different to the first of our country. A country awake, that of the few drops that glitter on your garments, and once more march in Battle and Victory.

The President was to give the power of the power of the Federal Constitution. And I have as much pleasure in expressing my opinion that he has called for a great and noble support...

The leading organs of the Democratic party at Washington, Albany, New York, and Richmond, are all united in support of the President...

It is not arrogant to myself, but to the people, to say that I do not intend to attempt a general election in 1860...

The first I would notice is the manner in which Territories have been lately admitted as States into the Union.

In last Saturday's Journal we noticed the turn out among a portion of the working men of this town...

The matter was effected so easily, that our citizens had no time to prevent it or to meet them.

On Saturday evening, information having been sent to the Sheriff, that the citizens of Mineville were alarmed for their safety on account of divers threats and demonstrations...

On Monday the Sheriff ordered in two companies, the Overburg and Schuykill Haven Companies, and held them in readiness to act with our own military...

On the same morning our Chief Burgess published a Proclamation, defining the limits of the law, explaining the acts which constitute a riot, and appointing Police Officers from among our citizens.

A Card Press has been added to the establishment, which will enable us to execute cards of almost every description, at a very low rate.

Let every citizen bear in mind, that it is not only his duty, but his duty, to purchase every thing that he can buy from the people of his own country...

General Joe and these Specs. The well known man of the region and also the leader of the present 'turn out' in this region...

Mr. Hudson's remarks were of an entirely different character. He entered upon the subject chiefly to show the advantage which the agricultural states derive from the manufacturing...

Mr. Hudson stated another important fact, namely, that the goods imported into the port of New York for the last year 74 per cent, or nearly 4 had been imported by foreigners...

That one single manufacturing State should afford a market for the produce of the farmer equal to one half of the amount exported to all other countries, is a startling fact...

One of the most extraordinary speeches delivered yesterday, was that of Mr. Richard Davis of N. Y., who came out for free trade, hard money, and the largest liberty...
