BARON VON HUTCHLER'S HERB PILLS.
 THESE PILLS are composed of Herbs, which exert a specific action upon the heart, give an impulse or strength to the arterial system; the blood is quickened and equalized in its circulation through all the vessels, whether the skin, the parts situated internally, or the extremities; and as all the secretions of the body are drawn from the blood, there is a consequent increase of every secretion, and a quickened action of the absorbent and exhalant, or discharging vessels. Any morbid action which may have taken place is corrected, all obstructions are removed, the blood purified, and the body resumes a healthy state.

Pills! Pills!
 THE safest, the best, most efficacious and truly vegetable Pills in existence are
DR. LEIDY'S BLOOD PILLS.
 A component part of which is Sarsaparilla, and known to be the most efficient and thorough purifier of the blood and animal fluids ever discovered. As a gentle or active purgative, they are equally efficacious—without taking them you change of diet or restraint from occupation is necessary. They are taken at all times and under all circumstances—they will not reduce or weaken the system by their effect; they most judiciously do—much complaint upon their virtues is unnecessary—their reputation is well established, numerous proofs of their efficacy having been published at different times. Suffice it to say that in addition to their efficacy in diseases of the stomach, liver, intestines, &c., they are the only pills in existence that cleanse and purify the blood and animal fluids, removing all morbid and diseased humors therefrom, and thereby removing all eruptions from the skin—dry and watery pimples from the face, scab and body-tetter, rash, or breaking out of the skin, and all cutaneous affections whatever.
 They are prepared from vegetable extracts, warranted free from mercury and the minerals, and by a regular physician, assisted by Drs. Physic, Homer, Gibson, Jackson, James, Dewees, Har, Coxe, &c. Lesdin Gibson, numerous other physicians throughout the United States, who daily employ them in their practice, affirming that they in their patients in preference to all other purgatives, and in preference to all other preparations of Sarsaparilla, in consequence of their possessing the combined effects of correcting the diseased humors of the blood and fluids, and by their purgative properties, removing or carrying off from the system, with out producing the slightest inconvenience, or requiring restrictions, &c.
 Numerous testimonials, certificates and recommendations of the directions with each box. Dr. N. B. Leidy's signature accompanies the genuine on two sides of each box on a yellow label.
Price Twenty-five cents per Box.

SUMMER'S GONE.
 BY MRS. KANTON.

Hark through the dim woods dying,
 With a moan,
 Faintly the winds are sighing—
 Summer's gone!
 There when my bruised heart felt,
 And the pale moon her face revealed,
 Darkly my footsteps stealthily
 To weep alone,
 Hour after hour I wander
 By men unseen—
 And sadly my young thoughts ponder
 On what hath been:
 There in our own green bowers,
 Long ago,
 Our path through the tangled flowers
 Treading slow;
 Off hand in hand entwining—
 Off side by side reclining;
 We've watched in its crimson shining
 The sunset glow,
 Dimly the sun now burneth
 For me alone,
 Spring after spring returneth,
 Thou art gone,
 Summer's gone!
 Still on my warm cheek playeth
 The restless breeze;
 Still in its freshness strayeth
 Between the trees,
 Still the blue streamlet gusheth—
 Still the proud river rusheth—
 Still the calm silence husheth—
 The heart's disease;
 But who shall bring our meetings
 Back again?
 What shall recall thy greetings—
 Loved in vain?
 Summer's gone!

POTTSDALE.

WHICH IS THE BANK PARTY.

The editor of the Newark (N. J.) Advertiser, has compiled from the official records at Washington, the following table which shows conclusively which is the Bank Party, and to whom this country is indebted for the great issue of paper money—and all the extravagance and speculation which has characterized the country since 1833.

From 1820 to 1830, including the last four years of Monroe's Administration, all of John Quincy Adams, and two of General Jackson's, the increase of Banks in the United States was only 22

Increase of Bank capital from 1820 to 1830, about $8,000,000

Increase of Banks from 1830, to 1837, 7 years during the Reformer's Administration, the increase of Banks were 348

The increase of Banking capital during that period, was upwards of $268,000,000

The statistics also show that during the last period of seven years, the aggregate number of the sessions of the Legislatures in all the States, were as follows:

Jackson or Reform.	118
Anti-Jackson or Whig.	40
In favor of Calhoun.	4
Total	172

Of the 348 Banks—the Jackson or Reform Party Legislature created 234

With a capital of upwards of $205,000,000

The anti Jackson or Whig party, 134

With a capital of over $62,000,000

The above is compiled from the official documents, filed in the Secretary of the Treasury's Office at Washington. Read this statement carefully, and it will not be difficult to decide which of the two parties may justly be styled the "Bank Party."

FOR THE MINER'S JOURNAL.
 Pottsville, October 12th, 1840.

Mr. BANNAN—If you think the following lines, by a "Working Man," will be of any service in the glorious Cause of Reform, you may, if you choose, give them a place in your "Journal."

All Working Men ought to vote for W. H. Harrison.

My fellow Working Men—The present is an all-important crisis—both in the history of our country, and in the history of ourselves. The future welfare of the country and the future welfare of ourselves and families depend upon our decision and action at this time—I mean in the selection of a proper person for the President of these United States. Two individuals are held forth by the great political parties of the Country for the high office, each demanding our suffrages. Under a Republican Government like ours, where the rulers are chosen by the sovereign will of the people, every citizen ought to study enough of politics and public characters held forth for influential offices, as to enable him to give his influence for the election of officers best calculated to promote the general good. It is a lamentable neglect that hundreds and thousands entirely neglect this important particular, and will vote for their party, right or wrong, from the sole consideration that "my Father" when at the same time, they are, perhaps, assisting to lift into office an individual, who, when the power is once put into his hands, would mercilessly grind them to powder. Every citizen, and more particularly working men, should seriously consider for themselves the merits of the two candidates for the Presidency at the coming election. Martin Van Buren has been tried—his sayings and doings are before us. Has he done his duty as a President? Has he done according to his promises? Has he done his duty to the people? Has he done his duty to us Working Men?

GIVING UP.

All the locos in this neighborhood, whose opinion are worth any thing, give up the contest as lost. And so does

MARTIN VAN BUREN.

We learn that he has written to some of his particular friends, requesting them not to spend any money in the contest, as ALL IS LOST.

Beware of lying Handbills distributed on the eve of Elections, they are generally false, otherwise they would have been brought out before.

MR. WEBSTER AT RICHMOND.
 Richmond, 5th October, 1840.

Dear —: Our State Convention has just closed its labor, and a more enthusiastic and determined spirit never pervaded a body of men. Virginia is just as safe for Harrison as any state in this Union. I not only give you this as my candid and deliberate opinion, but I do not believe that there is a Whig in the whole State that doubts it, and not many of the other party who are tolerably well informed. Mr. Webster has won for himself golden opinions, and has removed the prejudices of his political friends, and conciliated the animosities and commended the respect of his opponents. His speeches have exhibited the true Virginia doctrine as to State Rights, and we are all Federalists if he be one for Madison himself never preached more sound democratic doctrines than he has in this city. From this point forth, he will be regarded in Virginia, as he deserves to be regarded every where, amongst the loftiest patriots, the most profound statesmen, and the ablest defenders of the Constitution.—N. Y. Courier.

TEMPERANCE RECORD.

Mr. Editor.—Please publish the substance for the good of the many ruined husbands and families. A constant reader earnestly desires this:

"PUT DOWN THAT GLASS!"

There is no harm in putting it down; there may be harm in taking it.

First.—To put it down will not make you poorer, but a glass, two or three a day, in a single year amount to a handsome sum.

Second.—To put it down will not injure your health or diminish your strength.—To take it will surely do so.

Third.—To put it down will not impair your credit or respectability. To take it will do harm to both.

Fourth.—To put it down will not make you a worse father, husband or citizen. To take it will injure you in all these relations.

Fifth.—To put it down will not be an example that your children should be afraid to imitate. To take it will be.

Sixth.—To put it down will not awaken conscience to reproach and condemn you. To take it renders conscience your foe.

Seventh.—To put it down will not embitter your recollection of the past. To take it will.

Eighth.—To put it down will not confirm the habit of drinking.—To take it will.

A respectable gentleman called to give us the following instance of a great change for the better in the Temperance cause:

Some time ago, a woman called on him to make known her misery, and complained that her husband was always drunk, abused her, provided nothing for the family, and made her life wretched and unhappy. The man himself spent all his earnings for ardent spirits, and was literally in rags. The gentleman used his influence to make peace and to get the man to agree to drink but one dram foreign and after-noon, and that always mixed with water; and to attend to his work and provide for his family. This the man agreed to, and soon made a very great improvement in his affairs. He some time ago went one step farther and joined the Temperance Society at St. Paul's church, on Grant's Hill, and he has now got good warm clothes, lives happy with his family, has good furniture in his house, and has laid up a hundred dollars in money, and he and his wife wonder at the great change produced by living on strictly temperance principles, and attending well to their household affairs. Let others imitate this noble example, and like this happy family they will exult at the change, and bow the knees in thankfulness to God, for the blessings attending the Temperance society. We are informed that near 1000 persons have subscribed to the Boston Catholic Temperance society.—Pittsburg Intelligencer.

THE TARIFF IN DANGER.

Friends of the Tariff, come up to its rescue.

THE DESTRUCTION OF THE TARIFF AND DIRECT TAXATION OPENLY A VOWED.

From the Poughkeepsie Journal

"It is the settled determination of Mr. Van Buren and his friends, if they succeed in the coming election to abolish all protective duties, put an end to the whole Custom House system, and provide for the payment of the expenses of the Government by a direct tax upon Property!"

This is the language of Isaac Hill, before the Democratic Association of the city of Providence, in a lecture delivered a few weeks since. Intimations of such a design have been given from various quarters by the accredited and authorized exponents of Mr. Van Buren's views; but here is a bold avowal of the scheme by one of his own body guard, by a constituent part of the Power behind the throne, greater than the throne itself. It is true, that this result is to be apprehended, even with all our protective duties, inasmuch as the unexampled prodigality of the General Government has already brought a National debt of about 20,000,000 of dollars upon us; which we have no means now of wiping off; but we were hardly prepared for the avowal of this doctrine, by so distinguished a man, in the confidence of the administration, as Isaac Hill.

Take this in connection with the following extract from Van Buren's recent letter to Virginia:

"A web more artfully contrived, composed of a high protective tariff, a system of internal improvements, and a National Bank, was then twined around the sleeping giant in the vain hope of subjecting him forever to the dominion and will of the ambitious and grasping few; and you have seen how he has scattered the whole to the winds when roused by the warning voice of the honest and intrepid Jackson."

Take also in connection with this, the following extract of Mr. Calhoun's letter, to some political friends who invited him to join in a celebration of the passage of the Sub-Treasury Bill, at the White Sulphur Springs in Virginia, and we have this whole plot of the Van Buren and Calhoun coalition discovered:

"But this is not all that has been done. Much still remains to be added, and among them, I rejoice to state, that the system of protective tariffs, so pre-eminent in mischief, is about to expire. Yes, that system, which has done so much to divide and distract the country; to corrupt one portion and impoverish and alienate the other, which poured into the Treasury so many millions beyond the wants of the Government, extinguishing, by its effects, the spirit of economy; and substituting profusion, extravagance and waste, is gasping. I trust, its last breath; and with it the connected and kindred system of lawless expenditures on innumerable objects not authorized by the Constitution."

When the tariff is abolished, a hard money currency introduced, and direct taxes imposed for the support of Government, (for this is openly avowed by Mr. Hill) and is an inevitable consequence of abolishing the tariff)—what do our readers suppose will be the wages of labor? We shall then indeed have approximated to the rates of Cuba and of China! Yet such success the tendency of all things, for Mr. Calhoun is the author of power, and without his aid Mr. Van Buren cannot carry a single measure through Congress. Is the country ready for this consummation?
