Terms of Publication. Two Doll is per annum, payable semi-annual in dvance. If not paid within the year, $2 50 will be

Advertisements not exceeding twelve lines will be charged $1 for three intertions and 50 cents for one All advertisements will be insected until ordered antiunless the time for which they are to be continued in a pecified, and will be charged accordingly.

Yearly advertisers will be charged $12 per annum: Tharly advertisers will be charged $12 per annum: inchiding subscription is the paper—with the privilege of keeping one advertisence to die exceeding 2-squares standing during the year, and the insertion of a smaller one in each happy for three successive times. All latters addressed to the editor must be pout paid otherwise no attention will be paid to them All notices for meetings. Sc and other notices which have heretofore been inserted gratis, will be charged 25 cents each except Marriages and Deaths:

or Pamphlets, Che ks. Carde, Bills of Lading and Handbills of every description, neatly printed at this () fice at the lowest cash prices

From the New Yorker.

In the range of modern English poetry, it is rare to find an instance of grandeur, pathos and more melodious versification than the following hum. The last two lines of one of the standard renow supplied; they were never written, or were lost from the manuscript. It is unnecessary to designate them, father than by their informity to the remainder.

MARY.

BY JOHN LEYDEN. STAR of the wide and pathless sea Who low'st on mariners to shine.
These votive garments, wet to thee,
We hang within thy holy shrines.
When o'er us flashed the surging brine. Amid the warring waters toot.

We called no other name but thine, And hoped, when other hope was lost Aye Maris Stella Star of the vast and howling mun, When dark and lone is all the cky When dark and lone is all the sky.

And mountain waves o'er occas s plain,
Erect their stormy heads on high:
When virgins for their true loves sigh,
And ruse! their wee,ing eres to thee,
The Star of Ocean heeds their cry.
And saves the foundering 'ark at sea.
Ave Maris Stella'

Star of the dark and stormy sea,
When wrecking tempestar und us rave,
Thy gentle virgin form, we see,
Bright using o'er she hoary wave set The howling storm, that seem to crave Their victims, sink in music sweet, The surging waves recede to give The path beneath thy gistening feet. Ave Maris Stella Star of the desert waters wild. Who adving hears the seaman's cry. The Gold of hiercy ids a child. On that chiste cosoni loved to i.e; While soft the chorus of the say. Their hym is not to be rime of Sing. An I sign-volles have a sur-The mother of the heaver's king. Ave Maris Stella Star of the deep-at that it est name The waves size is next round the keet. The temposts wild be refer vione.

That made the deeds foundation's reel:
the soft received ground steal.
So soother through the redius of wo.
That spirits in afflueion feed. The waves siee i siler t round the keel Thy far-pervading count begove Av. Mark St. He.

Star of the mold and acid seas, Whom runters viewed mercy crown— Whose to be to the Persons, O'er shirts in the de the in own, O're de that to the description was.

With a present a soft and the election of the left,
And Heal on issue a soft and with mown,
(The Star of Ocean gar are to Lat.

And The Star of Ocean gar are to Lat.

Star of the deep, when why services

To bond by the view of the services.

In value morth, box, and a services.

To make a street means of the Mother of Control of the Tay They make the problem of the North Annual Control of the N the 1,899 post, and takes a min area of one caravas processes when passing 11 it pland, there tion is Soil tect tions 22 feet bineaes in height, is little doubt she went down in the form, in all und 39 feet in breadth.

Maland.

Example at New Yorkson Lamon 9 5 a (1 mer cent. primiu a.

settled, by which it is his posed, at "il vessels en- buieg in drive the wreck ashore :ed in the conversance of the sea as they water Cotton exems to be on the advance in Liver-in impossed by any other one one than saids or poor and togeton. We conversely a saids in Liver manual iabour. Stail not be employed without a post an assign to Ilitar Easy picts a shade higher heense, apport me i i i p . to every 100 thes. A great could business has been done in Glasgow heense, appendi me i i i i p . . . to every 100 tius, nor without pring a day, i i and me s sectas ever ery presented, o and been the rate of the for every four miles or fraction of four miles."

DUKE OF NORMANDY: -Reseller charged with attempting to assess that this person, was brought up and discharged at the request of the Diske, the gentheman having declared to prospente. A long correspondence was laid before the Magazintes real tive to the effair in which it was intimated Dake had "s of he used to make a sensation in this country and in France." The Dake returned dagistrates here atter, and entered into a long statement of his graveaux count to persecution he had saffered from his enemies in Char.table .- A new institution is about to be opened at the West-and of the metropoles, to afford the houseless poor a supper, but, breaklast, and medical assistance of required. The committee have appointed Mr. Charles Cor. e. of Margarette street, their med cal officer, and the list of subscrib. ers already includes the cutof of the nobinty and Important Loromatire Invention .- Mr. Coles, of Charing cross, has refently made considerable improvements in he oneity carriages, by which has reduced the triction two thirds whatever weight shock of an earthquake, was he may have to prop ! The model of the carriages is shewn, which will carry an immense weight, mounted on large autilitietion wheels, whereon the friction is reduced so materially, that eix ounces when fastened to a string passing over a polley, and by that means attached to the currence, with only four anti-driction wheels will propel a weight of 67lbs; with eight wheels, three onness will effect the same object; whilst without the auti-riction wheels the same weight will not be found sufficient to propel the empty carriage reelf, although that weighs only eleven pounds; seven times greater, weight is required to propel the jongrings with the lond; and louble that in maintain the saver velocity as when the anti-friction wheel are put on

More Warlike Preparations. - The Board of Admirality have issued orders to commission the Acheron, a splended first cass scanner, lately launched from Steerness, and, of 130 horse power The Salamander steam-frigate, one of the largest steamers in the Royal Navy, is to be immedia cly commissioned. The Acheron and Spittire are des tined for the Mediterape in station.

ed a tithe schedoles (let his state of the million) at the Castle. It is a produced that he is to leave Dar. tion will begin in earnest.

have resolved to take hip the question of I than rail-ways, in order that such may be undertaken queer

Military, -The total rank and file of the army in Ireland for November, is as follows, viz artillery 812; cavalry 1859; infantry 13,247. Total 15,818, Outrage. -On Tuesday evening, Mr. Charles en opulent landholder, and brewer and tanner, resident in Thurles, was shot, when about fitty yards from his own house. The ball, fired coal raised in B from a pistol, entered his left shoulder; and he expired in a few minutes. Mr. O'Keeffe was a Roman ore found in

The Music State of the AND POTTSVILLE GENERAL ADVERTISER.

Published Weekly by Benjamin Bannan, Pottsville, Schuylkill County, Pennsylvania.

will teach you to pierce the bowels of the Earth and bring out from the Caserne of the Monstains, Metala which will give strength to our Hands and subject all Nature to for me and pleasure. In JOHNSE

VOL. XV.

SATURDAY MORNING, JANUARY 26, 1839.

Masked Ball."

Catholic, but had irritated the peasantry by ejecting me tenents on an estate managed, for non pay Railroads .- A deputation from the Committee ar lives of one of the star zas are now supplied (they were never written, or were lost from the manuscript. It is innecessary to designate them, father than by their inferority to the remainder.

PORTUGUESE HYMN TO THE VIRGIN | Plan for a minimum trunk and branches, differing materials. rially from those recommended by the Commissioners, and not interfering with any Company already The sum required to establish these £3, 000,600 and the proposition of the Committee is that it be raised by one-third in subscriptions, one third from Parliament, and one third from the coun-ties. Lord Morphet said he thought the proposi-

Tuhe Act. The Tithe Act Commissioners cofor lodging memorials praying for remission of the former advance from the mittion Fund. Immediately and the mittion Fund. ately on the inceting of Parliament, a short bill will be introduced, authorising a distribution of the restdue of the Million, and this measure will pass through in a few days. The Ecclesiastical Commissioners have been called on to repay One Hundred Thousand pounds borrowed for them by the Board of Works from the million, and, should the sum go back to the F. nd, the Tithe Owners will receive tenantlings in the pound, on the arrears of English Tea .- Yesterday the Mayor received the Engine yea.— resecting the mayor receives me following commonication from the dinaia blouse, London, copyoing a sample of his, grown in the newly acquired territory Assam where large forests of the precious plant are found, and possessing a degree of strength and flavour, fullyl equal, it not superior, to the tea imported from China :-

"Mr. Gorden presents his compliments to the Mayor of Limerick. By direction of $1r John Hou house, he has for honor of sending to him a comple of tea, grown in British India, with a hiemorundum explanatory of the measures taken to improve the contrain a pid manufacture. Mr. Gordon will be happy to receive any communication du the subject from the Mayor of Limerick, or from any persons

Humanity - Captain Browne, late 9th Infantry, and a Magnerate of Downshire; has received a gold the discount of the Bloom sectioner, two and let October on the norther coast of Ire

SUUTLIND.

We also + Gramment is roudy to repeate tenders ier and event lebeliett, thirte-two points balle. Mes. And Gea d .- With regret we spinounce the d a conclus Lads at Lem carpinin her elin year, incrued kinen norks.

T e St ins - This steam or had nearly toundered on he vovage to Petersone the Norben Sea have the war one of the rock calling wife the water was two her on her nobe, but for anytely for the passible is get sete into Copenhagon.] T'e Natie a Yacht Steamer, a preliended lies of the about the mean among pear haft seriou coal on take a seal which is completed and cop security of about high y fact right The North-The France Transaction of the conditions to the residence of the condition of the condition propability not far from the apol where the was cast Proposed Bill for steam Vessels .- The heads of a lune A suff gale from the S. E., has prevailed on be brought to the Parlament have been the coast for several days, and has, no doubt, contricuring the test three weeks, in consequence of a rise with lets expected to take place in a great quantity has changed hands in Giasgow duing the above period at steady prices

Poland .- A Glasgow paper states that a conspiracy has been discovered in Poland and in the westcen governments; and that the ringleader whose the number of 15, are in prison at Wilna. The Emis for has ores o distant all the property, feal and perimmediately sequestrated, and illived under the care of the crown; and that measure is to be applied not in only to these persons who are now under arrest, but all others who in the course of the investigation shall be accused and found guilty. persons arrested there are several, it is said connec ed with taufilies of the highest respectability.

I sail Shells - Splendid specunens of lossil shells have been bound in the Mailtraeth Colliery in An-shock of an earthquake, was all at Kingston. In after the speek. The winds was east, with a dense log infermometer ranging 35, and the baron.

Education.—Six proprietors of Fectores in Mont. gomerwhire have lately been convicted in different penalties, under the provisions of the gradiery Bill, 3d, and 4th, Win IV, principally under the section or neglecting to educate the children in their employ. The humane intertoils of her Majeste's Government have at length reaged the Principality, and the scions of Cambria have equal protections

Antiquities .- An ancient silver spoon, supposed to be made in the reign of Elizabeth, was repently found in making some alterations in that ancient building, the Feathers Inn, Ludlow and some time since a silver medal was found at the same the obverse of which was the whole length spot, on the obverse of which figures on each side, and the inscription "obit 20 March,"—Henrius IV. Rex "—On the neverse, the Reyslamp, surround. ed with the matto "Honi soit qui mal y pense," and on the outer run-Buried at Capterbucy""Reigned xiv years." The mipal was him, and 21

Kidusette - The Tin Works at this place have been taken by Hugh H. Dowman, late of Carmer-

Lanelly.-The works of the railway and dock company, will be completed by the lat of May ternative layers of a fellow or reddish sandstone With clayer thatter in the turn of derk brown slates. of a cotter nature than the primary slate, used for reoffing, and called clay shale; and sometimes from their being mixed with bitominous shale. Between those beds of bituminous matter and shale the coal scains are interposed. Coal varies considerably in bitumin it contains, and is more or less valuable for economical purposes according to the admixture of this substance. The quantity of coal raised in British isles in very considerable, and great deal of her commercial prosperity; for to the abundance and cheapness of both these substances in various districts we are indebted for a large for mas:, have only to contend with the waters in it so difficult and expensive that the extraction of

POTTSVILLE. Saturday Morning, Jan. 26

ITEMS. Georgia .- A recent census makes the population of this state 662,173. Delaware -Owing to the composition of the two ranches of the Legislature, it is altogether possible that no election of Senator of the United States will | cried some of the most venture some. he made at the present session of the Legislature of that State.

Mr. Lane, of Gloucester, one of the State Sena. trod on a picce of orange peel; his foot slipped and he fell down fracturing his leg in two places.

Effects of Benton's Message. - A special election to fi' a vacancy in the Senate, was held week before list, in Randolph County, Missouri, which resulted in the election of a decided Wing, by a majority of m) bee-way !" x votes. Two years ago, the Loco Foco majority in this county was 204.

The Hon John Van Ness Yates, died at Albany at the age of saty. He was Secretary of State undefend King and Country." der De Witt Clinton.

Non Committal.-The Wellsville (Ohio) Adver-William Henry Harreson arrayed at the head or his ! editorial columns, which he revolves once a week, and thus clianges the relative position of the three. Cold Enough - On the morning of Dec. 31st, the bermometer at Bangor, Maine, st

Massachusetts .- Another trial for the election of a member of Congress in the 4th district, is to be made on the first Monday in February.

Awful -We understand, says the N. Y. Whig, that the United States Marshall has received instructions to watch the Royal William from her arrival until her departure, to prevent any more of the sub-treasurers from practicing flocation in office .-Who watches the marshall?

The Sub-Treasury in Illinois .- In the House, of Representatives of Illinois on the 11th inst., a reso. lution was adopted declaring that it was inexpedient to pass a law providing for the collection and keeping of the revenue of the State in gold and silver exclusively .- The vote was 79 aves to 9 noes -The Sub Treasury has no hold in the thriving state

"Incidents of Travel."-The regiower of Ste American, says that "a person, favored by circumstances, may reach Mount Calvary thirty three days after leaving Broadway. Thirteen days may take him to Bristol, two to Paris, three to Marsailles, ten to Syria, four to Jaffa, and one from there to Standing armies. - The largest in the world is kept up by the Chinese; it amounts to 1,200,000 men.-Russia has 650,000 men continually under arms, and France 310,000. The army of the United Kingdom to upwards of 90,000.

Russia .- The Emperor has directed the temales of his tainily to become school-mistresses, and accordingly a number of schools are to be formed in St. Petersburg, over which they are to preside.

Temperance.- In consequence of the failure of the harvest in Sweden the Government of that ountry issued a Royal proclamation on the 10th ult., prohibiting the distilling of spirits from corn or the next two months.

Lead.—Gov. Dodge, says that upwards of ten nullion possible of lead, are sent annually from the mines of Wisconsin.

Sir John Herschel, has been raised to the rank of Baronet. From his astronomical discoveries, we should think him a candidate for the star chamber. An Ice Bout at Philadelphia, succeeds in keeping he channel of the Delaware, free from it.

James the Noveliet, has published six stories called a "Book of Passions" said to be in his best style-Commercial Credit .- Two millions of protested bills against the U.S. sent out for collection, by the Bank of England, have all been paid except about Frank Johnson, and his Band, were mistaken in England tot a tribe of American Indiana, of which Frank, was chief.

Poetry and Sculpture .- A tobacconist in New York has for a sign a representation of three figures severally employed, as described by the following graphic lines :

We three Brothers be. In one cause the section of the Maria of the section of the sect And I chame wall set just The Bits of Mining. It is started that upwards of $3,000 letters and received in N. Y. by the recent Liverpest and London packets. The Royal William alone brought 8,000.

John Van Buren, was in Dablin, on the 6th Dec. the guerfof-Lord Morpeth.

*DRAMATIC TALE.

WRITTLY FOR THESMINERS JOURNAL Gustavus of Sweeden FATAL PROPHECY!

From the celebrated opera of «timutavus or the "Phoughts black! hands apt! Drugs ht, and time agreeing !" 'Mad form, and silks, and jewels sheen, And terrs, and suits, and jor on since in,

He stood in sample Ladcoin green,
The centre of the glittering ring.
And Snowden's knight, is Scotland's King!
Lady of the Lake.

Unipter I-The Hovel of the Sorceress.

All the gay and curious, of the great City of Stockholm, were assembled in the spacious, but dingy apartment of the Sorceress Arvedson, which was situated on one of the streets fronting the port. A motly group, composed her audience: nobles, sailors, peers and peasants; were alike led either by currosity or superstition, to have the fate of the dark future read to them. In the centre of the hovel, was creet d a hearth of massy stones, and a blazing fire burned under a cauldron, into which Arvedson was scattering wherbs of magic power," as she was treading the mystic circle, and muttering her caballistic meantations. The smoke rose in thick clouds to the rafters, and added to the gloom of the scene, as the mistress of the orgies, stood waving her wand to comband silence, with the imposing dignity of one, who knew the strong hold she had over their superstitious fears.

"Our fortunes! our fortunes! tell us our fortunes "Back, idiots, and await my will: neither the time, or spell has yet been attained!"

"Avast paying out your cable there," bawled out a strong, athletic, middle aged sailor, as he elbowed tors from Esses, passing down street, in Boston his way through the press, and more of your jawing tack, out make way for a King's sailor-I want to know what fortune is going to give me-she and the King are both in my debt. For eighteen years I've had nothing but wounds, bruises, and splin ers, and now I wants to know if I'm ever likely to make up Show me your hand."

"What! you want to overhand my grappiers do you! well if I'd know that, I'd washed them; but there it is, the hand that has always been ready to

"That's a brave fellow, Oscar!" remarked a young man, also in a sailor's garb, but of almost feminine t ser, has the names of Henry Clay, Daniel Webster, delicacy of appearance, and addressing a mere lad, who by his dress was an attendant on some noble of rank. The page made a whispered reply, as the Sorceress again addressed the old sailor. -It would seem, that your King has been unjust ta you ---

"Avast there! old mother of Belzebub! I never said that, never thought it, Lord love his noble soul! unjust to me! why he never owed me any thing; all I had was his, and if my life could at any time be of service to him, why I'd think no more of it, than I would of a mouldy biscuit, or a bit of salt junk!" "Your hand again" said Arvedson. She perused the lineaments of his palm and then added." Your King will yet reward you, you shall roll in wealth! ... What, shall I though! shiver my timbers! Poll and I don't go to church next Sunday! and she shall carry such a jolly pennant flying from her masthead! my eyes! roll in wealth! I'll swim in punch for a month!" "Nay more" continued the Sorceress, after having allowed his first gush of feeling to subside," you shall have a nobleank.

ARank! you don't mean that I'm to mount the gingerbread swabs on my shoulders, do you!" "I mean the rank of naval officer."

hat, have command of a ship, walk the quarter deck, and perhaps take an enemy's vessel! you don't mean that, do you! Lord love your old soul I must have a buss, if you were the ugliest old witch in Christendom." And suiting the action to the word, the tar threw his arms around her neck, and kissed her so hard, that it sounded like the report of fire arms. "There now, I'll give you the last shot in my l

So saying, he thrust his hand into his capacious jacket-opined it and as an immense chantity of gold met his gaze, he could only signify his astor ishment—by exclaiming "my eyes! what the devil does all this bean!"

"What's its matter, shipmate!" asked the young sailor before referred to.

"Matter enough!" replied he show the devil did all these yellow loys come here, and what's this writing! grape shot and canister! if it isn't a combrave comrade Chaptian, commander of the royal brig Gustatus Vasa. Smash my bulwarks! if I understand all this! I commander of a royal brig! only let me get within gan shot of the enemy, and see if any navy can boust a better sailor than honest old Christian!" His joy was arrested by a loud knock at one of the side doors of the apartment.

"Away na," explaimed the Sorreress, "my Mistress the Countess of Ankarstman approaches, to know the secret of her fate. Away! the gift, the hour have for the present passed! at midnight you may again consult me." At this summons, they all left the mireent, except the young earlor, who incited perhaps by a curi-osity to behold the most beautiful of Sweden's dames, hid in a roces, unseen by all. As the crowd disappeared, Arvedson opened the side door and a fenale of dazzling and surpassing heauty entered the precincts of the magic chamber. Alarmed and agiseat.

"Compose yourself and inform me why you are the state of the state of "If your art is as great, as tis reported, you need sted, she glanged hastily around, and then sank on not ask of me.".

"It requires but little art, to read the secret of those wildly gleaming eyes that heaving breast that palpitating heart tir love that agitates your bo-sum and second second the formers, it still second the formers, it still second the formers, it still second the formers in the former in the formers in the former in the formers in the former in the formers in the former i mankind and directly be unfoly, meant tioned by mankind, and griend by her un't have no which bows me to the grave! never shall my humband be dishonored! From you I seek aid—does you, are include a spell which may ellay this efriggle the spell o preserve my faith and bonor !

15

NO. 4.

"I know a drink," replied Arredson, and this maddening influence may be controlled."

"Object it me," cried the Countess throwing erself at her feet, "give it me, and all my worldly wealth shall be yours."

"Without the city walls, a dark sectuated spot sustains the fearful instrument of death to criminals devoted. In this place, by men abhored and dreaded, the usingled forms and mouldering skeletons of those who have died on the gallows, hang on the fatal frames, creaking in the midnight blast, as though still uttering the shricken of torment! There, this very night-you must repair slow at midnight to Ha! you turn pale, you cannot endure the trai!" "Yes, yes, I have the courage: I will bear all, rather than endure this agony of torment." "Under that gibbet, there grows a wondrous her there and there only; nurtured in blood, and was tered by the tests of crime! this you must gather, but as you root it dp, shrink not to head an awfulleep heaved groan, as though the sterile spot, felt to agony at yielding the only treasure it can boast-can'st thou endure it?" "I can! I can and will: honor and duty call, I will obey." vill obey."

"Away then to thy pulace, bring me the here to norrow, and all shall yet be well. Away, the rabble are impatient of restraint, and clamor for entrance."

Thus saying, the witch led the Countess Ankardrom to the door at which she entered, and the unhappy wife left the apartment. Closing the door afer her, Arvedson withdrew the bolt from the main entrance, and the crowd again entered.

Added to some of the group who had before sought he assistance of the Enchantress, were now to be distinguished some dozen nobles, wrapped in their capacions furs and cloaks, who on their entrance looked with evident marks of distrust about the apart ment. Apparently the result did not please them, as the following detached dialogue would intimate. "Curses on him, Dehorn, he has again escaped "Where, Voralberg, can he have hid himself?" "Are our friends all ready !" .. Tes."

"Will they all strike !"

"Yes, for liberty !"

"Be cautious then, we may yet encounter him." In the mean time the young sailor, who had been silent, but not unattentive spectator of the interview between Arvedson and the Countess, had mingled with the group, and now pressing forward to the Sorceress, addressed her thus, orceress, addressed ner thus,
"Come venerable Sypil, tell me, sailor as I am, what will be my fate in love-shall it be blest ! what s my estate and calling?"

He held, out his hand to Arvedson, who after razing at it attentively and minutely, replied. "If I mistake not this is a warrior hand, to whom ne sword is not a atranger." "Proceed!"

"Ask me no further!" "And why not!" "You will not like no hear your fate."

"Were it that of demons, I would not she

"You are about to die !" "If in battle, I had that fate with rapture !"

"You will fall by an assaurin's hand!" "Know you the hand that shall attempt my life!" "The very first that you shall grasp this day in riendship! " Ha! ha! ha!" laughed the merry sailor, noth-riends-tis a good joke, and we will enjoy it! here is my hand, who will refuse it ? come give this canting oracle the lie!" As all shrunk back, with an instinctive dread. the effects of the prophecy, the door opened, and tail and commanding personage entered. As soon ng daunted by this appalling announcement, "come as the speaker saw him, he seemed to forget the object of his query, but rushing to him and shaking his hand beartily exclaimed,

"What has detained my good friend !" "The Count Ankarstrom is the doomed one! cried the crowd.

"Nay not so," replied the seeming Sailor, "for now I am sure I press the hand of a friend! do l not Ankarstrom ? ' "Long live your majesty, to prove it so!" exclain ed the Count, sinking at his feet! . . . "How, the King !" exclaimed the Sorceress.

"Aye Arvedson, your King," said Gustavus, for i was that unfortunate but lively Monarch, "could not your art tell you that !" From the moment the King had come forward.

the nobles who had last entered, were holding whispered conversation together.
"When can fate offer a more tempting apportuni ty," said Dehorn.

"Now when disguised and defenceless let us write the blow," inswered Voralberg. "Ay! never can it be done with more safety urselves." Thus said, the conspirators, for such they were aiming at the destruction of the King, cautiously approached their victim. But they were to be foiled! the crowd without, had heard that their beloved monarch was present, and now rushed into the apartment, embracing his knees, and kissing the hom of the large cloak which the attentive page, Oscar, had thrown over his disguised master. Foremost in the rowd was the veteran sailor, Christian, who blubpering like a child, exclaimed, "It is himself! it is my King! God Mess him?" "Ah my noble commander," said Gustavus smiling how fires the Gustavus Vasa! Happy am Lin having been near you to reward your expire of attachment. The commission written haste, and with a pencil, shall be drawn out in full and with it a purse of royal guineas for thy withful Poll !"

"Huzza! huzza! Long live the King," cried the ssembled multitude in one long, glad shout!

"Ankarstrom, your hand again! Christian your who now says that Gustavus will fall by the hand he grasps in friendship ! These are the surest safeguards of a monarch, his own integrity and his people's love! That is a rampart the assassin's steel can never penetrate!"

"God save the King," was again the joyous r sponse, sent forth by his adoring subjects !

Course II The Meeting ! the Discovery ! And doth make the meet it feeds on." Othello.

The spot, to which the Sorceross Arredson had ected the attention of the Counters Ankanstrom was every way fitted for its borrid ust A desole rien, empanded on all sides by rocky, essimences, ries of ground overed with more, comprisingers their tops in minense bar of from from which departed the livid corses of the malefactions who had been recombly excited; the cold, sinity moon, shiften on their pellid sequence agrees by bring?

As the midnight bell tolled and its situations recombly the sequence of a familiar echied through the glan (the figure of a familiar echied through the glan (the figure of a familiar with and faltering stage, from a charm in the period and nearly operation as had proposed the place of executions a road shudder run over her fame, and nearly operation which serror, the unadappy Amelia to Anticontrom sink serror, the unadappy Amelia to Anticontrom sink spon a bank.

Opers of mercy sentiar me, which their stages of mercy sentiar me, which their special familiar peaching there is not make their familiar for any beart let me suickly gain at, and having gamed it, I must bely these individed and iddined Granton to my beart but not also without a pane?

As all must bely these individed and iddined Granton to my beart but not also without a pane?

As all must be sought, aman suspection their shade, and encountered her! She abstract and bould have falled had give not maked forward in her support.

"And have I betrayed my secret weakness, then," faltered the poor Counters, at dare not meet your, faltered the poor Counters, at dare not meet your.

faltered the poor Countries all dare not meet your eye."

"We kness, Amelia! sm. I so bleased as to have inspired one thrill of tenderness in that scale boson!"

Sire, for bean and page mile am the wife of him you call your friend, of him who would sacrifice, him bourt's blood for your happiness!!

I know! I see my crune but virtue sinks be fore the madrial of my byes every his of honors bids me avoid you but Amelia. I fact I cannot live without you! Nay, Amelia, do not seek to leave me! at your word Ill: quit my mate and to comignity—the people! I have loved title country! have blood for—the givry which has been my chemished fipsam from boyhood, all, all Amelia shall be remounded for from boyhood, all, all Amelia shall be renounced for ou."

-Oh Sire, save me from myself! I confess my love. but oh, be noble, be generous, and rescue the from despair! aBeloved one, I am powerless to do your hidding Gustavus, who never shrank from mortal foe, cannot ecome the conqueror of himself! let this embrace bespeak my passion !-- " The distant murmur of voices fell on their ears: Amelia started and relieved herself from his arms. A step approached, and as the advancing person stepped from the dark shade of the mountain into n an agitated whisper, as she drew closely around her face the thick folds of her veil. "How is this Ankarstrom, why am I thus intruded: on, and watched !' enquired the monarch as the the moonlight, it revealed the form of Ankatstrom!

"Avenging heaven, my husband!" said Amelia.

Count reached the spot. "Hatred, sire, is watchful, as well as friendship? your steps have been watched, and blades are now gleaming in the moonlight which are thirsting for your blood! A so, let us then retire, said the King. Way not so Sire, they know a female is in your company, and the sight of her would guide their vespons to your heart. You must away and glone." "I'e is right," whispered Amelia, "away," away Gustavus! for your own take well then for my sake, save yourself!" "What! and abandon thee? not for a thousand

"Haste, haste sire!" cried the Count, who was impatiently watching the path he had lately ascenled. "They are at hand, I see the gleam of their

"By heaven I cannot leave thee !"

"Do i , ' again whispered Amelia, "or see me 10; real myself, and full his victim before your face !" "Ankarstrom," said the King, after a moment of deep agitation, " I know your truth and honor, and how sacred to you is your plighted word, then wear to me to see this lady

Stockholm." "Most cheeffully I promise it." "Nay more, speak not to her-look not towards her, do not strive to hear her voice, or even guess at her features !" "This sire, I promise on my sacred word; now take this mantie, in which I have escaped their deection; and fly at once-God speed my King to afety!

nto the dark shadow of the hills, ere the conspirators approached. Their rage was great, when they discovered that their prey had escaped them, and they seemed to vent it in ribald jests on the trembling "Perhaps," said Dehorn, advancing, and flashing, his torch before her, "the fair one will favor us with

s glance at the pretty face of a king's minion

Hardly had Gustavus left the spot, and

and standing in an attitude of defence before her,
"I have sworn to protect her, and will do it with me heart's blood." They made a threatning advance upon him, when Amelia, reckless of all consequences, threw herself before him and lifting her weil exclaimed. nay—harm him not—he is my husband!" "Amelia, my wife!" cried Ankarstrom.

"Back! back," cried the Count, drawing his sword

CHAPTER III The Prophecy Fulfilled And thos unbappy—kind of beart, and those unbappy—kind of beart, when arm, by awful virtue urged, And the unbappy—kind or nears, Whose steady arm, by awful virtue urged, Lifted the Roman steel against thy friend, Thompson's Wister.

"His wife!" laughed the conspirators.

The events detailed in the last chapter, turned the firmest friend of Gustavus, into his most implacable foe! Smarting under the supposed infidelity of his wife, and treachery of his King, Count Ankarstrom, was easily induced to join the conspiracy which De horn and Voralberg had long been fomenting. The historical facts are well known to all; for the elucihistorical facts are well known to but the culti-dation of our present narrative, it will be only neces-sary to state, that on the following horning, the pal-act of the Count was the renders out of all the dis-affected, and then, and there, the compact was scaled, which pressaged the death of the unfortunate Prince. The Countess: Amelia, was dragged by her inforristed husband, into the midst of their consultations. Each one was envious that the honor of striking the first blow, should be delegated to himself, and to reconcile these conflicting interests, cliance was brought as ampire. The names of all were thrown inth an urn, and the Counters forced to draw out a single name! As tremblingly she performed the lask, horror struck her dumb, when she perceived the name of Ankarstrom!
Their plans were soon matured; that very night was to witness their accomplishment. A masked ball and a concert were then to be given by the King, and amid the secrety Which such an occasion per mitted, the blow was to be struck !

King Gustavus, was in the mean time, in n a struggle between his passions and his sense of right. Ignerant of the Counters detection, he was striving to obtain a powerful victory over his feelings. "I will not yield," said be communing to himself, in such a contest, where home said friendship must both to discerned! No. I will see Amelia no more; Ankarstrom shall be appointed Viceroy of Finland—to-morrow they shall both depart.

The cause of virtue once triumphase Procusion fiel—the royal commission was despatched to aninches and the King prepared for the Respective ingrevet. The guests had begun to mure, ere the sirder was forwarded to the Count, containing his signified promotion. Arraying himself in a sales

Daniel O'Condell was the first person wito lodg-

Irish Railroads - It is understood that the Duke of Leinster, Earls of Spannon, Glengall, and Ken-more, Lords Viscount Hawarnen and Liemore, with many other influential nolliemen and gentlemen the auspices of Gosurament and commissioners.

IRELAND.

rynane on the 5th of Nov. to attend a round of din- inches in distincter. ners at Kanturk, You just. Thurles, Galway, Waterford, Lumerick, Cork &c He is to be in Dublin about the 30th of Nov., when the precursor agua-

WALES.

Earthquake .- On- the 15th Nov. last, a smart several places, the rocking was so severs, that many persons leaped out of bed, expecting their houses to fail. A rombing noise like thunder, accompanied the concussion, a great calm existed, both before and eter 29 the The sensation was felt from Lorth with their neighbors.

tion of our manufactures; the same series of beds not only furnishing fuel for working the steam engines, but also for their construction

The accumulation of vegetable matter at a remote epoch in the history of the world for the consumption of creatures, which should afterwards exp ist on its surface must strike the least inquiring but when the upturned, twisted, and shattered strata, so common in districts composed of the codi-measures, are before us, design is not so apparent, more particularly when the miner complains of the dislocation (faults) which interrupts his progress. We might, therefore, regard this as a bar to the in-genuity and industry of man, extracting the combus-tible so valuable to him. When, however, we look more closely into this subject, we find that the shattered condition of the rocks, though it may embarrass mining conditions for a time, is in reality high-ly advantageous, as preventing the passage of subfinners, in collieries situated in one particular whereas if the strata were always horizontal, unbroken, and continuous, the abundance of water that would flow into the workings would render them

