PROSPECTUS OF THE SELECT LIBRARY

OF RELIGIOUS LITERATURE. ONE of the distinguishing features of the day is the multiplication of cheap books. Publications of this kind have been hitherto confined, with a few exceptions, to works entirely nugatory in point of good morals or positively in-urious to them. The subscriber proposes the publication of a Monthly Library, in which he will offer to the notice of the community a series of works of another character; thich, from the bigh price at which they are held, are almost scaled books, except to the wealthy.

The first of the series will be D'Aubigne's

History of the Great Reformation in Germany and Switzerland. At this time, when the efficie of the Roman Cotholic clergy to extend their religion, and as many believe civil sway over our country, are so untiring, the general diffusion of this work cannot but be advantageous to the cause of civil and religious freedom. The Kistoriac has discharged his task with singular fidelity and ability. The ever-varying scenes of that evenful period pass before the eye in the most vivid manner, producing effects as far surpassing in interest as in truth the highest efforts of dranatic skill. The character of Luther and the the other leading Reformers, as well as those of the champions of the church of Rome, are depicated with a force that imparts to them the reality and beauty of the most masterly faultings.—
They live, move, and have a being, thought centuries have clapsed since they played their part in the most eventful drama of modern kgas; This work has the commendation of the Protestant clurgy of both our own country and Ed: rope, and has passed through several editions even in its present costly form. It will be published in five monthly numbers, each containing 260 pages of the American leak copy, and at one sixth the price of the present edition. The first number will be issued about the middle of January. The present work will be followed by where of a similar character?

Price per number 15 cents; or, $1 80 a year for the Library.
