

Meeting the officer entrusted with these despatches... the Commodore, soon after he had taken them into his cabin...

POPPSVILLE. Saturday Morning, May 16.

The President called, and I thought no more of the affair, until some weeks after, taking up a newspaper, I therein saw it stated that he had taken the British Government schooner Highflyer by stratagem.

REMITTANCES BY MAIL.—A postmaster may enclose money in a letter to the publisher of a newspaper, to pay the subscription of a third person, and frank the letter, if written by himself.

Soon after the peace, dining with Commodore Rodgers at his house in Washington, he related to me the following circumstances, which I give nearly in his own words.

No. 7 and 8 of "X" have been mislaid; if any of our friends have them in possession, they will oblige us by loaning them.

I acknowledge the receipt of your letter, he observed, and was determined to have the signals made on board, and to try the experiment, none of my officers understanding for what purpose they were intended.

THE COAL TRADE. The Coal Trade still continues dull, and there is no demand but for immediate use, which is very limited.

This order was obeyed, and I despatched a lieutenant to bring her signal-book, enjoining on him and the crew the strictest secrecy respecting our character.

Temperance Badge.—We were much gratified during the past week, at the long array of members who have taken the Temperance Pledge, and were quite distinguished at the funeral of one of their members.

On reaching our vessel, he seemed surprised at the size of the deck, praised her cleanliness, and the order in which every thing appeared; admired the new red coats of the marines, and on being invited into the cabin, handed me a bundle of despatches for Admiral Warren, who, he observed, must be within forty miles of the landward.

St. James' Church, Schuylkill Haven.—The Rev. Samuel Buel will preach in this place of worship tomorrow morning. We are pleased to learn that he is likely to become the pastor of the new congregation, and that his usefulness may find an extensive sphere of action.

I asked him what object Admiral Warren had in cruising in that neighborhood? He said, to intercept the American privateers and merchantmen, but particularly to catch Commodore Rodgers, who he understood had commanded one of the largest and fastest sailing frigates in the American navy.

The Burning Mountain, at the head of the West Branch Rail Road, which attracted so much attention last year, is still raging, even more furiously than ever.

Why, yes, sir," he replied; "on board His Majesty's ship Sea-Horse."

Pinetown Coal.—The Advocate, published at Havre de Grace, says, "a boat load of coal from the Pinetown Region, arrived at the Basin of the Tide Water Canal, on Friday last. The coal is of excellent quality, and we doubt not will meet with ready sale at profitable prices."

Why, yes, sir," he replied; "on board His Majesty's ship Sea-Horse."

A Schuylkill County Reporter.—Capt. H. well known on the line of the Schuylkill Canal, was last week at New York, and with hundreds of others went on board the Arabian vessel, lately arrived at that port from Muscat.

Why, yes, sir," he replied; "on board His Majesty's ship Sea-Horse."

The Bedford Victory.—The losses are again at the Bedford Victory, and the defeat in this county, and attribute it to every other cause but the right one, which is a change of public opinion.

Why, yes, sir," he replied; "on board His Majesty's ship Sea-Horse."

Common School System. has been rejected by a town vote, in the Borough of West Chester. "Say, why is this? wherefore? what should we do?"

Why, yes, sir," he replied; "on board His Majesty's ship Sea-Horse."

Mr. John C. Martin has been elected Superintendent of the Merchant's Exchange, Philadelphia, in the place of Mr. Coffee, resigned.

Why, yes, sir," he replied; "on board His Majesty's ship Sea-Horse."

James City County, in Virginia, which by a somewhat remarkable coincidence, is the birth-place of both the Presidential and Vice Presidential Candidates of the People and Reform, gave at the late state election an unanimous vote for the Harrison Ticket.

Coal Companies. Our previous remarks on the subject of coal companies, obtained for mining purposes, as well as those which we may deem necessary hereafter to publish, are acquired simply by a desire of doing public justice, and placing the community on their guard against a system of hoarding extravagance and ruinous speculation, which must involve the most serious consequences.

What effect this most delightful exhibition of female patriotism had on the younger delegates, we dare not venture to say, but it made every married man feel prouder of his wife, and more devoted to his fair countrywomen.

Anthracite for Steam Boats.—A correspondent of the New York American, states that the Steam Boat North America, plying between Albany and New York, uses anthracite coal, exclusive for her fuel.

Coal mining under an incorporation, has ever proved, and must from the nature of the business, continue an unprofitable exertion.

Let us for a moment examine the financial state of the Lehigh Company. We should like to see a statement emanating from them, informing the loan and stock holders, of the actual cost of their improvements and amount of loans.

Another Gross Outrage.—A bill was recently introduced by Mr. Calhoun, of Massachusetts, to limit the compensation of U. S. Marshals and Attorneys.

Some of the Van Buren papers are quoting Aaron Burr as good authority.

Mr. Colhen has extracted a number of corns from the feet of President Van Buren without causing pain, so says a certificate under the hand of the Pink of Democracy.

Montgomery County, Pa. was represented by fifteen delegates at the Baltimore Whig Convention; they were overlooked in the account first published, and have a banner to designate their residence.

Mystification.—Philadelphia will soon acquire to herself a cognomen, which must be "Mystification City," for verily her citizens are over and over fond of making marvels of any and every thing.

At this juncture Mr. McLaughlin, who was on foot, and acting as Marshall for one of the wards, interfered with a view of inducing them to retire.

THE BALL ROLLING.—The splendid symbol of the exalting power of the people, rising in their might to overthrow Van Burenism, which was drawn by the young men of Allegheny county, Maryland, at the Baltimore Whig Convention, was rolled through the streets of Philadelphia, on Thursday, of last week.

Re-assembling of the Legislature.—On Tuesday last, the august dignitaries, who for the present concern the destinies of our State, re-convened at the Capitol.

They did accidentally stumble on one or two acts which had the effect, partially, to restore public confidence, and this will doubtless strike the radicals as something too heinous to be let alone.

They do not therefore be disappointed at any issue of their schemes;—they have found themselves a doomed party—their sentence is written in characters of fire, and like the gambler, who stakes his all upon one desperate chance, which falling, ends both hope and life, so is their reckless spirit shown!
