directly across the scull. Walter Lid upon his back quietly with his arms stretched out. After a long and tedious cross examination which only went to substantiate the above facts, this witness was discharged.

Christian Guzet; sworn .-- (In substance nearly the same as the former witness.) "Smith said to some of them det us go home' or you go home,' Gunder got up and walked towards Smith and they got hold of each other by the collar-pushed one another forward and back-and Smith fell down-as he fell Gunder pretended to strike-Hertzog went between them and tried to keep or of New York, Mr. Morris, refused to administhem apart-Mrs. Barlow said "let them go out," or, "if they want to fight, put them out" Kept the Common Council who was elected in the sixth hold of each other, and I think Peter Beck had ward and whose election was contested. The shut the door and came around the other Judges, both of the Supreme Court and Court of door, I think. Just as these men laid there, Errors are Van! Buren men. Much excitement Walter stood at the side of the door with me-I stood partly in the door-we were looking at them. Walter looked down between them and he saw that Gunder had a knife-" hold on " said he,

(Walter) o Gunder has a knife to strike with, he shan't strike with the knife. " He reached down lies.

to take the knife from him-Guilder wouldn't let go, and Walter reached one arm around his body and took hold of his wrist to take the knife from him, but I dont think he was strong enough. When he saw he couldn't get the knife he hullowed to me to take it and held Gunder's hand back ticut, is in communication with the leaders of his towards me. I pulled the knife from him and threw it away. Just as I was reaching for the knife I waw Peter Beck coming from the left with a large club in his hands-had hold of it with both hands-held it up. Beck struck just as I was that time-he raised the club again and I thought he was going to strike me-I bent myself in the door and the stroke went between Walter and me. When I saw Beck coming I told Walter to step back that Beck was agoing to strike with a club -don't think Walter saw Bock, (witness then got attempts. out of the way) "as I looked back I saw Beck following Walter. He struck him three blows, one across his back, and one across his shoulder. or rather towards the neck. At the 2d blow-Walter fell down on his seat, and Beck turned rather around so that he could have a fuir blow and struck him on the head. Michael then fell back and laid out stretched and then Beck didn't strike him any more as I saw." This witness also underwent a long and tedi ous cross examination which only went in substance to confirm the ab we evidence. Drs. Carpentor and Halberstadt were then examined upon the result of the post mortem examinations as also a number of other witnesses. The investigahtion of this prosecution occupied-the Court from Monday last until Thursday last at noon. Afte hearing the arguments of the Counsel, and the Law being laid down clearly and learnedly by his Honor Judge Blythe, the Jury retired to their room and returned at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon, finding the prisoner GUILTY of manalaughter.

> EXPLOSION OF THE STEAMBOAT DOUGLAS. -It grieves us to record another horrible Steamboat disaster which has resulted in the death and injury of a great number of persons. On the return of the Douglass from New Orleans and aboat one handred and twenty miles below the mouth of the Ohio, the steam-pipe which connects the boilers with the cylinder exploded, killing and wounding a number of the passengers. All the occupants of the ladies cabin with the exception of a little girl were either killed or dangerously scalded. The Steward, who was lying on the floor was blown into the ladies cabin and died instantly.

VIEW OF POTTSVILLE .- The proof engraving of Mr. Benade's view of our borough, has been handed to us for our inspection. It is a faithful well executed picture, and is, in every way creditable, both to the Lithographer and Artist himself. We will receive the finished plates in the course of a week. In the mean time, those who desire it can have an opportunity of seeing the print by calling at our office. LOOKOUT .- We understand that several ladies-and frolic. A few days since a party tripped by our office in all the joyfulness of anticipation for the purpose of taking a sea voyage on the Schuylkill. We almost envied them the pleasure they expected; and are certain, that we wished them more extensive scope for their enjoyment than nature has allotted to this portion of the universe. Editors are moralists; and moralists turn every slight occurience so completely inside out, that they see a great deal which to others would appear hidden. There is much, then, in the extement, variety, and change, of a boat party

RIOT IN NEW OBLEANS. - The New Orleans papers contain the particulars of quite a disgraceful riot in that city on the 21st inst., occasioned by the sudden depreciation of municipality notes. During the confusion several brokers offices were ntered forcibly and robbed of large amounts both in silver and gold. The police and military turned out and soon succeeded in quelling the disturbance and arresting some of the ringleaders. Acording to the latest accounts every thing remained quiet.

IMPROPER.-It is reported that an expedition s now fitting out in Mobile and New Orleans with the avowed and open purpose of attacking and relucing the Mexican port, Matamoras. If this is true we conceive it to be a very unjust and improper procedure; as, according to the last advices from Mexico our Minister has been received kindly and courteously and the most friendly re- instant. lations are at present existing (diplomatically) between the two governments.
