We confidently expect the co-operation of our friends in this our new arrangement. It is the daty of citizens to support a home paper, before giving their patronege to journals abroad, provided it is worthy of that support. The columns of the Miners' Journal have always been devoted to the interests of the Schuylkill County Coal Region; and we think we can safely assert that it is the only English paper in the district which has followed such a course. We have spared neither a third time, and the ladies finally brought it expense nor trouble in procuring all the necessary forth a fourth time, still swelled and rolled the expense nor trouble in procuring all the necessary data to make our paper valuable to the citizens of this region; and our subscribers abroad. The whole establishment belongs to ourselves, and is nal lines: not controlled by any party or clique either at home or abroad merely for political purposes. It will therefore pursue a fearless and independent course always advocating those principles which we feel to be just, and conducive to the general interest Although we shall be firm in support of the principles we mention, yet we shall always endeavor to extend to our political opponents that coartesy which their conduct entitles them to; and in our -editorial exertions shall always strive to follow the more certain course of appealing to the understan-ding of our readers, rather than to their passions, or prejudices. With regard to the quantity of reading matter which our paper contains, we can only say that it contains nearly double the quantity of any other English paper in the county, and is consequently as cheap at four cents per copy, as others are at two.

Mr. John Francis, an artist whose profession al skill is well known, not only to our citizens, but throughout the whole State, has taken rooms at the dwelling of Mr. Gaius Moore, in Mahantango street, where he intends to remain for a fortnight in the exercise of his profession. Having called upon Mr. Francis at his studio a few days since, wo take pleasure in bearing witness to the exquisite style and finish of his portraits, which equal in faithfulness and beauty of delineation any productions of the kind we have ever seen. To be appreciated, they must be viewed, and Mr. F's known courtesy will ensure those who call upon him a delightful visit.

OUR PHILADELPHIA SUBSCRIBERS .- After this week the Miners' Journal will be delivered at the doors of the subscribers in Philadelphia on Saturday evening, from the office of Mr. E. W. Carr. No. 85. Chesnut street. Those subscriber who cannot be found by the carriers, will please give notice to Mr. Carr of their place of residence. Not having had an opportunity of experiencing Mr M's talents we can give no opinion in relation to them, but were we to judge from the recommen dations we have seen, we should say that he is a vocalist of an high order. THE LATE BAOW STORX--WEATHER, &C. -As far as we can learn from our various exchanges, the great storm of Friday, the 17th, was general throughout the country. The quantity of snow already accumulated upon the surface of the ground is immense-not so great however in the lower districts of this State, as in the upland counties. The drifting here, in consequence of the heavy gale which followed the storm, is unu. sually great; many of our turnpike roads are so completely blocked up as to be rendered impassa ble, and in some places all vestige of the track, as well as the fences which line it, have disappeared beneath the white covering. STATE ADMINISTRATION .---- We call the attention of our readers to the communication i another column, upon the inal administration of our State works. The communication comes from a Loco Fuco, and is entitled to considerable atten tion, as he is no doubt acquainted with the motives and objects of that party. . It will be perceived that it was written before the passage of the Reform Bill, yet many of the evils are still in existence and need remedying. The people should bestir themselves and use every effort in their pow er to procure that legislation which they need. If the Legislature should adjourn before passing a day night last, by a woman.
