O man! while in thy younger days, Thou dost not care a darn; You reckless run in mischeil's ways, And will not wisdom lorn. Your daddy's and your ma's advice With up-turned nose you scorn; And then, in after years you find That 'man was made to mourn.'

Look not alone on active youth, Or manhood's rivened stage: Man is but miserable at best. No matter what's h's age; But see him in his boyhood's bloom Fore breakfast take a horn-And he will find ere many days

That man was made to mourn A few are fed with luxuries Served up on pleasure's platter; But think not that dame Fortune does 'Midst all her comforts scatter; For Oh! we find in every land Lonfers, with trowsers torn, And thread bare coats-which plainly shows

That man was made to mourn Oh! pointed are the thorns of ill That piece the breast, we find! And yet we make them sharper still, By fighting with our kind. Then loafers fight, and pull the hair That does the head adorn, 'Man's inhomanity to man

Makes countless thousands mourn. Sec, vonder poor, besotted wight, With nose so flaming red, "Contrives to get himself'a glass, But cannot get him bread: And see him, as he reels along, All friendly warning spurn, Unmindful though a veeping vife, And lots of babies mourn!

O Sleep! the poor man's faithful triend, The dearest and the best! He has no pence, except that when With thee he is at rest; And I'm but little better off. With on each toe a corn. And rheumatism in my boots,

Which makes me sadly mourn.

ANECHOTE.—The following was told by a native of Wales: An Englishman, riding one dark night among the mountains, heard a cry of distress, proceeding apparently from a man who had fallen into a ravine near the highway, and, on listening more attentively, heard the words, . EXTRAORDINARY CASE. Quesec, May 8, 1837.

PEAR SIR:—In article called Dr. Hewes "Nerve and Bone Liniment," came to my knowledge a-bout two months since, through our friend Mr. Camp-bell, and I procured a bottle and had used it for about a week without any material change, until one morning I found myself under the exercise of very uncommon feelings, imagining that could I be helped up I could stand and walk, I requested my family io aid me, but they were unwilling I should trust myself on my 'eet, not having for the last fourteen and a half years ever even made the attempt to stand; but my confidence was no great that they consented to assist confidence was so great that they consented to assist me from my bed. I found I could use my legs with apparent case, but could not bear my weight on my feet. With support, however, I could rface one foot before the other with a facility that astonished me and all around me. They led me twice across the room; I sat down with feelings of happiness that I never before experienced; the idea was that I was once again to be restored to the world ran through my framelike an electric shock. My family surroun walked three time across the floor, again bearing a little weight at each time on my feet. I then used crutches for a few days, when my strength had become so far re-established, that I could cross the this without the least aid. My advancement from floortime has been almost incredible. I can walk two hundred yards and beck with ease, and my children, (the bed-rid are often blessed, like me, with dren, (the bed-rid are o'ten blessed, like me, with near a'dzen,) have been so overjoyed that they could scarcely eat or sleep, and Mrs. Corning seems to feel half a score of years younger herself. You will recollect how much bent together! was when you were last here. I have entirely overcome this. If I looked as odd as I felt when I began to walk, I would have been gazed at in astonishment. I have seen many of my old acquaintances, some of whom did not know me as all, and o hers would scarcely credit their tarses and would hardly have been mare astonished. senses and would hardly have been more astonished. though one had "risen from the dead." tested, to be sought after and generally used.
