DR REICHTER'S VEGETABLE PURGATIVE PILLS.

These pills, let all understand, cure disease by a power peculiar only to itself, which instantly cheeke the action and progress of disease, for their commencement is much alike (which is when the BLOOD AND JUICES) are so far deprayed, as to produce obstructions and sores) that one medicine, provided it be competent to produce schness, will be all that is necessary for removing disease, and restoring:

to mankind. Let it likewises be remembered, that there is no medicine now in existence possessing equal healing powers; and that no vegetable, or any other kind of physic can se soon restore health, when lost, even in cases the most inveterate.

The action of these pills upon the bowels, are mild; producing no griping pains or debility, but on the contrary, after they have operated, you feel that a load of irritating and corrupt humors have been taken from you, and the buoyant feelings of health spring up in their place; and what is another great object in these pills, they are always safe, they may be taken on all occasions, and under any circumstances, without regard to the name of the disease, for they operate upon every part of the body, and expel disease from whatever part it may be seated. Every person who possesses a box of these pills

And why, we may reasonably inquire, have they become so endeared in the hearts of those who have used them, and by them gained such a popularity Simply because their action upon the HUMAN BODY, was as the sun and rain upon vegetation, giving new life to all who partook of its happy influence. As the health of the plant depends upon the sap which circulates through its brauches, so the life and health of mankind depends upon the blood which flows through his veins. And when this vital fluid, which is most necessary to the growth and support of the body, by some unknown cause becomes loaded with morbid and CORRUPT HUMORS, so that instead of nourishing and strengthening the body, it labors to produce obstructions in the system, which engenders disease, have rectured to a medicine that is perfectly safe in every disease, and that will produce a favorable termination, if given early in the complaint, frequently in mew hours and most always

To Fever and Ague Patients!!

To Fever, and Ague Patients!!

DEFORE as well as since, the discovery of the great remedy for Fever and Ague ROWAND'S. TONIC MIXTURE (now called Rowand's "Inproven" Tonic Mixture, with the written signature of John R. Rowand, over the inouth of each bottle, to distinguish it from a lot of "adulterated Tonic Mixture," made during the author's absence and disconnexion with its manufacture and sale from the spring of 1839 to 1841) "pretended" tures for this troublesome complaint have always been springing up invarious parts of the country. BJ But mark! since the discovery and almost universal and exclusive use throughout the United States, Canada, Texas, Mexico, West Indica, South America, &c., &c., all new remedies "steal its good name"—counterfeit its taste, smell and appearance as closely as they can—imitate its manner of using—copy its directions—and by various other shifts and prevarications attempt to palm off upon the credulous and unwary, their paltry guess-work Tonic Mixtures and Palis in place of the old favourite, sterling and supremeiremedy. Nothing perhaps could more positively, prove the excellence of the true medicine than this one fact—for where it not the "first best" they would not select it cut, for of the true medicine than this one jact—for where it not the "first best" they would not select it cut, for receiving their "hypocritical respects," but would confer their "compliments" upon something else they deemed the "foremost cure." And what more convincing argument do fever and ague patients need to goard them jugginst one and all of these counterfeit guard them jagoinst one and all or these counteries and spurious imitations, and to render them careful to procure the genuine and undoubted remedy of the Proprietor himself, in Philadelphia, or of his accredited agents throughout the United States, &c.

[From the Saturday Courier.] The Wife. She clung to him with woman's love,

While on his head, with crushing force Earth's chilling tempest broke. And when the world looked cold on him. And blight hung on his name, the soothed his cares with woman's love And bade him rise again.

And clouded his young hours; Bhe wove amidst his crown of thorns A wreath of Love's own flowers. And never did that wreath decay, Or one bright floweret wither, For woman's tears e'er nourished them That they might bloom forever ..

When care had furrowed o'er his brow,

Tis ever thus with woman's love, True till life's storms have passed, And like the vine around the tree, It braves them to the last

[ From the Dublin University Magazine.] Che Last O'Rourke. Being a Passage from the Diary of the Monke Knockdermot.

"If any person should presume to assert
This story is not moral, first I pray
That they will not cry out before they are hurt." There has been of late years a passion for note: ious and extraordinary modes of crossing that bourne from whence no traveller returns,' and some very pleasant volumes, and instructive withal, have been written upon the fancies of those who choose to lay their heads upon railways, of jump from the Monument; but were matters in he same state still as I have witnessed them; ould recommend the lover of a romantic exit a node of compassing his end with equal prompti ude and certainly-and that were to attempt the xploit, from the consequences of which I wince saved two daring wights. Mr. Israel Morgan, of Lyon's Inn, solicitor, had it seems the felicity of unbering among his deblors Roderic O'llourke, of Castlecliff, Esquire: an honor which Mr. Morgan enjoyed in common with a large number of the denizens of the 'modern Babylon.'

Mr. O'Rourke had been one of the 'discree burgesses whom the borough of - had contri buted to the collective wisdom of Parliament, and in the first blush of his senatorial lichors, he managed to become recorded, to a considerable extent, If Sthat I Avould not give one bottle of Dr. Swayns's Compound Symp of Wild Cherry, for half a dozen of any other preparation. I have tried all the popular ones, but this stands unrivalled for the cure of the following diseases, viz:—Influenza, Coughs Colds, Consumption, Spitting of Blood, Palpitation of the Heart, Whooping Cough, Tickling or rising sensation in the throat, Bronchitis. Asthma, or weakness of the Nervous System, or impaired constitution from any cause, and to prevent persons from falling into a Device of the medical system. iti the ledgers of the wine-merchants, tailors, boot And that consummation came at length; but Mr O'Rourke had been a ministerial supporter; and had got warning in time to escape. Had he chosen Texas, or Timbuctoo, his victims might have hoped, but out of Connaught there was no redemption. Israel Morgan was the only one who had courage to thunder forth a writ. Term after term did Israel labor strenuously to introduce the said Roderic to the Barons of the Exchequer, and cor dially did monarch after monarch 'greet' the sheriff of Mayo, desiring him to assist the attorney in his laudable efforts, if Mr. O'Rourke were found in his bailiwick.' But whether it was that the high county functionary was weak in his vision, or that he was not personally acquainted with the lord of Castlecliff, it is nevertheless a fact that he has dined at the same table with that gentleman, and returned next day an assurance, in bad Latin, that he could not be found. For several months and rears did Mr. Isrde

Morgan receive the camb return to his formidable missives; and that which yet more estonished him was the fact that contemporantous with a . non est inventus, the Irish newspapers often informed him that the Ballycrasha stakes were won cleverly by Mr. Roderic O'Rourke's Thunderbolt, ridden by the owner, or, an affair of honor came off at Custlecliff a few days since; between Roderic O'Rourke, Esquire, and an English tourist ! the cause of the quarrel is supposed to be the English gentleman's having asserted that Castlecliff was built in the Saxon style of architecture, after Mr. O'Rourke's declaration that it was erected by one of his ancestors, who was monarch of Mayo, before the flood.' These contributions to Mr. O'Rourke's biography added little to Mr. Morgan's complacency; and finally the report of a skirmish between the 'poteen peolers' and the peasantry; headed by Mr. O'Rourke, having reached town on the same day as the usual reform, Mr. Morgan suadente diabolo, determined to accompany his bailiff into terra incognita, and see good service done upon the delinquent. Roderic was informed of his city friend's intention, but was utterly incredulous on the subject, deeming the feat beyond the mental span of any mortal attorney; and it was not unfiltrue advices had reached him by the report of Lanty Corrigan, his whipper in, that a pair of 'athrangers, with a gauger-look about thim, wor comin' up the borcheen (as the avenue of Castlecliff was entitled,) that he became convinced that Israel had been, as he expressed it, so far given over to the devil an' his own devices?

At the time at which the attorney arrived at his own destination, I had been returning from a visit of charity, and the October evening was setting in as I approached Castlecliff by a continuation of the borcheen, or bridle path, already mentioned. I had just ridden into the shadow of the old square tower, which alone remained of the castle built before the flood, when I heard angry voices in loud recrimination in front of the ruined court yard-wall:

The Dublinian gave a shrewd look at the whipper in, and happening at the same time to catch the eye of the foremost boy, who wielded a clahalpeen (Anglice spade) in a very menacing atti-

'Yes, boys,' repeated the bailiff, ye'd better keep off, for 'tis a very dangerous disease entirely he has. 'Thrue for ye, Misther Dolan,' replied Lanty, 'tis the most dangerous he could have in these parts, any how, both for himself an you. We'd
