pood earnest. Espertero is marching against him with a large force, proceeded by Cabenaro, that in-trepid partisan who was the first of Carlos officers trepiu trepid partnam who was the first of Carlos" officers who left the Basque provinces and penetrated to the environs of Madrid. Cabesnero served some time with Cabrera, and is well acquainted with the conh-try in which that chieflain acts. Letters received Paris from Cabrera, represent him as undismay at such mighty preparations, and determined to old out to the last.

The Paris National says, positively, that Do Carlos has authorized his agent at Paris, the Mar-quis de Labrada, to recognize, in his name, the government of the Queen of Spain, and to write offi-cially to Cabrera, and the Count d'Espagne, order-ing them to lay down their arms. The same paper ing them to hay down their arms; The same paper args, that several persons, high in place in France. propose to create a loan for Spain on the reveaues of Cuba and the Philliptne islande being guaranteed for the interest. Marshall Soult listens to the pro-posal, but neither Rothschild or Aguado will have any thing to do with it. The National adds that the passports of Don-Carlos are only retained until an emportation prosting them. answer be received from Vienna, raspecting his proposed residence in the Austrian dominious. A. Berlin Darer, how was Berlin paper, however, says that the prince has asked for a refuge in the Prussian dominions.

A WARNING VOICE-PROPHECY FULFIL LED.

- In looking over a speech made by Mr. M'Duffier in the House of Representatives of the Juited States in April, 1834, on the removal of the deposites, we were struck with the prophetic truth, as well as the burning eloquence of its language. Had we space. we would giadly republish the whole of this able and eloquent speech; but, unable to do this, we must content ourselves with presenting our reader a few persages. What was the condition of the United States at that fatal moment, when the evil gentus of the Predeat prompted bits to assume the fearful responsi bility of destroying our system of credit, deranging our system of currency, in open and avowed con tempt of the legislative power ? What was there in that condition to afford the shadow of a pretext for the usurpation of which we complain? civil dissentions was it designed to compose ; what financial embarrassiments and public sufferings was it calculated to relieve ? It is worth while to look The people of the United States were in the enjoyment of an unexampled prosperity-literally basaing in the sumshine of tranquility, abundance, and conntment-blessings the more exquisitely realized from their contrast with the troubled scene which recently passed away. They had seen a dark and us cloud lowring in the horizon and could almost hear the distant thunder and see the precur sive flash of the coming storm, which threatened to shake the mighty fabric of this federal system to its But at this eventful crisis, a redeeming power was interposed, in the spirit of con ciliation ; a covenant of peace was ratified here, the storm passed away, and the rambow circled the irch of the heavens, the cheering harbinger of that happiness and contentment which were the lot of an united people until the fatal dog days, when this must permissions scheme of executive usurpation was most pern engendered, not to save the country from evil dissentions and restore its discordered finances, but to mar and destroy the brightest vision of happiness that ever blessed the hopes of any people. And I regret to find that the authors of this fatal experiment are resolved to carry it in on the same reckless spirit in which it was conceived. Nothing has struck me more tercibly than the stuchorn per severance of the administration in their desperate purposes, hoping against hope, blind to the palpable results of experience, and deat to the cries of a sufering people. It is a spirit of hearliers indifference to popular suffering, wholly without excuss, and al-most without example. We have been told by a member of this House (Mr. Beardsley,) in the ex terminating spirit of that Roman who always concluded his speeches with the motio, "Carthage mus-be destroyed," that the Bank of the United Statest destroyed by whatever means, and at the hazard of whatever consequences. " Perish commerce, perish credit, give us broken banks and a disordered currency, rather than retrace the steps de against the Mr. Speaker, the experience of the last few years has entirely changed my views as to the destiny of the human race. All my youthful visions of the fecubility of mankind have vanished before the sad realties of the times. They are gone forever. I am now restrained to believe, that with all the lights of reason and experience, and the political improvements of our country, men are still the idelaters and predestined victems of imposture. Be, fore that God to whom I am responsible for what I say here, I do believe that the annals of human ido-latry and del soop cannot furnish an example of a immident, audacious, and monstrous imposture than that which this administration is attempting, and I fear with too much succes-, to palm up people of the United States, under the filmsy and delusive mine of estimation in the lusive guise of returning to the primitive simplici-of a " hard money Government !" Nothing that I have read, amongst all the superstitions of the world, transcends its monstrous audacity. "A hard money Government.!?" From what quarter is it to come 7 and in what manner is it to begin 7. It is to come from the land which is already overshadowed by the "safety fund system" of converting commer-cial banks into political machines! Under soch auspices, it very naturally commences, by establishing a mere paper system, wholly unconnected with specie, by way of going back to " a hard money Go-veroment !!" Destroy the Bank of the United States, remove the only effective barrier which can restrain an unlimited issue of the mere rag currency which once before afflicted the country, and all will which once we have a matter of the country, and an whi so well ? An unchecked system of paper issues, a * Federal Safety Fund System," is a most extraordinary piece of machinery for colling hard money! Yet such is the watch word, such is the talismanic motto of the "republican party," as it has been pro claimed by that official organ which seldom speaks but in the words of its master, and through which the general orders have been issued to the pending and approaching campaigns. It is a contest beand approaching campaigns. It is a contest be-tween Jackson money and bank money ! hard mon-ey and paper money ! Let the partisus of the ad-ministration put a few silver dollars in their pockets, and make them gingle on the hustings, and the vic-tory is certain. Jackson money ! Will any gentle-man inform us how much Jackson money now cirlates in New York. Or is Jackson money. Ith Jackson democracy, one thing in New York an another in Virginia? Fray what is New Yor Jackson money T But sir, what are the signs by which this golden ag is heralded forth to bless the eyes, of the faithfu The blow of death is scarcely struck at the Bank the United States, when, without waiting for its expring groans, when behold a host of banks of a bizes are seen apringing up like pesiliential exhau tons. A bank with a capital of ten millions i Louisiana, another in Ohiu, and another in Kento ky, and I do not know howmany, are in contemp tion in the valley of the Musissippi. But what i much more "germain to the matter," we have re cently seen a project brought forward in New Yos by the authors and managers of the "Safety Fu System," and evidently to prop that tottering fabri to make a ban of six millions of dollars, to the band to make a bein of six millions of dollars, to the bank confederated by that system, for the purpose of re-lieving the people from the distress produced by this executive experiment, and the whole property of the people of New York is to be mortgaged for the re-demption of the stock which instrus to be placed in the bands of politicisns, to corrupt and purchase up the people? Inffernaylwata, also, we see indica-tions equally inequivacal, of an approaching catas tophe. At a great Jackson meeting, in Philledel phis, trumpeted forth as one of his largest and mos-imposing ever assembled in that city, wraced by the imphe. At a great Jachaon meeting, in Philadel-phia, trumpeted forth as one of the largest and most imposing ever assembled in that city, graced by the presence of a former Secretary of Treasury, a for-mer Senator of the United States, and lend the proceeds to the State barks, under the authority and direction of the administration. Under the same ampion, a proposition has been made to the Legislature, of Funylvanis to establish a State bank, with a capital of the million, one half to be authority as a capital of the million, one half to be authority as a capital of the million, one half to be authority as a capital of the million, one half to be authority as a capital of the million, one half to be authority as a capital of the million, one half to be authority as a capital of the million, one half to be authority as a capital of the million, one half to be authority as a capital of the million, one half to be authority as a capital of the million, one half to be authority as a capital of the million, one half to be authority as a capital of the million, one half to be authority as a capital of the million, one half to be authority as a capital of the million, one half to be authority as a capital of the million of the same and capital the same and to the form the sender. I do most schemally be-lies to the fit of the schemaly behold them without alarm. I do most selecanly be-lieve that if the administration shull success to their present propecty, for combining the banking with the political power of the country, they will setab-lish a coloseal despotism without any parallel in history, and wielding an element of political power, wholly unknown to any other age or constry. It is an eventful crisis is our bistory, and it remains to be decided whether the people can be made the dupes of this monstrous scheme of ambilion, cover. Sir, it is not the first time in the history of human ideletry, when the borrid features of a foul and unnatural monster of imposters, have been con-cented from the eyes of his deleded followers, by a silver with You have no doubt riad on the instance silver veil. You have no doubt read, sir, the instruct tive illustration of the weakness of human delusion and the boldness of human imposture, furnished by the frish post in the story of the veiled Proper e an. Deprived of nature's fair proportions the bold impostor covered his deformity with a sil ver veil, and hoisted a broad while flag, spon which was inscribed in words of somebine, " ire ons to the

"In grinning mockery," exclaiming to his wretched

There, ye wise saints, behold your light, your star "There, ye wise sains, or sono just right, yes. Ye sould be dopes and victims, and ye are." May the honest devolues of a hard money current cy, the "working men's society," and all others the honest devolution money what cy, the "working men's society,", and all others who are opposed to the banking system, upon what-ever principles, take warning from the example of these voluntary victims of a daring imposture, and avoid their faits . They here behold their fats accu-rately prefigured, if they do not rise up and resist the scheme of impostore which I have attempted to avoid. Let the nonle of the link State. expose. Let the people of the United States ros up from their si-mber of fatal security, or when they do wake, it will be only to clank their chains.

I fear, Mr. Speaker, that the hasness of experience are lost upon nations. No people have been more srverely schooled by this teacher than the people of the United States have be n on this subject. And I never reflect upon our present condition and proce-pects, without recurring to the fate of the Italian, who, presenting a strong and robust constitution, ca. crificed it to the tempering of experimental quackecriticed it to the tempering of experimental quacka-ry. His epitaph was briet, and contained an in-structive lesson: --- I was well j I would be better; I am here." May it never be the painful office of the historian to inscribe the same warning epitaph on the mighty rains of our national prosperity ! I fear, sir, that we have not sufficiently realized the importance of a sound and stable currency. All our civil institutions combined are not more impur-tant than this, as a guaranty for sense impurement tant than this, as a guaranty for secure enjoyment of the rights of property. In vaim due we boast of our laws and the incorruptible purity of our judges, an means of protecting property, if you take away the very substratom upon which the whole superstruc-ture must rest. I will hazard the opinion that in the six months of the executive usurpation and misrale which has elapsed since the removal of the deposites,-the brief period of a Roman dictatorehip-property to the amount of 100,000,000 of dollars has passed from the pockets of the enterprising and in dustrious classes into the strong bases of that mon-eyed aristocracy against which the administration eyed arithcracy against which this administration protesses to be making war. Such is the magic power of transferring property from class to class by manne of disordered currency. It goes from one to another, like the balls of a conjucer pasing from cup to cup, which no one perceives, while passing, though twery one can see the result after it is con-summated. summated.

I do most sincerely believe that our liberties are in imminent danger ; and if the projected union be tween the political power and the banking power of the country, should be once established, I do not be lieve it will be in the power of human wisdom to save us from a deep scaled, all pervading despoism. If it were the last administon i was permitted to address to my countrymen, I would say, " for the sake of your encestors, for the sake of your posterity, guard against the unboly and corrupt connexion be tween money and power, by every presation of hu-man prudence." It is the natural instinct of a bank organized upon true banking principles, to abstain from politics ; but the hand of power cannot be thrust into its affairs without producing fatal consequence to both.
