TERTOTAL WEDDING .- There was a wedding in the Hell of the Washingtonians, in Court street, last evening. The spacious hall was crowded almost to suffocation, at an early hour, with lady and gentlemen tetotallers, who assembled to witness the ceremonies. After the arrival of the Rev. Mr. Neale and the " happy couple," a tetotal song was sung by Mr. Plympton. The Rev. Mr. Neste then, after a few appropriate remarks, performed the silemn ceremony and offered a prayer, after which the bridegroom made a short speech, in which he expressed a hope that he might keep the pledge of conjugal love as faithful as he had that of total abstinence from all intoxicating drinks. The President of the Society then presented to the bride and bridegroom a glass of pure cold water, desiring that they would both partake of it, as, henceforth, they were to drink of the cup 5 to 10 cents per ton less than from Pottsville and of joy and sorrow together. Sentiments were then offered and drank in bumpers of cold watersongs were sung-and the happy pair, accompanied by a few friends, retired amid the cheers of ing on Thursday evening last, the audiance .- Boston Transcript.

Perhaps one of the most singular features in the present singular aspect of Commercial affairs, is that at New Orleans, the last accounts quote Exchange on London at par to one half per cent premium, or Nine per cent under actual par, and scarcely a buyer to be found at that. The currency therefore in New Orleans, in which Bille of Exchange are paid for, is actually better by nine per cent, than the English legal tender of gold. In what a strange predicament has legislation placed the Commercial community. Where too are the English and French agents? Are they at last driven out of the Consignment market that they do not avail themselves of an opportunity like this? Such a state of things absolutely puzzles us. It sets a defiance all ordinary mercantile calculations .- N. Y. Courier.

EAST INDIA HAIR DYE. "INIS dye is in form of a powder which in plain matter of fact may be applied to the hair over night, the first night turning the lightest red or grey hair to a dark brown, and by repeating a second or third night to a bright jet black. Any person may, therefore, with the least possible trouble, krep his hair any dark shade or a perfect black; with a positive assurance that 'he powder it applied to the skin, will not color. There is no trouble, in removing it from the hair, as in all powders before made. By an occasional application, a person turning grey will never be known to have a grey hair.
