

POTTSVILLE.

Saturday Morning, June 27.

Our farming neighbors have had a delightful week for hay-making...

Under the Van Buren dynasty, the sum of $1,500 is paid the President's son for signing his father's name...

There is no annoyance in all God's creation, more contemptible than your lounging, prying, ill-mannered loafer...

We copy the above from the March Chunk Courier, simply to show that the brothers Painter are at fever heat...

Tippeneau Song Book.—Elliot & Co. of Harrisburg, have published a collection of songs under this title...

It is stated that—Col. James Page, the Postmaster at Philadelphia, Penn., and one of the most prominent as well as one of the most influential Democrats in the Keystone State...

Anthracite Furnaces.—We are pleased to learn that at Reading, recently blown in with anthracite coal at Reading Creek and Danville...

Joseph Coughenour, Esq., has resigned the office of Cashier of the Bank of the United States, in consequence of ill health...

Bank Rags.—When Amos Kendall was Post Master General, he ordered no Bank notes to be received at his post-offices...

The Hon. Anson Brown, M. C. from New York, died at Ballston, last week. He has suffered from indigestion for several months past...

The members of the Pottsville Lyceum, who were conversant with the message of Tuesday Evening, have repeated opportunities of amusement and information...

A hail storm passed over a part of Montgomery County, on the 18th inst. which occasioned much damage to the crops.

Queen Victoria was of age, twenty-one, on the 18th inst. when will her years of discretion commence?

Cheap as Dirt.—For $14 you can go by steamboat from Pottsville to St. Louis; and an additional perquisite to the steward, will ensure you being blown up!

An Appropriate Toast.—At the celebration of the arrival of the first English steamship at Boston, the Unicorn, the following apposite sentiment was given by Professor Longfellow:

Queen Victoria was of age, twenty-one, on the 18th inst. when will her years of discretion commence?

Job R. Tyson's Lecture, on the "Office and Duties of History," delivered before the Pottsville Lyceum, on Tuesday evening last, fully merits the eulogiums which have been bestowed upon it...

According to a detailed statement in the Boston Atlas, the Harrison majority in Virginia at the recent election, was 10,439.

And yet the Richmond Enquirer is clinging to the delusive hope that the Old Dominion will return to her idols. Virginia is safe for Harrison as any state in the Union.

Cul. Jack, of Philadelphia, long a prominent Democrat, and Van Buren man, has offered himself as a candidate for Congress in the first District, on the grounds of the support of a protective Tariff, a change of Rulers, opposition to the Sub Treasury, and the necessity of a sound circulating medium.

The battle of the Thames is wisely overlooked in the panegyrics of the Whigs. Not a syllable is uttered respecting the merits or demerits of their hero in that conflict.—"Spirit of the Times."

Except by the British Tories, and the Canada papers, who all say that Gen. Harrison should be struck under the fifth rib" because he dared whip their friends. The spirit of the times is rapid and like the party it advocates, has been so much shaken lately, that it cannot wonder at its being rick, and the tears are so numerous, that it has lost all its fine body!

The two officers of the army, who were court martialed at Baltimore for having obtained Commissary supplies from whigs, instead of locos, have been acquitted of all felonious intent, and of having clandestinely conspired to undermine the stability of the republic...

The Baltimore Sun advises political editors to keep cool!

What, with Fahrenheit at 96! The sun may do so in its own shady neutrality, but as for us, "Some fiery devil hovers in the air, And pours down mischief!"

Mr. Glover, who was a hatter, fell into Mason's Creek, Ky. and was drowned.

We learn that Job R. Tyson, Esq., will, by invitation, deliver an address on Tuesday evening next, before the Pottsville Lyceum.

Wm. H. Keating, Esq. of Philadelphia, died in London on the 15th of last May. He had gone abroad to seek a renewal of his health...

Statistics of the Census.—The village of Newburg, N. Y. has a population of 5652.

The borough of Lebanon, Pa. 1845. The population of West Chester, in 1840, is 2159; in 1830, it was 1258; and in 1834, it was about 1550.

Lowell, Mass., contains a population of 20,981—7241 males, and 13,630 females.

New Bedford, Mass. contains a population of 12,685. In 1830 it was 7929.

Springfield, Mass. 11,000 inhabitants. In 1837 the number was 9234.

The Globe praises Post Master General Niles for his services when a Senator, and speaks of his eloquence! Well, he may be eloquent, but it is like a stuttering man's comparison to a pepper box on a damp day—ve-ee-ry p-oo-poor delivery!

"Contempt for the People," according to Amos Kendall, is a leading feature of political warfare.

We are also requested to extend a general invitation to all iron men, and those interested in the iron business, to call at the Furnaces and examine for themselves.

Bank notes current in the section of the country where a subscriber resides, will be received, provided they are not more than ten per cent below specie in value.

The Hon. Anson Brown, M. C. from New York, died at Ballston, last week. He has suffered from indigestion for several months past, and but recently left Washington to return home.

Previously to the adjournment of our Legislature, Mr. Higgins, of Northumberland, submitted a resolution which was agreed to, affirming that the public domain is the common property of all the States, and should not be ceded to the States within which it lies.

Queen Victoria was of age, twenty-one, on the 18th inst. when will her years of discretion commence?

Cheap as Dirt.—For $14 you can go by steamboat from Pottsville to St. Louis; and an additional perquisite to the steward, will ensure you being blown up!

An Appropriate Toast.—At the celebration of the arrival of the first English steamship at Boston, the Unicorn, the following apposite sentiment was given by Professor Longfellow:

Queen Victoria was of age, twenty-one, on the 18th inst. when will her years of discretion commence?

Job R. Tyson's Lecture, on the "Office and Duties of History," delivered before the Pottsville Lyceum, on Tuesday evening last, fully merits the eulogiums which have been bestowed upon it...

According to a detailed statement in the Boston Atlas, the Harrison majority in Virginia at the recent election, was 10,439.

And yet the Richmond Enquirer is clinging to the delusive hope that the Old Dominion will return to her idols. Virginia is safe for Harrison as any state in the Union.

Cul. Jack, of Philadelphia, long a prominent Democrat, and Van Buren man, has offered himself as a candidate for Congress in the first District, on the grounds of the support of a protective Tariff, a change of Rulers, opposition to the Sub Treasury, and the necessity of a sound circulating medium.

The battle of the Thames is wisely overlooked in the panegyrics of the Whigs. Not a syllable is uttered respecting the merits or demerits of their hero in that conflict.—"Spirit of the Times."

Except by the British Tories, and the Canada papers, who all say that Gen. Harrison should be struck under the fifth rib" because he dared whip their friends. The spirit of the times is rapid and like the party it advocates, has been so much shaken lately, that it cannot wonder at its being rick, and the tears are so numerous, that it has lost all its fine body!

The two officers of the army, who were court martialed at Baltimore for having obtained Commissary supplies from whigs, instead of locos, have been acquitted of all felonious intent, and of having clandestinely conspired to undermine the stability of the republic...

The Baltimore Sun advises political editors to keep cool!

What, with Fahrenheit at 96! The sun may do so in its own shady neutrality, but as for us, "Some fiery devil hovers in the air, And pours down mischief!"

The New York Evening Post says,—"Benjamin Raab, Esq., Secretary of the Legation of the United States, at London, arrived yesterday in the Great Western. Mr. Raab is believed to be the bearer of important dispatches from our minister Mr. Stevenson. He proceeded direct to Washington, immediately on landing, and we understand that he returns to England again very soon."

Mr. Glover, who was a hatter, fell into Mason's Creek, Ky. and was drowned.

We learn that Job R. Tyson, Esq., will, by invitation, deliver an address on Tuesday evening next, before the Pottsville Lyceum.

Wm. H. Keating, Esq. of Philadelphia, died in London on the 15th of last May. He had gone abroad to seek a renewal of his health...

Statistics of the Census.—The village of Newburg, N. Y. has a population of 5652.

The borough of Lebanon, Pa. 1845. The population of West Chester, in 1840, is 2159; in 1830, it was 1258; and in 1834, it was about 1550.

Lowell, Mass., contains a population of 20,981—7241 males, and 13,630 females.

New Bedford, Mass. contains a population of 12,685. In 1830 it was 7929.

Springfield, Mass. 11,000 inhabitants. In 1837 the number was 9234.

The Globe praises Post Master General Niles for his services when a Senator, and speaks of his eloquence! Well, he may be eloquent, but it is like a stuttering man's comparison to a pepper box on a damp day—ve-ee-ry p-oo-poor delivery!

"Contempt for the People," according to Amos Kendall, is a leading feature of political warfare.

We are also requested to extend a general invitation to all iron men, and those interested in the iron business, to call at the Furnaces and examine for themselves.

Bank notes current in the section of the country where a subscriber resides, will be received, provided they are not more than ten per cent below specie in value.

The Hon. Anson Brown, M. C. from New York, died at Ballston, last week. He has suffered from indigestion for several months past, and but recently left Washington to return home.

Previously to the adjournment of our Legislature, Mr. Higgins, of Northumberland, submitted a resolution which was agreed to, affirming that the public domain is the common property of all the States, and should not be ceded to the States within which it lies.

Queen Victoria was of age, twenty-one, on the 18th inst. when will her years of discretion commence?

Cheap as Dirt.—For $14 you can go by steamboat from Pottsville to St. Louis; and an additional perquisite to the steward, will ensure you being blown up!

An Appropriate Toast.—At the celebration of the arrival of the first English steamship at Boston, the Unicorn, the following apposite sentiment was given by Professor Longfellow:

Queen Victoria was of age, twenty-one, on the 18th inst. when will her years of discretion commence?

Job R. Tyson's Lecture, on the "Office and Duties of History," delivered before the Pottsville Lyceum, on Tuesday evening last, fully merits the eulogiums which have been bestowed upon it...

According to a detailed statement in the Boston Atlas, the Harrison majority in Virginia at the recent election, was 10,439.

And yet the Richmond Enquirer is clinging to the delusive hope that the Old Dominion will return to her idols. Virginia is safe for Harrison as any state in the Union.

Cul. Jack, of Philadelphia, long a prominent Democrat, and Van Buren man, has offered himself as a candidate for Congress in the first District, on the grounds of the support of a protective Tariff, a change of Rulers, opposition to the Sub Treasury, and the necessity of a sound circulating medium.

The battle of the Thames is wisely overlooked in the panegyrics of the Whigs. Not a syllable is uttered respecting the merits or demerits of their hero in that conflict.—"Spirit of the Times."

Except by the British Tories, and the Canada papers, who all say that Gen. Harrison should be struck under the fifth rib" because he dared whip their friends. The spirit of the times is rapid and like the party it advocates, has been so much shaken lately, that it cannot wonder at its being rick, and the tears are so numerous, that it has lost all its fine body!

The two officers of the army, who were court martialed at Baltimore for having obtained Commissary supplies from whigs, instead of locos, have been acquitted of all felonious intent, and of having clandestinely conspired to undermine the stability of the republic...

The Baltimore Sun advises political editors to keep cool!

What, with Fahrenheit at 96! The sun may do so in its own shady neutrality, but as for us, "Some fiery devil hovers in the air, And pours down mischief!"

Com. Elliot's trial is ended, and the sealed verdict sent to Washington.

Show us a man who intimates that Gen. Harrison is a coward, and we will show you a man that you may kick with the most perfect impunity.—Fayette.

The Central Van Buren Committee rebuked by one of its own Members.—Mr. Hax, editor of the American Sentinel, a man whose honesty has never yet been questioned by friend or foe...

"We have consented to publish in today's paper the Address of the Democratic Central Committee on the ground that it is a document belonging to the times, and because it emanates from the political party with which we have usually acted, through their committee whose names are appended."

It is proper also to remark, as the name of Mr. Hax appears among the signatures, that he was not present at his appointment as one of the Central Committee, and never saw the address till it appeared in the public prints.

It is proper also to remark, as the name of Mr. Hax appears among the signatures, that he was not present at his appointment as one of the Central Committee, and never saw the address till it appeared in the public prints.

It is proper also to remark, as the name of Mr. Hax appears among the signatures, that he was not present at his appointment as one of the Central Committee, and never saw the address till it appeared in the public prints.

It is proper also to remark, as the name of Mr. Hax appears among the signatures, that he was not present at his appointment as one of the Central Committee, and never saw the address till it appeared in the public prints.

It is proper also to remark, as the name of Mr. Hax appears among the signatures, that he was not present at his appointment as one of the Central Committee, and never saw the address till it appeared in the public prints.

It is proper also to remark, as the name of Mr. Hax appears among the signatures, that he was not present at his appointment as one of the Central Committee, and never saw the address till it appeared in the public prints.

It is proper also to remark, as the name of Mr. Hax appears among the signatures, that he was not present at his appointment as one of the Central Committee, and never saw the address till it appeared in the public prints.

It is proper also to remark, as the name of Mr. Hax appears among the signatures, that he was not present at his appointment as one of the Central Committee, and never saw the address till it appeared in the public prints.

It is proper also to remark, as the name of Mr. Hax appears among the signatures, that he was not present at his appointment as one of the Central Committee, and never saw the address till it appeared in the public prints.

It is proper also to remark, as the name of Mr. Hax appears among the signatures, that he was not present at his appointment as one of the Central Committee, and never saw the address till it appeared in the public prints.

It is proper also to remark, as the name of Mr. Hax appears among the signatures, that he was not present at his appointment as one of the Central Committee, and never saw the address till it appeared in the public prints.

It is proper also to remark, as the name of Mr. Hax appears among the signatures, that he was not present at his appointment as one of the Central Committee, and never saw the address till it appeared in the public prints.

It is proper also to remark, as the name of Mr. Hax appears among the signatures, that he was not present at his appointment as one of the Central Committee, and never saw the address till it appeared in the public prints.

It is proper also to remark, as the name of Mr. Hax appears among the signatures, that he was not present at his appointment as one of the Central Committee, and never saw the address till it appeared in the public prints.

It is proper also to remark, as the name of Mr. Hax appears among the signatures, that he was not present at his appointment as one of the Central Committee, and never saw the address till it appeared in the public prints.

It is proper also to remark, as the name of Mr. Hax appears among the signatures, that he was not present at his appointment as one of the Central Committee, and never saw the address till it appeared in the public prints.

It is proper also to remark, as the name of Mr. Hax appears among the signatures, that he was not present at his appointment as one of the Central Committee, and never saw the address till it appeared in the public prints.

It is proper also to remark, as the name of Mr. Hax appears among the signatures, that he was not present at his appointment as one of the Central Committee, and never saw the address till it appeared in the public prints.

It is proper also to remark, as the name of Mr. Hax appears among the signatures, that he was not present at his appointment as one of the Central Committee, and never saw the address till it appeared in the public prints.

It is proper also to remark, as the name of Mr. Hax appears among the signatures, that he was not present at his appointment as one of the Central Committee, and never saw the address till it appeared in the public prints.

It is proper also to remark, as the name of Mr. Hax appears among the signatures, that he was not present at his appointment as one of the Central Committee, and never saw the address till it appeared in the public prints.

It is proper also to remark, as the name of Mr. Hax appears among the signatures, that he was not present at his appointment as one of the Central Committee, and never saw the address till it appeared in the public prints.

It is proper also to remark, as the name of Mr. Hax appears among the signatures, that he was not present at his appointment as one of the Central Committee, and never saw the address till it appeared in the public prints.

It is proper also to remark, as the name of Mr. Hax appears among the signatures, that he was not present at his appointment as one of the Central Committee, and never saw the address till it appeared in the public prints.

It is proper also to remark, as the name of Mr. Hax appears among the signatures, that he was not present at his appointment as one of the Central Committee, and never saw the address till it appeared in the public prints.

It is proper also to remark, as the name of Mr. Hax appears among the signatures, that he was not present at his appointment as one of the Central Committee, and never saw the address till it appeared in the public prints.

It is proper also to remark, as the name of Mr. Hax appears among the signatures, that he was not present at his appointment as one of the Central Committee, and never saw the address till it appeared in the public prints.

It is proper also to remark, as the name of Mr. Hax appears among the signatures, that he was not present at his appointment as one of the Central Committee, and never saw the address till it appeared in the public prints.

It is proper also to remark, as the name of Mr. Hax appears among the signatures, that he was not present at his appointment as one of the Central Committee, and never saw the address till it appeared in the public prints.

It is proper also to remark, as the name of Mr. Hax appears among the signatures, that he was not present at his appointment as one of the Central Committee, and never saw the address till it appeared in the public prints.

It is proper also to remark, as the name of Mr. Hax appears among the signatures, that he was not present at his appointment as one of the Central Committee, and never saw the address till it appeared in the public prints.

policy is to make the "rich richer, and the poor poorer," and whose professions for the dear people have been so long and loud, but whose practice proves to us that they love "the loaves and fishes" more than the people's rights.

We also find a similar resignation, signed by six members of the "Van Buren Committee of Vigilance" for the town of Colerain, Ohio.

Next follows the association of FORTY-SEVEN GERMANS, in a small town in Ohio.

Messrs. Thomas and Roman, of the Illinois, and Mr. Andrew Palmer, of the Michigan legislature, all leading Loco locos, have boldly come out and renounced allegiance to the magician and his necromancy.

Four inhabitants of Springfield, who say, "We have always been Democrats of the Jeffersonian school, and still adhere to the same principles."

We voted for Mr. Van Buren at the last Presidential election, believing that he was honest, and capable of performing the duties of Chief Magistrate.

We voted for Mr. Van Buren at the last Presidential election, believing that he was honest, and capable of performing the duties of Chief Magistrate.

Fourteen citizens of Urbana, who say that they were "original supporters of Andrew Jackson, and heretofore the supporters of the party now in power, have recently reviewed the acts and principles of this administration, and after carefully weighing them in the balances of reason and truth, feel constrained to say that we can no longer act with a party, the tendency of whose measures is to destroy the vital interests of the people."

From the Circleville Herald, seven, "heretofore supporters of Martin Van Buren," dated from Deer Creek township, who have resolved to support old "Tip," and let Mr. Van Buren take care of himself.

Eighteen from New Carlisle, Miami county, who say, "we good and true Democrats, and therefore voting for and supporting the present Administration, but we now find that the promises made by Martin Van Buren, have been violated: that he has departed from the true principles of democracy as laid down by Thomas Jefferson."

Col. James Taylor, of Newport, Kentucky, one of the most influential supporters of Van Buren at the last election in that State, has taken the stump in favor of Gen. Harrison.

Gen. Gaines, of the Army, gave the following toast at New Orleans, recently:—"Believing William Henry Harrison will follow the footsteps of George Washington, I desire that he may be elected President of the United States"

More Changes!

Since we commenced last week to sum up the very many changes from the errors of loco loco fanaticism to the cause of Harrison, we find they have increased to such a number that it would require many impressions of our "Journal," to contain the extracts from our exchange papers.

Col. James Taylor, of Newport, Kentucky, one of the most influential supporters of Van Buren at the last election in that State, has taken the stump in favor of Gen. Harrison.

Gen. Gaines, of the Army, gave the following toast at New Orleans, recently:—"Believing William Henry Harrison will follow the footsteps of George Washington, I desire that he may be elected President of the United States"

The People are Coming!

If, as many of our opponents would make it out, objection from the support of the Administration is a revolting and treasonous gathering of our freemen, and the treason being successful, is no longer treason. In every part of the Union, the people in their sovereignty, have assembled to testify their disapprobation of the Executive course, and devise means to carry out their plans of political regeneration.

At Worcester, Massachusetts, a State Convention assembled and nominated the Hon. John Davis for Governor. At Fort Meigs, one of the most interesting ceremonies ever recorded, attended by at least 15,000 persons.

At Otsego, New York, upwards of 10,000 persons assembled to erect a Log Cabin.

At Otsego, New York, upwards of 10,000 persons assembled to erect a Log Cabin.

At Otsego, New York, upwards of 10,000 persons assembled to erect a Log Cabin.

At Otsego, New York, upwards of 10,000 persons assembled to erect a Log Cabin.

At Otsego, New York, upwards of 10,000 persons assembled to erect a Log Cabin.

At Otsego, New York, upwards of 10,000 persons assembled to erect a Log Cabin.

At Otsego, New York, upwards of 10,000 persons assembled to erect a Log Cabin.

At Otsego, New York, upwards of 10,000 persons assembled to erect a Log Cabin.

At Otsego, New York, upwards of 10,000 persons assembled to erect a Log Cabin.

At Otsego, New York, upwards of 10,000 persons assembled to erect a Log Cabin.

At Otsego, New York, upwards of 10,000 persons assembled to erect a Log Cabin.

At Otsego, New York, upwards of 10,000 persons assembled to erect a Log Cabin.

At Otsego, New York, upwards of 10,000 persons assembled to erect a Log Cabin.

At Otsego, New York, upwards of 10,000 persons assembled to erect a Log Cabin.

At Otsego, New York, upwards of 10,000 persons assembled to erect a Log Cabin.

At Otsego, New York, upwards of 10,000 persons assembled to erect a Log Cabin.

Twenty days later from Europe.

By the arrival of the Great Western, from Bristol, which place she left on the 4th, we have full files of papers up to the day of her departure.

The Great Western brings a large number of passengers, among whom are several Americans, with their families. The English news, so far as we have gleaned at our office, is very important.

Parliament had been doing nothing of great interest for several days.

The Money Market, it will be seen by reference to the news under that head, continues easy and improving. The Bank of England has made its quarterly returns, which show a steady increase of specie in her vaults.

We regret that the cotton market does not improve, but has met with a further slight decline. The Eproms seem to engross the attention of all classes, as the Queen and Prince Albert attended them on the Derby Day.

The Queen and Prince Albert were very popular—they rode out nearly every day in the Parks, and attended the theatres and other places of amusement frequently.

Her Majesty, through Lord Belhaven, Chief Commissioner to the General Assembly of Scotland, has presented the munificent royal donation of £2000 for the propagation of the gospel in the Highlands.

There is an attempt to open the National Gallery and British Museum upon the Sabbath, for the accommodation of those persons who cannot visit these places during the week days.

Courvoisier, the valet, and supposed murderer of Lord William Russell, had his final examination, and is committed to Newgate to await his trial.

There appears to be considerable excitement about the treatment of Ferguson O'Connor, who was imprisoned in York Castle for a political offence.

The crops appear to be doing remarkably well throughout England, but trade is generally as bad as it can be.

York Minster, a venerable and magnificent building at York, was destroyed by fire on the 21st ult. It is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary. The loss, it is supposed, cannot be repaired for less than £100,000.

Excitement in Paris.—The Paris papers of Wednesday are, to the exclusion of other matters, occupied with the debate in the Chamber of Deputies on the preceding day on the report of the bill for the removal of the remains of the Emperor Napoleon from St. Helena to Paris.

The Chamber of Deputies on the 22nd inst. has passed a resolution to remove the remains of Napoleon from St. Helena to Paris.

Excitement in Paris.—The Paris papers of Wednesday are, to the exclusion of other matters, occupied with the debate in the Chamber of Deputies on the preceding day on the report of the bill for the removal of the remains of the Emperor Napoleon from St. Helena to Paris.

The Chamber of Deputies on the 22nd inst. has passed a resolution to remove the remains of Napoleon from St. Helena to Paris.

Excitement in Paris.—The Paris papers of Wednesday are, to the exclusion of other matters, occupied with the debate in the Chamber of Deputies on the preceding day on the report of the bill for the removal of the remains of the Emperor Napoleon from St. Helena to Paris.

The Chamber of Deputies on the 22nd inst. has passed a resolution to remove the remains of Napoleon from St. Helena to Paris.

Excitement in Paris.—The Paris papers of Wednesday are, to the exclusion of other matters, occupied with the debate in the Chamber of Deputies on the preceding day on the report of the bill for the removal of the remains of the Emperor Napoleon from St. Helena to Paris.

The Chamber of Deputies on the 22nd inst. has passed a resolution to remove the remains of Napoleon from St. Helena to Paris.