"I WILL TEACH YOU TO PIERCE THE BOWELS OF THE EARTH, AND BRING OUT FROM THE CAVERNS OF MOUNTAINS, METALS WHICH WILL GIVE STRENGTH TO OUR HANDS AND SELECT ALL NATURE TO OUR USE AND PLEASURE.—DR. JOHNSON.

Home at Last. A cherishing child and mother's heart. (The snow was deep and cold the blast) Hugging her aged mother tight. "Mother," exclaimed, "when shall I come at last?" And she spoke, poor little one, A word but she stood before.

"Mr. Pearson," said Mabel Gray, "you seem melancholy. Have I been unkind?" "To be truer loved, is too much to bear," said Pearson; "Miss Gray, I have taken myself beyond my powers. I imagined that I could force myself to dream that you loved me. But last night proved the deception. Not content with rejecting me, you actually laughed at my despair. Methought that—but I dare not trust myself to relate my dream. Suffice it to say, that my dream is sealed, and I have nothing now to hope for. To-morrow I start for the Continent."

Love and Friendship. BY WILLIAM LEIGHTON. The birds, when winter shades the sky, Fly to the sunny south; When winter shades the sky, Fly to the sunny south; When winter shades the sky, Fly to the sunny south.

Clippings. There is no more potent antidote to low sensuality than the adoration of beauty. All the higher acts of design are essentially chaotic without respect of the object. They purify the thoughts, and thereby, according to Aristotle, purify the passions. Their accidental effects are not worth consideration. There are souls to whom even a vestal is not holy.

The Country Girl. I love the country better, Who turns the bezzing wheel, Who plies with loom and shuttle, With merry hum the reel. I love the country better, Who makes the household gear, A wholesome food and beverage For country families.

The Coquette and the Farmer. Mabel Gray was most beautiful, but her beauty was of that sort which gives an advancing and a retreating. She was tall, slender, and perfectly proportioned. Her eyes were large, dark, and sparkling. Her hair was of a rich, wavy, chestnut color, and fell in luxuriant tresses on her shoulders.

"Mr. Pearson," said Mabel, "you seem melancholy. Have I been unkind?" "To be truer loved, is too much to bear," said Pearson; "Miss Gray, I have taken myself beyond my powers. I imagined that I could force myself to dream that you loved me. But last night proved the deception. Not content with rejecting me, you actually laughed at my despair. A Story of Olden Time. When Tullius ruled and Greece closed her doors, By a star of the State of New York, From December to April, all persons were prohibited from killing deer, under a penalty of ten dollars, half the fine going to the complainant, and in default of payment, ten lashes upon the naked back.

Advice to Unmarried Ladies. If you have blue eyes—laugh. If black eyes—weep. If you have a pretty foot—wear short petticoats. If you are the least doubtful as to that point—let them be rather long.

The Iron Manufacturer in New Jersey. The Manufacturers of Iron in New Jersey, who are interested in that business, than at Rockaway on Friday last. The day was fine, the air clear, and the sun shined brightly.
