And it play I with the gossamer beam Its fairy brightness around its head.
Oh twas weet to see that child so fair,
At play with the daming things of air.

Oh no'er was a lovelier plaything seen, To childhood samplicity given, It seem d like a delicate link between The creatures of earth and heaven:

But the sunbeam was cross d by an angry cloud, And the gossmer died in the shadowy shroud, And the child look'd said, when the bright things fle And its smile was gone-and its tests were shed, Oh gentle child in thy infant play,

An emblem of life hast thou seen; For joys are like sunheams more fleeting than they And sorrows east shadows between: And friends that in moments of brightness are won Like gossamer, only are seen in the sun, Oh! many a lesson of sadness may Be learn'd from a joyous child at play.

The celebrated substitute for CALOMEL.

THE proprietors of this article, having devoted nearly seven years, and expended a large amount of inducy, in experimenting upon the various species of the Tomato, (Solanum Lycoperticinis have at lear me consided in 6btsining from that vegetable a principle which as a medicine possesses all the beneficial properties of calomel, and yet inexpedite of producing the deterious effects sometimes resulting from the use of that drug. This principle (hepatine) is a mild and efficient cathartic, and, as compounded, such acts as a tonic directic, and disphortic. See directions accompanying the medicine) he medicine)

Its particular action and use.

Its action upon the system is very general, no part excaping its influence it is however, upon the secretories and concentrate that its great power is particularly manifested; from this it will be seen to have a directive upon the bildary organs, and to be particularly as dapted to the treatment of bilious fevers and other discusses where a torpidity or conjection of the liver and portal circle prevail; hence the great success that has attended its administration in liver affections, dyspepsiand discusses of the stomach and boucks generally. Being diffusible in its operation, it produces a free circular tion in the vessels on the surface of the body, accompanied by a gentile perspiration. It does not exhaust, like drastic purges; still its action is more universal, and it may be often repeated, not morely with safety, but with great benefit; this becomes indispensably no cessary in cases of long standing, for in them intense temporary impressions made by strong medicines seledom, if ever, do good, and send to injure the stamina of the constitution.

The proprietors do not claim for it universality j. c. that it will care all diseases; nor, on its introduction into a family, should the physician be dismissed; no, they would advise all to have a family physician, and the more experienced and scientific the better: they do claim, however, that a timely resort to this medicine may in a great thany instances save the expense and trouble of calling the aid of such physician, at being capable of producing the effect desired in the primary stages of a majority of diseases incident to this country. In many long standing, or chronic diseases, such as all conditioned ulcers, and the various diseases of the skin, it may be taken by persons of common judgement without medical advice. Its claims out medical advice.

Persons advised to give it a trial. Not only are families advised to adopt it as a family medicine, but those who are labouring under disease that calomel has failed to remove; those who have seen and felt the delettrious effects of, as well as those who esteem calomel to be the best of all medicines; and those esteem culamed to be the best of all medicines; and those too, who have tried "severy thing," (from the beased cure all nostrains porporting to have emanated from great foreign culleges or societies, down to humble quack medicine of Dr. A. B. C. to 2 all are invited to try this simple American article. It is not the intention of the proprietors to sustain this medicine by certificates and puffing, but by why of introduction in those places where it has not been known, it is deemed proper to show what is said of it where it has been known the past year. The following editorial articles and extracts from let. following editorial articles and extracts from le ters by physicians, and others are given for that purpose

The following is an editorial from the Cizcinnati Telegraph, edited by Bishop Purcell:
"Extract of Tomato, a substitute for Calomel."—The injurious and frequently destructive consequences that have often resulted to the human frame from the ne cessity of having recourse to a drig of so powerful, and it the same time, of so deleterious a nature as calonel, nduce us to welcome the announcement of a safe, and what is confidently stated to be, in most cases, an effect what is confidently stated to be, in most cares, an effectual substante for it, which, while it possesses, if not all, at least a great portion of its good qualities, is free from its most objectionable ones. Every discovery in the virtues of the vegeta ale knigdom must have its infancy, and its period of oro-ation. We are inclined to think this will stand the test of scrutiny, and be a most desirable acquestion to the world, and particularly to the people of this country. We have hearded highly spoken of, and we believe the respit of every investigation of its usefulness, yet made, has been favorable. usefulness, yet made, has been tavorable.

The proprietors of the Compound Extract of Tomato make no secret of its composition, but reveal it to every medidal man who desires to know it."

The following is from Robert Punchon, Esq., who has made the science of medicine his particular study. Lincinsatti, February, 1st. 1838.

DR MILES:

Dear Sir,—It is with much pleasure that I bear testimony to the efficacy of the Tomato pills in affections of the Iver: from its operation which I have witnessed in my own case. I am ready to conclude that you have discovered the long looked for nesideratum, a substitute for calomel in diseases of the liver. Accept, sir, my grateful acknowledgments. Your obedient servant, Robert Penchon.

Laujernechurgh, January 26th, 1838.

MES-RSIPECK & Co.

Gentlemen. ** * I have used the article (Miles' Com cound Extract of Tomato, somewist extensively in prescription for some mouths past, in many of the almost numberless manifestations of nepaic derangement particularly. particularly in intaguie cases, and although I cannot say, that it is in ALL cases a substitute for mercural medicines, jointhe stricking analogy in its theraputic effects is such as to recommend it favorably to my mind as an adjusted in most instances to the exhibition of cal-omel, and where an immediate or sperdy alternative ef-fect is not indispensible, it may supersedeus use altogeth-cr. In several instances in which an ambathy or prendice against mercurial remedies existed, I have pre-icribed it with very good effect.
I am. gendemen, respectfully yours dec.

The following, is a voluntary statemen made by a highly respeciable and scientific Physician, and appeared in the Belf resolville Conner," last winter—
MILES EXTRACT OF TOMATO—A substitute For Calonkii.—Having made a trial of the above arricle, I feel was ranted in recommending it as a useful medicine. The pulls possess all the purative and anti-bilious properties of calonel, without any of its injurious teniencies. Persons who are addicted to habitual torpor of the liver, and consequent scanmulations of bile, and who have been compelled to have resourse to the different preparations of mercuty for tellef, will find Miles' Pills, a safe and convenient substitute.
