The celebrated substitute for CALOMEL.

THE proprietors of this article, having devoted near is seven years, and expended a large animant of money, in experimenting upon the various species of the Tomato, (Solanum Lycoperocium,) have at last succeeded in obtaining from that vegetable a principle which as a medicine possesses all the beneficial properties of calonid, and yet included by foron the use of that drig. This principle (hepatine) is a mild and efficient cathartid, and, as compounded are not as a tomic direction and disphorite. (See directions accompanying the medicine)

Its particular action and use.

Its action upon the system is very general, no part escaping its influence; it is, however, upon the secreto-cree and exerctures, that its great power is particularly manifestich from this it will be seen to have a direct effect upon the biliary organs, and to be particularly adapted to the treatment of bilians fevers and other diseases where a terpulatu or compession of the lier and portal cricle prevail; hence the great success that has attended its administration in liver affections, dyspepsia and diseases of the stomach and bowels generally. Being diffusible in its operation, it produces a free circulation in the vessels on the surface of the body, accompanied by a gentle perspiration. It does not exhaust like drastic purges; still its action is more universal, and it may be often repeated; not merely with safety, but with great benefit; this becomes indispensably necessary in cases of long standing, for in them intense namfested, from this it will be seen to have a direct out with great consist, in second or a them intense cessary in cases of long standing, for in them intense temporary impressions made by strong medicines sel-dom, if ever do good, and tend to injure the stamina of

The proprietors do not claim for it universality i. e that it will cure all diseases; nor, on its introduction in that it will cure all clusterases; hir, on its introduction in-to a family, should the physician be dismissed; no, they would advise all to have a family physician, and the more-experienced and scientific the better; they do claim, however, that a limity resort to this medicine claim, however, that a timely resort to this medicine may in a great many instances save the expense and trouble of calling the aid of such physician, it being capable of producing the effect desired in the primary stages of a majority of diseases incident to this country. In many long standing, or chronic diseases, such as ill conditioned ulcrs, and the various diseases of the skin, the publisher by expense of common indexment with t may be taken by persons of common judgement with-

It may be taken by persons of common judgement without medical advice.

Persons advised to give it a trial.

Not only are families advised to adopt it as a family medicine, but those who are labouring under disease that caloniel has failed to remove; those who have seen and felt the deleterious effects of, as well as those who esteem caloniel to be the best of all medicines; and those too, who have tried "every thing," (from the boasted cure all nostrums purporting to have emanated from great foreign colleges or societies, down to humble quack medicine to Dr. A. B. C. to 2 fall are invited to try this simple American article. It is not the intention of the proprietors to sustain this medicine by Certificates and puffing, but by way of introduction in those places whore proprietors to sustain this medicine by dertificates and puffing, but by way of introduction in those places whore it has not been known, it is deemed proper to show what is said of it where it has been known the past year. The following editorial articles and extracts from letters by physicians, and others are given for that purpose.

The following is an editorial from the Cincinnati Telegraph. edited by Bishop Purdell:
"Extract of Tomato. a substitute for Calomel."—The injurious and frequently destrictive consequences that have often resulted to the human frame from the necessity of having recourse to a drug of so powerful, and at the same time, of so deleterious a nature, as realmed, induce u-to welcome the announcement of a safe, and what is confidently stated to be, in most cases, an effect. what is confidently stated to be, in most cases, an effectual rubstitute for it, which, while it possesses, if not all, at least a great portion of its good qualities, is free from its most offectionable ones. Every discovery in the virtues of the vegetable kingdom must have its infancy, and its period of probation. We are inclined to think this will stand the test of scrutiny, and be a most desirable acquisition to the world, and particularly to the people of this country. We have heard it highly spoken of, and we believe the result of every investigation of its usefulness, yet made, has been lavorable.

The proprietors of the Compound Extract of Tomato make no secret of its composition, but reveal it to every medidal man who desires to know it."

The following is extracted from a letter to one of the proprietors by the Hon I. Burnett, formerly mayor of the city of Cincinnatti .—

Cincinnatti, January 6th, 1838.

DR. MILES:

Dear Sir. - * * * * * 1 have used your Compount Dear Sir.—

There used your Compound have no hesitation in believing it has saved me several medical bills. Four of my family during that period were undersposed, and exhibited the usual symptoms of a bikous attack. They were in every instance relieved by the use pl your Tomato pills. I consider them a valuable medicine. They are perfectly safe, and I believe as efficacious as calomel in correcting a bilious habit.— I have used them myself with great benefit.

The following is from Robert Punchon, Esq., who has nade the science of medicine his particular study. Cincinsatti, February, 1st. 1838.

ISAAC BURNETT.

for calomel in diseases of the lives. Accept, eir, my grateful acknowledgments. Your obedient accept. ROBERT PUNCHON.

The following is extracted from a letter of a highly respectable physician to friends of his in Cincinnatii, who had solicited his opinion as to the virtues of this medicine:

Laurencoburgh, January 2565, 1838.

Messae Peck & Co.,

Gentlemen.— ** * 1 shave used the article (Miles' Compound Extract of Tomato) somewast extensively in prescription for some months past, in many of the almost numberless manifestations of pressure derangement. most numberless manifestations of nepatic derangement particularly in infantile cases, and although I cannot say, that it is in ALL cases a substitute f medicines, yet the striking analogy in its theraputic effects is such as to recommend it favorably to my mind as an adjuvant in most instances to the exhibition of calomel, and where an immediate or speedy alternative effect is not indicated. fect is not indispensible it may supersedent use altogether. In several instances in which an antipathy or preer. In several instances in which an antipathy or prejudice against mercurial remedies existed, I have prescribed it with very good effect.

I am, gentlemen, respectfully yours, &c.

J. H. BROWER, M. D.

The following, is a voluntary statement made by a highly respectable and scientific Physician, and appeared in the "Jeffersonville Courier," last winter :—
MILEN EXTRACTOF TOMATO—A SUSTITUTE FOR CALOMIT HERITAGE CALOMITE FOR CALOMEL—Having made a trial of the above seri-cle, I feel was ransed in recommending it as a useful med-icine. The pills pussess all the purgative and anti-bu-lium properties of calomel, without any of its injurious tendencies. Persons who are addicted to habitual torpor of the liver, and consequent accumulations of bile, and who have been compelled to have resourse to the different preparations of mercury for relief, will find Miles Pills, a safe and convenient substitute.
