This brings up the great tariff question itself, which so deeply concerns the prosperity of all the States, and of none more than the State you represent. Pennsylvania is essentially agricultural; and of all interests the farming interest is the most deeply concerned in the result of the tariff gues tion; for it may be safely affirmed that more than one-half of the value of all the goods imported from abroad consist of the agricultural productions of foreign countries, worked up into cloth, iron, hats, shoes, and every species of merchandise. &c. sent here for sale, and our specie, by millions, exported to pay for them, while our farmers are left without a market, without money, and without a motive to industry. For example. Take a vard of foreign cloth, worth six dollars; and half the value ($3) is wool, the product of sheep sustained by grass and grain of foreign countries; one-fourth of its value ($1,50) consists of bread and meat, and other agricultural supplies consumed by the hands employed in its manufacture. Thus three-fourths of the whole price ($4,50) is sent in specie to pay for English and French wool and other agricultural produce, worked up into a yard of cloth, and sent here for sale. The same result will attend the analysis of iron and a thousand other articles. Is it not ruinous to our agriculture (on which every other intirest depends) to pursue such a policy? And can it be sustained by the votes of American Senators, and especially those representing the great farming interests of the country.

But I will not now trouble you further on the tariff question but may hereafter add something in another letter. Yours, respectfully, FAYETTE.

THE END OF THE WORKD .- A Boston corre pondent of the New York Standard says; There is considerable excitement in Boston o the subject of the destruction of the world in 1843, as predicted by Miller, who, though strange to say, has many believers. The ladies are the principal sufferers on this subject, and their apprehensions of the end of all things being greatly aroused, as their faith is strong in the truth of the prophecy, they betake themselves to their ministers and to their ministers' wives, to inquire, with much seriousness and sincerity, whether in their opinion the prophecy is of certain fulfilment, and if so, what it is best to do in the premises. Poor things, they need comforting truly if they believe Mr. Miller's predictions. Some of the clergy however, have taken ground directly against the interpretation of scripture as put forth by Mr. Miller, as contrary to the whole tenor and truth of divine revelation. They contend that the prediction of Miller invalidates the other portions of prophecy, and cotradicts the express declarations of the Saviour himself, on this subject, as given in the 24th chapter of Matthew, and 36th verse, in which he says, "But of that day and hour, know-

Transfer Whintwing.- A letter in the Rhone gives the following particulars of a whirlyind at Chauffailes and its neighborhood on the 24th ult. Thirty houses were actually carried away. Six persons of the same family were killed, others were mutilated, children were smothered in their cradles, carriages were carried entire over the roofs of houses, plantations were torn up, and the largest trees were transported to an immense distance. A manufactory for spinning thread had just been constructed within half a league of Chauffailes. All the mason-work was finished, and the carpenters were putting on the roof, Not one stone of the building has been left on another, nor can it be discovered what has become of them. COUGHS AND COLDS.—Our bodies are continually decomposing and reorganizing their constituent par ticles: the decomposed particles are carried off by the ticles: the decomposed particles are carried off by the blood and discharged through the skin and bowels. That which passes through the skin is termed perspiration or sweat. A stoppage of this perspiration is called Catching Cold, in which case the decomposed particles that should leave the body through the skin are retained in the blood or thrown back upon the stomach and bowels, causing headach, flying pains, coughs. &c. Sach being the cause and effect of colds, it must be apparent to every one, that at such a time large evacuation by the bowels are necessary, in order to relieve the alimentary canal of the accumulation of humors, as well as stimulate the blood to open again the porce of the skin.

Brandreth's Vegetable Universal Pills being an effectual Assistant of Nature, will be singularly effective in accomplishing this desirable purpose; because they purge from the stomach and bowels those humbrs which are the cause of disease; cleanse the blood from all impurities, remove every cause of pain or weakness, and restore the constitution to perfect health and wight.
