A TEMPERANCE ANECDORE. The Washingtonians are driving a nuble business among the old soakers of this city. On Thursday evening the church in Poydras street was-literally crammed, and many a hard drinker we have no doubt. was taken out of the gutter. Among's great many pleasant anecdotes related by the speakers was one defining the unpleasant position of a Deacon who wanted to be temperate without signing the pledge. He had been importuned to that effect until he became so outraged that he arose, and before the Temperance society, delivered a speech in favor of moderate drinking. He was allowed to proceed, and at its termination he seized his hat and walked down the aisle with great dignity. There was present an old toper, who, at the moment, was about as full as he could well be, and being mightily vickled at the Descon's speech, he staggered from his scat and clopped the Descon on the shoulder exclaimed, "I sayhic-Deacon, them's my sentiments ! I'll stand by you-hic-old feller in them 'ere doctrines! So let's-hic-let's go out and liquor !- The Descon finding that his 4 moderate drinking doctrines placed him in such disgraceful followship, went back and signed the pledge !

A CHAPTER ON FLOWERS .- Flowers, of all created things, are the most innocent and simple, and most superbly complex-play things for childhood, ornaments for the grave, and the companion of the cold corpse in the coffin. Playters, beloved by the wandering idjot; and studied by the deep thinking man of science ! Flowers, that of all perishing things are the most perishing ; yet of all earthly things are the most heavenly is Flowers, that onceasingly expand to heaven their. grateful, and to man their cheerful looks-partners of human joy, soothers of human sorrow ; fit emblem's of the victor's triumphs; of the young bride's blushes-welcome to crowded halls, and graceful upon solitary graves ! Flowers are, inthe volume of nature, what the expression, .. God is love," is in the volume of revelation. What a dreamy desolate place would be a face without a smile-a feast without a welcome! Aro not flowers the stars of the earth, and are not flowers the stars of heaven ? One cannot look closely at the structure of a fiother without loving it. They are emblems and manifestations of God's love to the creation, and they are the means and ininistrations of man's love to his fellow creatures, for they first awaken in his mind a sense of the benatiful and the good. The very inutility of flowers is their excellence and great beauty, for they lead us to thoughts of generosity and moral beauty, detuched from, and superior to, all solfishness, so that they are pretty lessons in nature's book of instruction, teaching man that he liveth not by bread, or from bread alone, but he hath not by preau, or another than an animal life. · ; -
