Sorrenoful Death of Peter Gray and Lizianny Querl. My song is of a nice young man, we name was Peter Gray.

The F at where Peter Gray was born Was rennsylvani-a. This Peter Gray did fall in love With such a nice young girl;

The name of her I'm positive, Was Liziumny Querl. When they were ghing to be wed,

Her father he said "no." And brutally did send her off Beyond the Unio. When Peter found his love was lost, He knew not what to sav;

He'd half a mind to jump into The Susquehantea. A trading he went to the West, or turn and other skins: And there he was in crimson drest By bluody In-ji-ins.

When Lizianny heard the news, She straightway took to bed, And never did get off of it Until she di-j- d Ye fathers all a warning take-Each one as has a girl-And think upon poor Peter Gray And Lizianny Querl.

Here is a conceit:-

DEATH AND RESURRECTION In trance of love I awooned away: I buried lav. With a kiss: Her eyes revealed A heaven of bliss.

THE BEST MANNER OF SUPPORTING NEWS-PAPERS - The following remarks of a contemporary, on the best manner of supporting a newspaper, are true to the letter. We commend them to the consideration of the public:

"Mych-depends upon the supporters of a newspaper whether it is conducted with spirit and inreferest-if they are negligent in their payment, the pride and ambition of the editor are broken down, he works at a thankless and unprofitable task, he becomes discouraged and careless, his paper looses its pith and interest and dies. But on the contrary, if his subscribers are of the right sort, if they are punctual, liberal hearted fellows, always in advance on the subscription list, taking an interest in increasing the number of his subscribers; now and then speaking a good world for his paper; cheering him on his course by smiles of approbation; with such subscribers as these, I would forswear comfort, ease, leisure,everything that could possibly step between me and the gratification of every laudible desire on their part; I would know no other pleasure but their satisfaction. How much then can the supporters of a newspaper do, to make it interesting and respectable-indeed without concurring efforts on their part, the publisher of a paper will not, cannot bestow the attention which is neces sary to make it what it should be."

SERVED HIM RIGHT .- At the meeting of the Washingtonians on Wednesd by night last, among other individuals that were requested to sign the pledge, was a young man with a lady hanging on each arm. The ladies said they would sign it he would; but he declining to do so at that time, the declining the declining to do so at that time, the declining was urgedino longer. It was not long, however, after the gentleman who was coilecting signatures to the pledge, was waited upon, and told that the wind to the pledge, was waited upon, and told that the longer the signature of the pledge with a fact that the control of the pledge with a fact that the longer wi young/man had finally agreed to sign. The gentleman with the pledge weited upon him immediman will declined, offering, among other excuses, that his " hand trembled too much!" The ludies finding that no argument of theirs would induce him to sign, and that he no doubt-loved a " wee drup of the crathor," determined at once to cut his arquaintance; and so, letting go of his arm. bid him "good bye," and tripped off home by themselves. "Solitary and alone" he braved for a few minutes the taunts and jeers of the little urchins who had witnessed the whole transaction; but at length mortified and chagrined at the conduct of the young ladies, and the Loud hurras of approbation which ever and anon assailed his ears at their conduct, he also thought it time for him to be at home. As off he started, the boys whistled the tune of the "Rogue's March," and Timothy Titterwell, in his Rime of the Aucient Pediar Manne" would say, "showed them a specimenne of devslishe talle walkings."- Pittsburg

A PEWALE ANTIQUARIAN. - A VOUNG ISdv niece of Dr. Vanhovenburgh, of New York, of a tomantic turn of mind, was the other day on a visit to the Falls of Passaic, at Patterson, N. J. She insisted, despite the remonstrances of her friends, on descending what is called the Chimney, a singular and picturesque volcanic formation Whilst a arching "the nooks and crannies" of this subterranean place, a shrill cry announced that something remarkable had excited her attention. The most courageous of the party cautiously harried down and found her standing tip-toe endeavoring to decipher the autographs sculpturred on a large perpendicular rock, rubbing off the moss which had grown over the names engraved on it, they were delighted with seeing the name of "the Pather of his country," and several of his companions in arms, neatly cut in the old English letter of that date, curved in the Chronicle.

AMECHOTE OF MR. CLAY.-Mr. Clay was in London when the battle of Waterloo was fought, and witnessed the illuminations, bonfires and rejoicings to which it gave rise. For a day or two after intelligence of the event reached London, there was that uncertainty as to what had become of Napoleon. During this interval. Mr. Clay dined with Lord Castlereagh. The British ministers and the American commissioners were present. Among the topics of conversation, was that of whither Napoleon had gone. Some sup posed he had sailed for America. 4If he goes there," said Lord Liverpool, will be not give you, Mr. Clay, much trouble ?" "None, whatever, promptly replied Mr. Clay; "we will be glad to receive such a distinguished though unfortunate exile, and we shall soon make a good Democrat of him."

AMEEDILUVIAN REMAINS .- The New Bedford Register has received a letter from Clayton Co., Iowa, one passage of which is as follows: "A few days since, some miners in sinking a shaft for lead ore, about six miles from Dubuque city, found a skeleton of one of those animals whose race has long since become extinct. The bones are in a tolerable state of preservation, and from appearances belonged to a graminiverous animal, twice the size of an elephant. One of the molar teeth which I saw weighed four pounds seven ounces, and was entire, and the ename perfect. The skeleton was imbedded in limestone, at a depth of from fifteen to twenty-six feet from the surface."

Good Stupton.-The Secretary of the Navy has issued orders to reduce the spirit rations onehalf to seamen, and supply the balance with tea SCHOOL BOOKS, Wholesale and retail a and coffee. An excellent arrangement.

EXTRAORDINARY CASE. Quenec, May 8, 1837. DEAR SIR:—An article called Dr. Hewes "Nerve and Bone Limment," came to my knowledge about two months since, through our friend Mr. Campbell, and I procured a bottle and had used it for about tleman with the pledge whited upon him immediately—the ladies prompily signed, but the young once again to be restored to the world ran through once again to be restored to the world ran through my framelike an electric shock. My family surrounded me in tears of joy, and the excitement so completely overcome me that I fainted. The same day I walked three time across the floor, again bearing a little weight at each time on my feet. I then used crutches for a few days, when my strength had become so far re-established, that I could cross the their without the test sid. We advancement from this without the least aid. My advancement from floo time has been almost incredible. I can walk two hundred yards and back with ease, and my children, (the bed-rid are often blessed; like me, with aren, (the occi-rid are often diessed, like me, with near a dozen,) have been so overjoyed that 'heycould scarcely cat or sleep, and Mrs. Corning seems to feel half a score of years younger herself. You will recollect how much bent together I was when you were last here. I have entirely overcome this. If I looked as odd as I felt when I began to walk, I would have been gazed at in astonishment. I have seen many of my old accountances some of whom dd not ny of my old acquaintances, some of whom did not know me at all, and o hers would scarcely credit their senses, and would hardly have been more astonished, though one had "risen from the dead." I have now every confidence that I am a well man. I think this article is the most extraordinary of any I ever heard of, and if it is not extensively made known to the public, I think the proprietors are very culpable. If you know the persons in New York selling it, you had better show them this letter, and let them refer to you,

From the Courier and Enquirer.

It would be preposterous in a writer for the read ers of such a Journal as the Courier, to address their prejudices, passions or superstitions. Good common scuse should at least be possessed by the readers of this paper, and those possessed of such and those only, do we care to attract. We will now assert, in the most possibilited terms that all innocest remets has most unqualified terms, that an innocent remedy has been found, that will absolutely cure Rheumatism, and stiffness of joints, if of twenty years' standing. The assertion is so broad, that it will hardly cottain credence, we are aware, unless supported by uncommon testimony. Now the testimony given to so many worthless quackeries is so abundant, that to dis criminate between such, and real matter of fact tes-timony, is very difficult. To come at a point that can at once be appreciated, the proprietors have resolved to give this remedy to the poor, and to cure resolved to give this remedy to the poor, and to cure those able to pay for it, before they ask pay, and then leave it to the sufferer to pay what he chooses. We entreat, therefore, sufferers to call at 71 Maiden Lane, for some drops (Indian Elixir) to be taken, and a Nerve and Bone Liniment to use outwardly; and if they will not, by one week's use, become more surprised and delighted than they ever expected, we will have a surprised and delighted than they ever expected, we will have a surprised and delighted than they ever expected. ever again make such an assertion. Will invalids never again make such an assertion. Will invalus now suffer for the want of this mild, innocent, and all potent remedy! If they refuse it, we pity them indeed.—[N. Y. MERRICK'S VERMIFUGE. THE hest medical writers of the present age, agree in the opinion, that worms are the cause of many serious and many fatal diseases in children. Their presence may be suspected where the patient has a dry cough, a pale countenance, feetid breath, tumid lip, livid circle around the eyes, disturbed sleep, variable appetite, alternate Duarhæa, Costiveness, enlouged stomach, &c.

These symptoms unless relieved, frequently produce epilepsy, apoplexy, maniac, dropsy of the brain, inflammation of the area value, biccus, day cough inflammation of the eyes, palsy, hiccup, dry cough, consumption, croup, dysentary, couvulsions, fevers, &c., which terminate in death.

From the above, parents and others having the care of children. of children, will see the propriety of being in posses-sion of a suttible remedy, against the deleterious effects of these enumies to the health and happiness of chilren. Merrick's Vermifuge has proved a pertain, safe dren. Merrick's Vermifuge has proved a certain, safe and pleasant care, as will be shown by numerous certificates shortly to be published, and is regarded by those that have tried it, as superior to all others in use. It is so pleasent that it may be given to the most delicate child, without inconvenience.

Also, the Pocahantas or Indian Pills, for the cure of all bilious discases: this pill has proved to be decidedly the best purging pill ever offered to the public. If has permanently cured the most obstinate cases of dyspepsia, sick headacho, jaundice, costiveness, bilious cholic, &c., and will prove servicable in all cases while the pulse is full and hard, the skin dry and hot,
