

A PICTURE OF A LOUÏE FEDERALIST.

When it is recollected, that during the memorable December of 1833, that memorable era, when traitors and traitress stalked through our Legislative Hall, Charles Brown, a Senator from Philadelphia County, was dragged through in real Kendal style, was lauded by the Harbinger Keystone to the skies as a patriot, and one prepared to support democracy with his very life, it cannot be denied but that the worthy editors of this venerable paper, were as well acquainted with his former history and political life as now. It is fresh in the remembrance of all, that when Charles Brown, in his seat as Senator, addressed an angry mob with incendiary speeches, when the over-awed Senate was thrown into confusion by his roving constituents, and it was thrown upon the furious raging fires of popular emotion, that this Charles Brown, was applauded to the very echo by the Keystones, as a mark and model of the "democracy" of his age. The editors therefore know him well, and we must therefore allow, that the following picture is drawn by one who knows. The Keystone—the same Keystone, the once so lauded in his praise, spoke last Monday thus indignantly of him: "Mr. Brown was an Adams Federalist, and the old leaven still works within him. His pretensions to democracy, judging from his acts, are ludicrous, and designed merely to distract and defeat all the movements of the party. We believe he is a borrower from several of the banks which he pretends that he wants to put down, and if he denies that he is, we will undertake to prove it. His conduct therefore is easily explained, and the demagogue of the legislature can see how they have been imposed upon by this insolent, ignorant, pretended Simon Pure, who not only tries to divide the democratic Senators, but impudently to dictate to the House and attempts to govern the democracy there, whenever any bill of consequence is under consideration."

Death by Drowning.—A man whose name is supposed to have been Jacob Steiner, from Miamibus, Ohio, and on his way to Pottsville, Pa., was drowned in the Ohio river, near Wheeling, on Friday, the 28th ult. He was a passenger on board the steamboat Brownsville, and having been exhibited signs of mental alienation, is supposed while in that state to have leaped overboard into the river. He was rescued from the water shortly after, but all attempts at restoring animation proved ineffectual.—Philadelphia Enquirer.

Just praise from a desirable source.—We were quite delighted in being permitted to cut from the Richmond Enquirer of 18th, the following compliment which Mr. Ritchie paid at that time to General Harrison, whom he nominated as Secretary of War: "The Secretary of War holds, not only the most important, but the most difficult station in the Government. It requires a rare combination of talents. He must be an experienced man; indefatigable, brilliant and prompt in his convictions; decisive in the execution of his orders. The one whom I have named (General Harrison) comes as near to this character as any I can think of."

Very good. We are looking about to see how we could bring in our old friend Mr. Ritchie, to the support of General Harrison's administration in 1841—the above is the clue—he must come in with the rest of the old democracy. He will see by the first of May, if he has not seen already, that the people have made up their minds to a change.—Noth.

Celebration of ST. PATRICK'S DAY.

The Saint Patrick's Society formed at the house of Mr. James Cleary at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, from whence they proceeded to meet their brethren from Port Carbon, and thence to the Catholic Church where an excellent and appropriate sermon was delivered by the Rev. Mr. McGinnis, after which there was an appeal made to the Sons of Erin for the purpose of taking up a collection to carry out the charitable views of some of their brethren for the distressed widows and destitute orphans in their neighborhood. Need it be mentioned that the appeal was not made in vain.—A liberal amount was immediately contributed, thus showing that Irishmen can feel when the voice of distress is heard and respond to the call. After their dinner from the Church they paraded through the Borough, and then accompanied their friends on their way back to Port Carbon. At 4 o'clock a large number of Irishmen and the friends of Ireland, partook of a sumptuous repast at the house of Edward O'Connor, in the Borough, at Pottsville. The company was organized by calling Capt. THOMAS J. BAIRD to the Chair, assisted by Wm. Haugesser, John Conroy, Wm. B. Hull, Patrick Doxerty, P. Dugan, Hugh Kneizer, and Geo. Doxerty. Among the distinguished guests were Judge Porter, the Rev. D. McCarty, the Rev. Mr. McGinnis, and Wm. A. Porter. After the cloth was removed, a feeling and patriotic address was delivered by the President, who, after speaking at some length upon the benefits conferred upon the land of our nativity by the illustrious christian whose natal day we now to celebrate, concluded his remarks by the following sentiment: "May the curse of Cromwell light upon the Irishmen among the world, who do not shed his heart's blood in defence of the Stars and Stripes which now wave over us. Then the following Standing Toasts were drunk: 1. The day we celebrate. Sacred to the children of Erin. Air—Patrick's Day. 2. Ireland. May the tyrannical grasp of her oppressors be thrown off, and soon she will resume her rank among the nations. Air—The Emerald Isle. 3. The land of our adoption. With unflinching hearts and hands, Irishmen will ever defend it. Air—Hail Columbia. 4. The President of the United States. Air—The Star Spangled Banner. 5. The memory of Robert Emmett. Air—The Light of our day. 6. The memory of Henry Grattan, Ireland's Orator, whose influence was a bulwark to her liberties and the terror of her foes. Air—Erin go Bragh. 7. Daniel O'Connell, Ireland's Pope. Air—See the Conquering Hero come. 8. Ireland's Emancipator, whose genuine feelings of liberty would not allow them to submit to tyranny or dwelt in a land which they could not love. Air—The Exile of Erin. 9. The Irish Patriots of '98, whose noble struggle for independence was a bright page in Ireland's history. Air—The harp that once thronged Para Hall. 10. The memory of Washington, whose name as a Patriot and Christian will be held in veneration by the latest posterity. Air—The Marcellus Hymn. 11. The Governor of Pennsylvania of the United States. 12. The Army and Navy of the United States. May they ever continue to display the same virtue and courage which characterized them during their glorious struggle for liberty. Air—Yankee Doodle. 13. The fair daughters of Erin, whose virtues are proverbial. Air—Irishmen's hearts for the ladies. VOLUNTEER TOASTS. By the Vice President. Perry and Reilly, adopted Citizens of the former the successful manufacturer of Iron by Anthracite Coal.—The latter for his successful improvement of the Locomotive Engines in adapting them to the use of the same fuel. They leave a rich legacy to the country of their adoption. By the Rev. Doct. McGinnis. The Sons of the warm heart and strong hand. In the country of their adoption may the ones never be chilled by unkindness, nor the other paralyzed by neglect. By the Rev. Mr. McGinnis. Christian charity, the pure essence of the Gospel, not confined within the contracted sphere of local or religious prejudices, expanding its arms to all those who bear the image of God. Mr. Arthur St. Clair Nichols, (absent in person out of heart and affection.) The Sons of the Emerald Isle, wherever it may be their lot to celebrate the sacred day of Ireland's Patron Saint may his spirit bless them at home or abroad, and his prayer draw down upon them the Omnipotent power, to scatter the chains which have bound her for ages, and raise her "great, glorious and free" till nature's rights are restored. The Sons of Erin. If they sometimes commit errors of the head, let us always sure to find their hearts in the right place. By Wm. A. Porter, Esq. Daniel O'Connell. The Orator, the Statesman, the Hero, the Patriot, the friend of Irishmen, a second Robert Emmet. The few natural infidelities of his character may easily be overlooked, in consideration of the love he bears to his native land and all her sons. By Haden Smith. May the time soon come when the Epithet of Robert Emmet may be written. By Thomas Lynch. May the Anthracite Coal of Schuylkill County manufacture Iron sufficient to cast Cannons for the assertion of Ireland's Independence. By James Downey. May the increasing prosperity of the Coal Trade enable our Collars, Miners, and Boatmen to pay off the eastern debt. By Terence Duff. Irishmen. America has found in them the cause of their country. Their motto be, "the land we have adopted must and shall continue free." By Doct. T. Brady. The Catholic Clergy of Ireland, as unrepresented in learning as they are in victory, and whose devoted zeal to the spiritual comforts of oppressed people has entitled them to the everlasting regard of the human race. By M. Foley. Irishmen in America. May their virtues adorn the land they shed their blood to make free. By F. B. Nichols. The Emerald Isle. Like pure gold, the more it is rubbed the brighter it will shine. By P. Fogarty. The memory of the Rev. Doct. Wainwright. By P. Mullooly. The Rev. E. McGinnis, who on this day with an eloquence peculiarly his own, so triumphantly vindicated the character of Irishmen against the calumnies of hired partisans. By Robert Adams. War, wherever it will, Irishmen's wrongs are avenged and their rights secured, then and not till then shall we cheer her peace. By L. Audenried. The memory of the late Mat. Carey, the illustrious patriot and philanthropist, who by his efforts to ameliorate the condition of the destitute and the oppressed, embosoms his memory in the heart of every true American. By Hugh Kinsley. The memory of Washington, whose heroic sword dissolved the chains of despotism, and who first taught men the value of true liberty and the rights of self government. By F. B. Nichols. Irishmen in America. They have made our internal improvements, aided our councils, and fought our battles. They are richly deserving—and they will be richly rewarded. By John S. Ingram. Irishmen and the Sons of Erin, while their eyes are fixed upon the Star Spangled Banner, their hearts respond to the motto of Virtue, Liberty and Independence. By James Cleary. The day we celebrate, the freedom of the press, and the rights of man. By Edward Golehan. Our distinguished guests. May they frequently enjoy the annual banquet commemorative of the love of Erin's Sons for their Patron Saint. By Patrick Donahoe. The Sons of Paddy's land. Wedded to the fair daughters of America—a long and a strong chain, and never to be broken. By John M. Crossland. Irishmen and their adopted Country. May the love of Country and its institutions, which is a peculiar characteristic of the Sons of Erin, never be merged in any principle but a determined resistance to Anarchy, Internal Commotion, and External Violence. By Joseph H. Ruckler. Erin's Harp. May its tones soon swell a nation's anthem of universal emancipation. By Patrick Daley. May we stimulate each other to emulate St. Patrick's virtues. By John Silver. The immortal Wm. Bainbridge, once the Father of our Navy. By Lori Calk. May the Sons of Erin be as free in their own country as they are in America. By George Dougherty. May the star of liberty which has arisen in the eastern hemisphere, continue to ascend until it shall culminate with redoubled splendor over our native land. By Thomas Addis Emmet. A tear to his worth, a sigh to his memory. By John F. Downing. Home industry, the source of wealth and one of the main pillars of our national independence. By Hugh Kinsley. May the chain of harmony which has heretofore existed between the adopted and native Sons of America continue to increase in force until time shall wear into eternity. By Wm. G. Johnson. St. Patrick's Day. Dear to every true Son of the Emerald Isle. By Edward E. Bland. The Eagle and Harp—May they never cease to be a national emblem, never be found wanting in their defence. By Thomas Quin. James Madison Porter. The descendant of Irish ancestors—he has this evening proven himself worthy the name and fame of the patriots of the Emerald Isle. By the Rev. Doct. McGinnis. The day we celebrate and the land of our forefathers, old Erin. By Lawrence Lawler. The memory of Phillips. It will endure until Irish hearts shall cease to beat. By N. J. Mills. Irishmen, the bone and sinew of our Country. They have cut our Canals and built our Rail Roads. By C. M. Strub. The Sons of the Emerald Isle. Unassuming, honest, and noble hearted. May the anticipations of those who have emigrated to the United States to seek an asylum be realized. By Michael Daley. Virtue, Liberty and Independence. May the spirit motto be our distinguished characteristic. By Peter Fallon. The old Toast by an old Bachelor. The rights of man, our absent friends, and the girls again. The good cheer and excellent accommodations of our Host and Hostess related with credit to them. Indeed all who are acquainted with them will know that our friend O'Connor and his Lady are genuine providers on such occasions. The evening passed to the general satisfaction of all parties. Good fellowship and hilarity characterized our meeting.

Notice.
TO COAL AND IRON COMPANIES.
THE subscriber, having been many years engaged in the coal business in Boston, and more largely than any other person in New England, is desirous of obtaining employment in the service of some company or individual engaged in that business. He is thoroughly acquainted with the business, and has a knowledge of all the principal dealers and consumers;—he is one of the largest of whom he has supplied. He has employed a large number of men, and understands their management; he also is well acquainted with the freight business. From his long connection with the Locomotive Coal Company, he has acquired a knowledge of the manufacture of iron, having been familiar with all the experiments made by them in smelting iron with mineral coal. To persons connecting business, the present affords an opportunity of acquiring the experience of years—so to coal merchants obtaining a customer, which has been many years establishing. Communications addressed to the care of H. Roan, Esq., Philadelphia, will receive immediate attention. The individual engaged will be small, present employment being the principal object. March 21. 12-16 C. R. LOWELL.

Wonderful Cure.
SEND for insertion the following extraordinary cure of a Cancer: This disease which has hitherto been accounted incurable, and which like the Small Pox a century since, when it seized on the patient, hurried him into hopeless despair, now sinks before the hands of the physician and its clouded mists are dispersed by the light from the medical fountain. Mrs. Mary Schwyter, who resides in 48 near Vine street, aged about forty years—was attacked in the face about two years since, with the cancer, which had developed one third of her nose; repeated applications to check its progress were used, but used without success. While she was in this awful and hopeless situation, a friend informed her of the cure which had been effected by a "Physician" from Reading, Pennsylvania, and she immediately applied to him for assistance, who in a short time completely removed the disease, and restored her to perfect health during the cure, she was not for one hour prevented from pursuing her usual business, now confined at all to her house; she gives the above statement for the benefit of those who, like herself, are laboring with this formidable scourge of the face, and she is ready to furnish any information that may be required. "Doctor Green." The same man who may have had the remedy for the Restoration of Hearing and Eye Sight. I do hereby certify that the above is a true statement, and request the different printers to give it an insertion. MARY SCHWYTER, North 4th street. City of Philadelphia, Pa. On the 21st day of March eighteen hundred and twenty eight, personally came and appeared before me, John Barker, Mayor, of the said City, Mrs. Mary Schwyter, who on her solemn oath, declares the above statement of facts by her subscribed and seal. Witness my hand and seal. JOHN BARKER, Mayor. March 14. 11-2*

PROPOSALS.
FOR Publishing, until the next Presidential Election, a new Weekly Paper in the Borough of Pottsville, Schuylkill Co., Pa. to be entitled "The Log Cabin." The title of the paper has been chosen to show that an application given in relation to one of the most talented and brave of our Country's sons, the "Log Cabin Candidate," is worthily bestowed, inasmuch as he, by the opening of the Western Country to the enterprising poor settler, by dividing the land districts into half sections, enabled each and every emigrant to build his log cabin, and settle on his own land. It will likewise advocate the interests of the American laborer and American industry, and war against the designs of Martin Van Buren, as expressed by James Buchanan and other of his friends in the United States Senate, of reducing the free labor of our country to a level with the labor of Cuba and the low prices of European countries. It will be the advocate of the Poor Man, not arraying him against those who employ him, but showing that the interests of both are connected, and that it only requires a protection on their industry to make a business fair but not extravagant, we regard general prosperity among all classes. "The Log Cabin" is particularly calculated for Clubs and Associations favorable to the election of William Henry Harrison, and it will contain every species of information, calculated to advance his interests, and repel the calumnies of his enemies. TERMS. 1 Copy for 50 cts. 60 Copies for $20 12 Copies for $1. 100 " " 30 " 25 " " 810

Wharf Property to Rent.
