ATTEMPTED RAPE. - We regret to learn that most infamous attempt was made to commit a rape on a young girl about 14 years of age, in Port Carbon, on Tuesday evaning last, by a brute by the name of McLaughlin. He locked her in a room in a house belonging to Patrick Horn- and was only prevented from accomplishing his object, by the screams of the girl. When rescued, the clothes were nearly all torn from her person. McLaughlin was arrested and is now in Jail-but what is the use of going to the trouble to try him-so long as the Governor is ready to grant a pardon to almost every criminal convicted now-a-days, it matters not for what offence of Gan. Harrison has passed the Senate by a vote of he may have been sentenced.

This is the second attempt to commit a rape in the neighborhood of Port Carbon since the pardon of the wretch by Gov. Porter, who was recently convicted for a similar offence, and sentenced to ten years imprisonment in the Penitentiary.

Those who were instrumental in obtaining that pardon, must be held accountable at the bar of public opinion -- a fearful responsibility rests upon their Crime stalks abroad in the open day-and the case of those unfortunate families yesterday, may be ours to-day. Let the citizens therefore convene a public meeting, and demand of the Governor the names of those who petitioned for the pardon, and at the same time publicly repudiate the gross outrage upon the moral sense of this community, proclaimed to the county" signed the pardon on the ground that they considered eighteen months sufficient punishment for a man convicted of a crime, which in Massachusetts, Louisiana, and a number of other States, would have been punished with death.

SCHUTCHILL COUNTY IRON-AND EXTERPRISE. -A Boat load of Cast Iron Pipes for the New York Water Works, was shipped a few days since from the Foundry of Mr. Tobias Wintersteen, a very enterprising and industrious citizen of Port Carbon. These pipes are eighteen inches in diameter, and weigh upwards of 2300 lbs. each. Competent judges pronounced the castings to be equal to any work of that description they had ever seen. The Iron used is exclusively the production of Schuvlkill county. being a mixture of Anthracite with Charcoal Iron.

The West Branch folks are going ahead. They are now shipping more than one-half the Coal from this region. The great secret of the prosperity of that region is a good Rail Road, to carry the coal to the Landings. The tolls and expenses on nearly all the other roads absorb a very large portion of the profits. Land holders and others interested ought to take this matter into consideration.

Great Mendicity -According to a recent calculation made by M. This calculation shows there is one mendieant in every 166 inhabitants.

Alarming .- Mr. Pickens of South Carolina, distinctly gave the House of Representatives, and the President of the people of the United States and the whole world to understand, that if by "fiscal agent of the government" was meant a United States Bank, he, Mr. Pickens, of the Empire of South Carolina, entered his protest against it at once. In the production of this i aportant item, therefore, North Carolina stands second on the list-the annual crop of Tennessee, which is the largest producer, being upwards of forty-two millions of bushels.

EDITORIAL CORRESPONDENCE. LIFE IN NEW YORK. New York, June 29th, 1841.

Dear B .- The calm, quiet, rural delights of a country residence, may be all well enough in their way, but there is a wild excitement about a city life which to me possesses a peculiar fascination. Here am I amid all the whirl and bustle, luxury and squalid poverty, crime and misery, piety and fanaticism, drunkenness and tectotalism, honesty and rascality, purity and licentiousness, for which the great emporium of the Union, the Babylon of America, is so remarkable. It is a second Sodom, full of abomination and wickedness; and the hearts of the in-

As New York is the fountain head for news, the tate of the political market may not be uninteresting. I give you the reports as I hear them, remarking en pussant that they are derived from the most reliable

It is confidently asserted that Mr. Clay's Bank Bill will pass both houses of Congress; and furthermore that it will be vetoed by the President. That John Tyler will be a candidate for the Presidency in 1844, and in order to ensure success a coalition is to be effected between the moderate Whigs and moderate Locofocos-the conservatives to be admitted upon certain conditions. That four persons will run for the presidential chair in 1844, viz: John Tyler, Martin Van Buren, Henry Clay, and Daniel Webster. That the Senate will refuse to confirm many of the nominations of the President, and among othera. Bela Badger of Philadelphia. That there will be more somersets taken during the extra session, by members of Congress, than were ever seen at a Circus on a single night, &c., &c., &c. What faith is to be placed in these rumors I leave thers to decide. One thing is certain that John Quincy Adams, Henry A. Wise, and persons of that lk, have done much to sow dissension in the democratic whig ranks. They should be denounced by all honest and honorable men-by all who have the true interests of their country at heart. Of John Tyler, the reflecting and right minded portion of the community expect much. His honesty and integrity of purpose hitherto has never been questioned, and I am greatly mistaken in the man if he is to be intimidated by the threats and denunciations of either ultra whige or ultra Locolocos.

I have been paying a visit to my quodam friends of the press-got all sorts of a reception after my long absence. Quite a revolution has taken place in the penny press. The redoubtable N. Y. Sun has lost nearly one half of its subscribers, while the march of the Herald has been onward. The "respectable six pennies" shake in the wind, and I fear the days of some of them are numbered. I have ta ken the trouble to ascertain the circulation of the prominent papers of this city, and the following is

Have you ever seen Fanny Elssler ! No! Then you have never seen one of the most lovely and hewitching faries that ever dauced by moonlight-Fanny, by the way, dances by gas light. Which struggled through & chasten'd down the whole I saw Fanny the other evening as the Sylphice; it is her best character, and in which her charms as a woman and her extraordinary powers as an artist are seen to most advantage. Ex-President Van Buren was present, and seemed highly pleased with the divine's" gyrations. Matty looks extremely well, and but for that perpetual smirk on his countenance might pass for a most finished gentleman.

Here both sexes, of all ages, colors, and nations meet, and jostle one another with the most democratic non-chalance. The prospect from the Bat. tery is glorious and beyond comparison. There is the noble Bay of New York before you, studded with little islands, and its broad and placid bosom covered with every description of sailing craft, from the tiny pleasure boat to the stately line of battle ship. On the east can be seen the shores of Long Island, lined with the villas and country seats of some of the lordly gothamites, while to the west you see New Jersey, Staten Island, and the highlands of Neversink looming large in the distance.

I have paid a visit to several of the Coal yards of this city, and I need not tell you that the stock of Schuylkill Coal on hand is very light. The dealers expect, and the consumers anticipate a considerable advance in the prices of coal during the ensuing winter. Schuylkill Coal is now selling at from $ 6 to $ 7 per ton, according to quality. Much interest is felt here in the new mode of smelting Iron with Anthracite Coal-so much so, that if proper tepresentations were made, many men of capital in this city would be induced to enter into the business.

Although money is plenty in this city, and the vaults of the Banks filled with a greater amount of specie than was ever known before, still business of ment of the Marine Corps at Washington acted as Il kinds is extremely dull; and there is every reason o believe that no change for the better will take place until the policy of the administration is distinctly shadowed forth.

It is getting late, and I must soon think of burying myself in the sheets. Adieu.

DUTE ON COAL-A PAIR PROPOSITION .- Let Congress increase the duty on Foreign Coal fron. 6 to 12 cents per bushet, and if, at the expiration of five years from the time the increased duty takes effect, Coal from this region is not furnished in the Boston Market one dollar per ton cheaper than it now is, we pledge ourselves on behalf of the Coal dealers of Schuylkill county, that they will consent to have the duty removed entirely. If the duty is not ncreased, the price of coal will unquestionably advance in price. This doctrine will sound strange to those who have been clamorous for removing the duty on foreign coal for the purpose of decreasing the price-but it is nevertheless correct. hebitants, like the Egyptians of old, are hardened, The price of English Rail Road Iron under the for they will not listen to the words of truth and high Tariff of 1832, in the Philadelphia market was short price act. from $45 to $50 per ton. As the duty decreased under the Compromise act, the price advanced until it reached from $ 70 to $ 75 per ton in 1840. The Coal trade is effected in a similar mannér.

Brethern of the Press, pass the proposition round.

Coxcress .-- We have nothing from Washington of any importance. In the Senate the U.S. Bank Bill is under discussion, and is progressing slowly through committee of the whole. In the House the distribution of the proceeds of the sales of the public lands is also under discussion. The business proceeds slowly-and the probability is that Congress will not adjourn before September. It is rumored that President Tyler will not sign Mr. Clay's Bank Bill. We place very lutle confidence in the rumor. John Tyler will not thwart the wishes of the people when fairly indicated through their immediate representatives, by the exercise of the veto power.

A loco paper not a hundred miles from Pottsville, in speaking of the democratic whig party, makes the following appeal to his own:

"By your superior strength, you will be able to onquer the federal BANDITTI." According to Walker, the definition of Banditti is " company of outlawed robbers." Quite a compliment to our citizens, composing as they do, a comnunity which we believe to be as honest and upright, both morally and politically, as that of any other in the state. A man of doubtful reputation ought to be careful how he slanders his neighbors.

REMAINS OF GENERAL HARRISON. - The remoral of the remains of Gen, Harrison, from the Na tional burial ground at Washington, took place on Saturday. By a vote of Congress, a committee, consisting of five Senators and twenty six Representatives was appointed to unite with the Cincinnati Committee in this solemn duty, and to accompany the body, in its removal, to the boundary line of the District. In testimony of its feelings on the occasion, neither House of Congress sat on Saturday.

The body of President Harrison reached this city at three o'clock, P. M. on Saturday. It was accompanied by his son, John Scott Harrison, and by the Committee of the citizens of Cincinnati. A detachan escort, and will proceed with the body to its final resting place at North Bend-an appropriate mark of respect on the part of the National Executive. We learn that when the order was addressed to Col. Henderson of the Corps, to furnish the detachment and to designate an officer to command it, he replied that, being himself the senior officer, he conceived it to be most proper and respectful that he shouldact on the occasion, and accordingly assumed to himself the melancholy duty of heading the escort. Gen. Harrison's remains passed through Harris. burg on Monday last.

THE HILL COUNTRY OF JUDEA. - The following is an extract from "Wilde's Narrative," giving graphic description of the hill country of Judes, which will be read with deep interest: "The hill country is entered by a narrow pass, at place called Ladron, where are the remains of an old fort, and the Gothic arches of a large church .-The former was probably erected as a resting place, and also as a defence for the pilgrims, as this spot has ever been the haunt of the Arab Robbers. Sev. eral flocks of gazelles bounded across our path, and numerous herds of small black goats, with long silken Lair, and beautiful pendant ears, almost reaching to the ground, followed the steps of the goatherd as he led them along the different mountain passes The tingling of their little copper belle, when heard among those solitary hills through which our road ay, had a pleasing effect, and helped to beguile the edium of our way. We had reached the hill country of Judea, and a complete change came over the scene. The eye was not long refreshed with verdant sward, and the beauty of the plain which we had traversed after leaving Jopps; the hum of bees, the low of cattle, and even the music of the goat's bell were no longer heard. A solemn wildness reigns in those elevated regions, the hills which tise in amphitheatres, or rather in concentric circles, one shove another. The strata of gray lime stone protrudes its naked head at regular intervals, like so many seats in a stadium; There is no vestige of human beings, and the road becomes a mere horse track, with scarcely room for two to pass abreast; yet the dreariness and monotony of the view is occasionally relieved by valleys and ravines, clothed with low woods of dwarf oak, which were then putting forth its young leaves and long green catkins; and here, for the first time in our travels, we met the thorn becoming white with blossom, and reminding us of the lawns and hedge-rows of our own far distant homes.

A few fields of corn showed by their fertility caused by the moisture, which is more abundant on these elevated regions than on the plains, what could still be effected by cultivation on the limestone soil of Judes, and on the terraces between each band of rock, which act as so many retaining walls. Much was originally, and much could still be effected in the growth of the vine and the olive on the side of these hills. Those who exclaim against the unfertility and barrenness of this country, should recollect, that want of cultivation gives it much of the sterile and barren appearance which it now presents to the traveller. The plough in use in that country is one of the rudest instruments of the kind that I ever have seen. It resembles the ancient Egyptian plough, and it does little more than scratch the soil, making a furrow scarcely three inches in depth. About midway to Jerusalem, we passed through a deep narrow gorge, wouded to an extent that we could scarcely have imagined, from the rocky and barren desert in which it is situated. The ascent out of this place is fearfully precipitous, and has long been noticed in nodern history, as the hiding place, or fastness, o the lawless Bedawee.

Some time previous to our visit, a large band of Egyptian cavalry were completely destroyed in this ravine. The huge rocks, the close, wood on eithe side, and the overhanging crage, form a complete cover for the enemy, who might attack the largest body of men passing through it, while they would remain secure from harm, especially from horsemen. Thanks to the rule of Ibrahim Pacha, whatever be his faults, and I believe he has many, we passed this part of Palestine in perfect security, and without the slightest interruption. In the bottom of the ravine is a ruined khan, overhung by some splendid lotus trees; and by the wayside, were some enormous rocks, which, in several places, contained excavations, under which we rested for some time, enjoying their cool shade, thankful, in a country like this, for ose estimable blessings—a well of water and ti shadow of a great rock in a weary land-blessings that can only be known and appreciated by those who have panted on the thirsty mountain side, or toiled in the heat of the day, over the dreary waste of the Eastern desert.

Loco Foco CURBENCY .- The meanest paper currency in the Union, (says the Louisville Journal,) is issued in the State of Mississippi and Arkansas; and the Banks from which that currency comes, were chartered by Loco Foco Legislatures in those States, when that party had full sway. In addition to this it may be said with truth, that the ruinous expansions of the paper currency which have injured every State in the Union, received their great impulse and encouragement, from the Loco Focos with Andrew Jackson as a leader, who first made pets of the state banks, in order to crush the United States Bank, an Institution that certainly did regulate the currency and keep the public money safe, while it held its charter from the General Government. Yet these late bawling advocates of State Banks, are loudest in charging the Whigs with the evils which they themselves have brought upon the country.

Major. General Macomb, Commander-in-Chief died suddenly on Friday at Washington, from a fit of apoplexy. He was born in Michigan on the 3d April, 1782, and was consequently in the 60th year of his age.
