But the result of the election is not merely a decided and emphatic rebuke to Mr. Van Buren. It is an equally decided and conphatic vindication of the policy of Governor Senard. It not only acaithe poucy winds the crazy financial projects of Lo-ters to the winds the crazy financial projects of Lo-co Focoism in this State, as the revival of the restric-tions on small bills; the collections and disbursement of the State revenus in specie; and the ultiment or such a service of the banking system—but it laughs to scorn their ridiculous outery against Internal Imscorn their ture to be principle that the people New York will fend the credit of the State to rail of New York will lend the credit of the State to rail youds and canals; that they approve the vigorous prosecution of day public works; that they condemn the prodigate conspiracy of the Ex-Regency to destroy the credit of the State, and that they have faith in the produced and good judgment of the men who in the produced and good judgment of the men who in the produced and good judgment of the men who in the produced and good judgment of the men who in the produced and good judgment of the Ex-This then is the result of the outers of the Ex-Regency against a Forty Million Debt! What a waste of good thunder there has been in town and ward resolutions—pointed at "State bankruptcy"—the "Seward Forty Million Debt"—and the profligate Whigs who were going to make themselves all rich men at the expense of posterity! Where is Colonel Young? What becomes of the doctrines of the Colonel's report? Who will be tound base enough to rise in the Senate, and suggest that the Porriz of New York will, REFUDIATE THEIR PUBLIC DEET? Where is Senate, and suggest that the FORTLE OF NEW YORK WILL REPUBLIE THERE PUBLIC DEET? Where is CAOWELL? What becomes of the honors and emoluments of his his estate in the public printing; which he hoped even to make hereditary and bequeath to his posterity, in token of the services he had rendered the Commonwealth?

had rendered the Commonwealth?

It is a sad day, surely, for the State Printer; his vocation is gone; he will no longer receive double pay for his printing, or sell more three-walled houser to the State. The poeple have put their "huge paws" on poor Mr. $30,000 CROSWELL.

But it is not merely as a condemnation of the policy of Mr. Van BOREN, and a satisfactory endorsement of the administration of Governor SEWARD ment of the administration of Governor SEWARD, that we regard this result. There is another indi vidual, whose influence has been widely and deeply felt in this election; and to whose unremitted and patriotic exertions we are largely indebted for its patriotic exertions we are largely indebted for its glorious issue. When the Torr party in the Senate last winter, defied the will of the majority in the Logislature, and the majority of the People, and refused to re-elect! W. P. Tallmangs to the Senate of the United States, the Argus boasted of their readmess and desire to go before the State with that issue. They have made it. The Ex Regency have maligned, trained, willfied Mr. Fallmande; and he has been sustained by THE PEOPLE. He has fought a good fight and has conquered.—N. Y. Com.

Benton's opinion of Clay -The St. Louis Bullet Benton's opinion of Clay — The St. Louis Bullet the brings to light the annexed extract of a letter published in the Missouri Intelligencer of the 22d of October, 1824, under the proper signature of Col. Thomas H. Benton. We heartly commend it to all the present admirers of the Missouri Humburger:

The principles which would govern Mr. Clay's administration, if elected, are well known to the Nation. They have been displayed upon the floor of Congress for the last seventeen years. They constitute a system of American policy, based on the agriculture and manufactures of his own country,upon interior as well as foreign commerce, upon internal, as well as sea-board improvement—upon the independence of the new world, close commercial alliances with Mexico and South America.—
it is said that others would pursue the same system, we answer that the founder of the system is the natural executor of his own work. That the most efficient protector of American iron, lead, hemp, wool and cotton, would be the triumphant champion of the new Tariff; the safest triends to interior commerce would be the statesman who has proclaimed the Mississippi to be the sea of the west—the most zealous promoter of inter-nal improvements would be the President who has triomphed over the President who has triumphed over the President who opposed the constructi national roads and canals—the most successful ap plicant for freaties with Mexico and South America would be the eloquent advocate of their own independence. He was born about the year 1745, where Harrisburg now stands, and con quently was nearly if not more than ninety years of age. He was sanumitted by the late Mr. Adam Orth, of Lebanon (then Dauphin) county. Frank was unquestionably the oldest inhabitant of this county,—well remembered when the Indian smoked pe, and when the forest covered what is now Harrisburg and its emiling vicinity. He used to say, he had "turned many a furrow between the ca-nal and the bridge across the Susquehanne?" He esessed in an eminent degree the virtues and vices his race—being a hard worker, a hard drinker a lounger, and exhibiting an uncontrolable temper. Frank used to assert, that he had often played and wrestled with Logan, the Mingo chief, then a young man now so celebrated by the speech he is said to shave delivered, contained in Jefferson's Notes. Whether Logan ever resided on the banks of the Susquehanns, we have no means of secertaining, but Frank; when the matter was explained to him, insasted that he had, and that he left it before the expedition of the "Paxton" boys," to Lancaster. If so, he must have pitched his wigwam on the waters of the Great Kanawhs, about 1760—14 years before he made the speech alluded to, making Lo-gan's age at that time about 29 years, which agrees with the tradition upon the subject. Frank used to detail the accompanying of his master and family, to Paxton church, he and another servant armed, as well as Mr. Harris-of the arms scattered about the church, presenting a lively picture of the half relt gio.s, half military appearance of our bardy fore-fathers. The same child, owing to exposure, when recently coming up the Ohio, was attacked by that horrible malady; CROUP. We landed in the night at Beaver Point, and when our fears were alarmed lest the hoarse sepulchral cough, was the forerunner of death, we gave him a tea-spoon full of the "Expectorast," (a bottle of which you presented me with when in Philadelphia) and applied some lineament to the throat and breast, and before mesome lineament to the throat and breast, and before meny minutes the hoarseness was gone, the child breathed freely and alept aweetly. Owing to these circumstances it cannot be wondered at why I have so high an opinion of Dr. Jayne's medicine, and why I advise every family to keep it on hand ready for any emergency.

Coughs, Asthma, Spitting Blood &c., Cured by Jayne's Expectorant.

From Atkinson's Philadelphia Evening Post. Philadelphia, Aug. 16th, 1838. -Dear Sir: A few weeks ago, I noticed DEAR SIR—I feel it due to you as the inventor of the metherne and to the public, who may be greatly benefited by it, to state a cure that was performed in my family by the use of your "Corminative Balsam."

My little son, when about two months old, was seized with a boxel complaint, caused, as I suppose, by a change of diet. It continued for two weeks without intermission, and notwithstanding the remedies prescribed by a respectable physician, we gave up the child a victim, as we supposed, to a fatal disease, but I providentially heard of "Jayne's Carminative," as an effectual cure for bowel complaint, and immediately despatched a messenger to a town seventeen miles off for a bottle. By the use of this medicine, in less than thirty-six hours the disease was checked; and by its continued use for a few days the child was resured to perfect health. Shortly after this, there occurred a similar case in one of the families of my congregation. I prescribed "Jayne's Carminative," and the result was a spondy cure. From a knowledge of the efficacy of your medicine in bowel complaint, and the result was a spondy cure. From a knowledge of the efficacy of your medicine in bowel complaint, and seepe constantly in the house, a quantity of the "Carminative," and the result was a spendy cure. From a knowledge of the efficacy of your medicine in bowel complaint, a disease to which childres are constantly liable, I have obtained and keep constantly in the house, a quantity of the "Carminative," and the result was a spendy cure. From a knowledge of the efficacy of your medicine in bowel complaint, a disease to which childres are constantly liable, I have obtained and keep constantly in the house, a quantity of the "Carminative," and the result was a spendy cure. From a knowledge of the efficacy of your medicine in bowel complaint, a disease to which childres are constantly liable, I have continued to my lamily and friends that I am here to write this to you. In the base of the lamilies of the factor of your medicine in lamilies of in your paper an account of the surprising effects of layae's Carminative, in restoring a great number of pas-sengers on board of a Mississippi steamboat to perfect health, who were affected by a violent Bowel Complaint. me rejuet, without any obsence leech. Last winter it had another very severe attack of luffaminion of the lungs which I fully expected would be the last. I then considered my case as past the aid of medicine; when I was persuaded to call in Dr. Jayne. With the assistance of Divine Providence, through him I-v as once more rejued. Divine Providence, through him I v as once more raised from my bed; but the cough and wheezing wearned me day and night. He advised me to use his Expectorant. I did so, with a strong hope that, as it had cured many of my acquantances of various diseases of the lungs, it it might at least mitigate my sufferings. Need I say how granfied I feel! I has effectably cured ms. As soon as I commenced taking it. I found it reaches my case, and I began to breathe with more freedom. My expectoration became easy, and my cough entirely left ms. I now feel as well as ever I did in my life, and better than I have for the last 60 years. Last summer I spit a great deal of Blood—now, thank God, I am perfectly cured.
