Croup and Whooping Cough.—Externally, and over the chest.

All Bruises, Sprains and Burns, cured in a few hours. Swell and Ulcers.—Whether fresh or long standing and deep seated.

Its operations upon adults and children in reducing rheumatic swellings, & loosening coughs and tightness of the chest by relaxation of the parts, has been surprising beyond conception.—The common remark of those who have used it in the Piles, is—"It acts like a charm."

THE PILES.—The price is refunded to any person who will use a bottle of Hays' Liniment for the Piles, and return the empty bottle without being cured. There are the positive orders of the proprietor to the Agents; and out of many thousands sold, not one has been unsuccessful.
